IS TAM CREEK JOB LEGAL?

Work Ban Ended; Judge Thinks Procedure 'Void'

By BRUCE COLEMAN

The stop work order which has halted construction on Tamalpais Creek flood control work in Kent Woodlands for nine days was dissolved yesterday in Marin Superior Court.

Judge Samuel W. Gardiner dissolved the order and announced that no temporary injunction would be issued.

Judge Gardiner also raised the question of whether the Army Corps of Engineers project to concrete line Tamalpais Creek between Kent Avenue and Goodhill Road was legal, by saying he believes the procedures used have been "void."

By void, that is to say that if the engineers proceed with work on the creek, they do so "at their own peril" and are liable to law suits, later commented attorney Roger Kent, representing Kent Woodlands Properties, which secured the stop work order May 16.

Asst. County Counsel Richard V. Godino, representing the Marin County Flood Control District afterwards expressed satisfaction with the judge's refusal to continue the stop work order. He said that the extent of the county's liability if the county loses a pending condemnation suit, could only be for the value of the property affected.

Today no work was being done on the tiny creek. It contains four feet of water following the wrecking of two pumps last Thursday which flooded the stream and caused excavated banks to crumble.

Godino said he has been talking to the engineers and the contractor, Elmer J. Freethy Co., and hopes that work can soon commerce to put the creek back into the shape it was prior to the vandailsm.

"The job has to be finished before the rains start," he said.

Much of the discussion presented before about 40 persons in the court hearing at the San Rafael City Hall yesterday was about maps.

Godino produced several maps and references to maps to attempt to show that Tamalpais Creek was in the overall Corte Madera Creek Flood Control project from its beginning.

He did say that a map — dated Nov. 17, 1965, and approved by the Marin County Board of Supervisors when it approved the project at a Jan. 11,

Reagan Sees Riot Danger Over Park

Says He'd Meet People —If Peace Guaranteed

COMBINED AP & UPI

Gov. Ronald Reagan expressed willingness today to meet with students any time and at any campus for a discussion of grievances but voiced fear his appearance could trigger a riot.

The Republican governor made the offer in the wake of a march on the state Capitol yesterday by an estimated 7,000 orderly students from colleges and universities throughout California.

They demanded complete withdrawal of National Guard troops from Berkeley immediately and removal of a fence from around the "People's Park."

PEACEFUL RALLY

The students, some from as far away as Riverside and Los Angeles, rallied peacefully for Capitol's west steps, a shout from Reagan's office. He did not appear and was not invited to do so. In marching away, the crowd carefully picked up any litter along the way.

Police, aided by a helicopter hovering overhead, reported no incidents. Security at the gold-domed Capitol rivaled safety precautions invoked when President Johnson campaigned in Sacramento in 1964.

Reagan met later for an hour privately with a dozen leaders of the rally in his office.

TWO BOLT AWAY

He described the meeting as "courteous" except for the bolting from the session of Jim Hawley and Wendy Schlessinger of the Berkeley People's Park negotiating committee who voiced six demands and denounced him as a "murderer."

They referred to the death during the peak of violence of James Rector, 25, a nonstudent, wounded by a police shotgun.

Reagan told reporters he was frustrated by what he termed the inability "to get into a dialogue and communication with the majority of students, those who are really representative of the cross section of student thinking."

"If they can find a way, I would be happy to meet on any campus and with a group at any time," Reagan said. "But at the moment you and I know that I could precipitate a riot by simply showing up."

Meanwhile in Berkeley, 431 persons seized in a mass arrest last week appeared in court to face charges of unlawful assembly, blocking a street and creating a public nuisance. Municipal Judge Mario Barsotti took the cases in groups of 10 and set further hearings on them to begin June 4.

Asked about the rally by a newsman, Reagan replied:

"I think it is a shame. Because it isn't any way to solved anything. Just to have a rally and come all the way to Sacramento to talk to each other...they made it very plain they didn't want any information from us."

WATCH FROM BALCONY

Several state legislators, including Republican Assembly Speaker Robert T. Monagan, watched yesterday's rally from a balcony and west Capitol steps. None participated in the demonstration, which was highlighted by a speech by Dr. Linus Pavling, Nobel Prize winner and antiwar advocate.

Berkeley Mayor Wallace Johnson said today this may be the "most critical week in Berkeley's history" because of the "People's Park" dispute.

Campus militants are planning another march and rally for Friday on the university-owned vacant lot which Berkeley's "street people"—a group of students and nonstudents—appropriated and turned into a park.

Hopes improved today for another "People's Park" — this one on land owned by the Bay Area Rapid Transit District. Planting was started Sunday on land over a new subway and the district's general manager, B. R.

Bomber Waves Hit Reds

COMBINED AP & UPI

SAIGON — The U.S. Military Command sent nine waves of B52 bombers against Communist troop concentrations in three sections of South Vietnam during the night, it was announced today. The strikes followed a series of 30 mortar and rocket attacks on U.S. bases.

Military spokesmen also reported 5,000 Communist violations of the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) since the American bombing halt began last Nov. 1. They reported a major violation Sunday when Communist shellings blew up an ammunition dump, killing eight Marines and wounding 24.

The E52s were sent against Communist forces threatening Saigon and against troop concentrations in the Central Highlands and on the northern coast of South Vietnam. Allied forces in those areas killed 194 Communist troops in scattered fighting yesterday.

The waves of B52 bombers dropped more than 1,600 tons of bombs on enemy troops and camps near Dak To, south of Da Nang, and north of Saigon.

Two light U.S. observation helicopters were shot down and destroyed. One went down today 12 miles west-northwest of Saigon, and no one was hurt. The second helicopter was shot down yesterday about 40 miles north of Saigon, wounding two men.

Officers said he was found unconscious yesterday at his home with a swollen right eye and underwent the surgery at Valley Hospital last night.

BACK IN TEXAS

Spacemen Ready Crucial Report

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The Apollo 10 astronauts returned home today to a hero's welcome and to make the reports that will determine when man will go to the moon this year.

As a band piped them in with "Up, Up and Away" and "Deep in the Heart of Texas" the three men who returned from the moon just 24 hours earlier, leaped from the plane that brought them nonstop from Samoa.

The astronauts, Air Force Col. Thomas P. Stafford and Navy Cmdrs. Eugene Cernan and John Young, were wearing leis. Their first act, after embracing their wives and children, was to drape the necklaces around their loved ones' necks.

What the astronauts report will determine when the Apollo 11 astronauts leave on a moon-landing mission. The blastoff for that voyage is scheduled at Cape Kennedy July 16, but space agency officials said Apollo 10 raised a few questions that could delay it a month or two, because troubles cropped up with some of the equipment.

Still wearing one of the baseball caps the astronauts received when they boarded the carrier Princeton, Young told the crowd:

"That moon doesn't have any air and that moon's not Texas and we're sure glad to be here."

Stafford said "It's really great . . . it's fantastic to be back from the moon."

Cernan said, "I'm convinced now more than ever that there's no place we can't eventually go and there's nothing we can't eventually do."

There was little time for reunion with families. After lunch, the astronauts were to undergo extensive physical examinations.

The astronauts' flight from Pago Pago in the Pacific took exactly 12 hours. They landed at Ellington AFB, near the Manned Spacecraft Center.

In Moscow, Soviet newspapers and Russians in the street hailed America's Apollo 10 moon flight and praised the astronauts today for their bravery and sense of humor.

One smiling Muscovite summed it up: "Molodtsy (good boys)."

Pravda called the astronauts "three courageous people who wrote yet another bright page in the history of conquering the cosmos."

The cone-shaped command capsule carrying the Apollo 10 trio parachuted into the Pacific yesterday, climaxing eight days in space that one space agency official said had "given us the confidence to make the next bold step."

Dr. Thomas O. Paine, administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, said, "The real goal (of the space program) is to develop and demonstrate the capability for interplanetary travel."

Specialists were ready to start debriefings almost immediately. They want Stafford, Young and Cernan to recall in detail everything about the mission—the liftoff May 18, the 76-hour coast out to the moon, the two and one-half days in lunar orbit and the 54-hour return trip.

Emphasis will be on the critical eight hours when Stafford and Cernan left the command ship in their little moon lander, to rehearse the procedures set for July and look at the landing site.

Next Monday the Apollo 10 crew will meet with the Apollo 11 astronauts, civilian Neil A. Armstrong, Air Force Col. Edwin E. Aldrin and Air Force Lt. Col. Michael Collins. Armstrong and Aldrin are to land on the moon while Collins remains in moon orbit aboard the command ship.

AEC Explodes Nuclear Bomb

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—An underground nuclear explosion of low intermediate yield was set off today 1,690 feet under Yucca Flat at the Nevada test site.

The Atomic Energy Commission said its 10th announced test of the year, in a vertical shaft, had the force of from 20,000 to 200,000 tons of TNT. The strongest so far have had the power of 1 million tons of TNT.

The AEC said no radiation was released from the weapons-related test, which was at 7:15 a.m.

Brewery Is Indicted For Contribution

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Brewing Co. was indicted by a federal grand jury today on charges of unlawfully contributing campaign funds in connection with the 1964 senatorial campaign of former White House press secretary Pierre Salinger.

Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell said the indictment, returned in Baltimore, headquarters of the brewery, alleged the company violated a federal statute prohibiting corporate and labor union political campaign contributions in federal elections.

Specifically, it said National paid $5,000 to the Walter Leftwich Organization, a Beverly Hills Advertising Agency that represented Salinger in the 1964 California election.

Salinger, who was not mentioned in the indictment, defeated Alan Cranston, now U.S. senator from California, in the Democratic party primary that year. He lost to Republican George Murphy in the general election.

RFK Autopsy Charge Dropped

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The county has dismissed a complaint against Dr. Thomas T. Noguchi, fired recently as county coroner, that his autopsy of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy was incomplete.

The dismissal came yesterday after Martin Weekes, deputy county counsel interrupted defense testimony for a conference with three civil service commissioners hearing Noguchi's plea for reinstatement.

After 20 minutes of quiet conversation with the commisssioners and Noguchi's att0rney, Godfrey Isaac, Weekes announced the county had offered "no evidence" to support the complaint and further exploration of the matter would be "totally immaterial."

Record Turnout For Yorty-Bradley Runoff

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Voters turned out in record numbers today for the runoff election between Negro challenger Thomas Bradley and Mayor Sam Yorty, seeking a third term.

City Clerk Rex Layton said the turnout should exceed his prediction of a new high of 70-75 per cent. He based his forecast on a spot check of 75 precincts, which reported voting about 3.6 percentage points ahead of the turnout for the primary last April 1.

Assembly Rebuffs Try To Cut School Funds

COMBINED AP & UPI

SACRAMENTO — The Assembly rejected today an effort to take all $619 million in college and university spending from Gov. Ronald Reagan's $6.23 billion budget.

The lower house then moved toward a vote on the full budget, criticized by Democrats as too fat.

Defeated on a vote of 27 to 35 was an amendment by Assemblyman Ray E. Johnson, R-Chico, who said he wanted to withhold higher education funds until "we get some answers to this mess" on California campuses.

Johnson, father of a former helicopter pilot in Vietnam, said California taxpayers are demanding to know what's going on at the University of California and the State Colleges.

"I think it's a reasonable question and I don't have any answer," he said.

The amendment was opposed by Republican Chairman Frank Lanterman of the Ways and Means Committee and author of the budget who said it would mean the campuses would have to be closed.

Lanterman said it would require "closing the institutions, just as the SDS (Students for a Democratic Society) and the militants have been trying to do through their violence. The only way you can keep control is by your financial ties to the schools."

Johnson replied the current budget still has 30 to 40 days to go. In the meantime, he said, "I want to see if the regents and trustees have any respect for this Legislature."

Earlier, Assemblyman Robert W. Crown, D-Alameda, said Democrats would vote against the budget as it was approved by the Ways and Means Committee. Democrats demanded trimming of more than $86 million in some areas of the budget and called for more spending elsewhere.

Before debate started, Lanterman told a news conference the proposed cuts amounted to political monkey business.

The budget is basically the same as when submitted by the Republican governor in February. The State Constitution requires passage of a final budget by midnight June 30.

As it cleared Lanterman's committee, the budget totaled $6,228,014,401, a net increase of $2.4 million over the Republican governor's original request.

With Republicans in control of the house but with a partisan standoff of 39-39, the GOP needed at least 15 Democratic votes to clear the budget from the Assembly and send it to the Senate, which will adopt its own version of the spending program.

Time Magazine Issue Banned In Saigon

SAIGON (UPI)—The South Vietnamese government announced today it has removed from newsstands the May 23 issue of Time Magazine because it carried an article which advocated a coalition government with the Communists.

The issue had been on the stands for at least three days before the government decided to ban it. Sales in American post exchanges were not affected.

'Torture' Cases Probe Demanded

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — An assemblyman today called on Attorney General Thomas Lynch to investigate "punishment and torture" received by arrested University of California students at the Santa Rita Prison Farm.

John Vasconcellos, D-San Jose, sent a letter from Rev. Edward Glynn of Berkeley, who was among the almost 500 persons arrested last Thursday in the continuing People's Park crisis.

"Punishment and torture" were "inflicted by county agents on hundreds of defenseless men whom the state has in no way found guilty or deserving of punishment," the letter said.

Justice Douglas Believed Ready To Leave High Court

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — Justice William O. Douglas is retiring from the U.S. Supreme Court of which he has been a member since April 1939.

This will be announced in the near future.

At his age, 71, and with 30 years' service on the tribunal, Douglas can retire with full pay ($60,000) for life. Former Justice Abe Fortas, 59, on the bench less than four years, gets nothing.

Two factors are behind Douglas' decision to quit — declining health and increasingly harsh criticism in and out of Congress of his extra-judicial activities.

Last summer Army doctors at Walter Reed Hospital implanted a "pacemaker" in Douglas' side to regulate his heart. He has to return to the hospital at intervals to recharge this device. In April, it came to light that he had quietly had an appendectomy at Walter Reed, and was undergoing treatment for a liver ailment.

Douglas' physicians have strongly advised him to curtail his work.

Foremost among his extra-judicial operations that have come under fire was his association, until a few days ago, with the Albert Parvin Foundation that had large interests in Las Vegas, Nev., gambling casinos. It was disclosed that Douglas had received $12,765 a year as president, and sole paid official, of this foundation.

Also, that the foundation is a large contributor to the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions at Santa Barbara, of which Douglas is chairman and paid $500 a day for his services.

He also does considerable lecturing for fees ranging from $1,000 to $5,000. Several weeks ago he delivered a series of talks in Brazil for which he reportedly got $5,000.

Nixon Asks Congress For Sweeping Postal Changes

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Richard M. Nixon asked Congress today for legislation to convert the Post Office Department into a government-owned, self-sustaining service removed from cabinet status.

"Traditions die hard and traditional institutions are difficult to abandon," Nixon declared. "But tradition is no substitute for performance, and if our postal system is to meet the expanding needs of the 1970s, we must act now."

The President's proposal was largely based on recommendations submitted by Frederick R. Kappel, head of former President Lyndon B. Johnson's Commission on Postal Organization.

Nixon said his reform, besides removing the post office from the cabinet, calls for several sweeping changes including:

Creation of an independent postal service wholly owned by the federal government and administered by a nine-member board of directors.

New and extensive collective bargaining rights for postal employees.

Bond financing for major capital improvements, similar to the funding arrangement now held by the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Establishment of a commission of experts to propose changes in mail classifications and postage rates, subject to review by the seven presidentially appointed members of the nine-man board.

Much of what the President recommended was leaked by congressional sources last week.

Postmaster General Winton M. Blount held a White House briefing today on the plans.

The Kappel recommendations are backed by two of Johnson's postmasters general, Lawrence F. O'Brien and W. Marvin Watson.

Blount said he took the Kappel report, along with several other proposals, and welded them together into what he and his top aides considered a workable solution to the perennial postal problem.

He repeatedly emphasized that the Post Office, faced with rising deficits despite numerous rate boosts in recent years, could not economically process its growing annual mail volume under the existing machinery.

His first step in the reorganization came after he had been in office less than a month. At that time, he got Nixon's support for a proposal to remove Post Office Jobs from the political patronage system.

Nixon's bill to implement that plan is pending in Congress.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Red Ties Denied

DAMASCUS (Syria) — (AP) — The leftist military regime which took control of Sudan in a bloodless coup Sunday says reports that it is Communist or Communist-inspired are "absurd lies spread by supporters of the ousted reactionary leaders."

Prime Minister Babakar Awadallah said the members of his bainet are "leftists, Socialists, but not extremists or fanatics."

He added, however, "We are Arabs and fanatics as fas as the Palestine question is concerned. We advocate nonalignment in foreign policy, but we will stand fast against any country which supports Israel, be it Western or Eastern."

Mideast Gunfire

TEL AVIV — (AP) — Syrian and Israeli forces traded gunfire for three hours early today on the usually calm Syria-Israel cease-fire line, Israeli spokesmen said.

No losses were reported, but the sources said it was the most serious outbreak in the occupied northern Golan Heights since the 1967 war.

Echo To Disappear

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Echo 2, the most highly visible of all satellites, will disappear at the end of next week, dropping into the atmosphere and burning up, project engineers predicted today.

Officials at the Goddard Space Flight Center, Greenbelt, Md., set the probable destruction date at June 7 for the 135-foot diameter balloon that was placed in orbit Jan. 25, 1964.

Fewer Teens Smoke

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A survey of teen-agers exposed to antismoking messages — including the blunt "smoke, choke, croak" — shows a sharp decline of youngsters taking up ciga rettes in the last 10 years.

The drop means the total number of smokers in the United States remains about 49 million despite increases in the population, according to Roy L. Davis, a spokesman for the survey group.

Among 17-year-olds questioned during 1967-68, 25.6 per cent of the boys said they smoked cigarettes and 15.7 per cent of the girls said they are smokers.

A 1957 survey of the same age group reported 34.7 per cent of the boys and 25.5 per cent of the girls said they smoked.

Death Penalties Hearing Put Off

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court decided yesterday to put off until its next term a ruling on whether juries should have the right to impose the death penalty.

The action came in a brief order that an Arkansas capital punishment case should be reargued after the court convenes its 1969-70 session on Oct. 13. At least two new members presumably will have taken seats by then.

There was no indication in the court's action whether it was prompted by the resignation from the court of Abe Fortas and possibly created an even split on the constitutional issues of the case among the eight remaining justices.

Economy Still Rising

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's Gross National Product in the second quarter should "register a sizable advance," say Commerce Department analysts, whil demand continues strong and inflationary pressures show no signs of diminishing.

However, the Office of Business Economics said yesterday, April labor data suggest the rate of advance in output may be easing off though it is still moving upward.

Some indicators were unmistakeably bullish, the analysts said, such as the Consumer Price Index which has been rising at an annual rate of 7.6 per cent, highest since 1956.

GARY STEVEN KRIST
Buried victim alive

Jury Spares His Life; Kidnaper Counts Pulse

DECATUR, Ga. (AP) — A praying jury has convicted Gary Steven Krist of the $500,000 ransom kidnaping of co-ed Barbara Jane Mackle, but spared his life because of elaborate steps taken to keep the victim alive in a buried box.

Krist, 24, who had predicted the death penalty which the state asked, was given a life sentence last night on the jury's recommendation for mercy. Normally a life term may be reviewed for parole in seven years in Georgia.

Jury foreman H. I. Rainwater said deliberations began with a prayer. He disclosed in an interview that the 12 men were divided on whether to impose the death penalty, but finally voted for mercy because "of the effort and precaution he took to see that she (the victim) wasn't killed."

"He did go to an awful lot of trouble to see that she would be all right," Rainwater said.

Miss Mackle, a 20-year-old Emory University junior, was buried in an 8-by-2-by-2-foot box for 83 hours after her abduction from a Decatur motel last Dec. 17. The box contained food and tranquilizer-loaded drinking water. It also had a battery-run ventilation system, water pump and small light that burned out after a short time, leaving the girl in total darkness.

The bearded Krist counted his pulse beat as the verdict was read. He later said it was 110, considerably higher than normal.

Ruth Eisenmann Schier, 26, former University of Miami biology student also charged with the kidnaping, is to be tried in June.

While the jury deliberated, Krist said he did not believe in capital punishment. "No human being has the right to take the life of another."

Krist, a native of Washington state, escaped in 1966 from a California penal institute where he was serving a sentence for car theft. At the time of the kidnaping, he was employed as a technician at the University of Miami's Institute of Marine Sciences.

Violence Hits Seattle, Texas Campus

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three policemen were shot and nine other officers injured in a clash with black youths in Seattle, Wash. In Denton, Tex., nine persons were shot in a melee stemming from an automobile collision.

Seattle police used tear gas and nightsticks last night to quell a daylong outbreak of violence in the predominantly Negro central area. Thirty-five persons were arrested.

Members of the Black Student Union at Seattle Community College, protesting refusal of the board of trustees to appoint a Negro to the board, marched from the main campus to a branch in the central area, touching off the violence. They were joined by community youths.

One of the trustees, Carl Dakan, resigned early today, paving the way for appointment of a Negro.

His resignation was announced after a 13-hour meeting of college officials, BSU representatives, the Seattle Human Rights Commission and the State Board Against Discrimination. A spokesman for Gov. Dan Evans said he would name a Negro to the post "very soon."

Police said the three wounded officers were in good condition. They said it was not known who fired the shots and officers did not return the fire.

In Denton, a black girl was critically wounded when, police said, a rookie policeman pulled his gun and the weapon fired accidentally.

Police Chief Wayne Autrey said three police cars had responded to a report of a car striking a parked vehicle in front of Hubbard Hall on the Texas Woman's University campus.

Autrey said the driver, a Negro airman, attacked one officer; another policeman coming to his aid, hit the officer's arm, and the gun discharged, striking Glenda Hopkins, 18, a Texas Western student, in the chest. The bullet passed through her and hit Ralph Stolow, 18, a student at neighboring North Texas State University, in the groin.

A crowd remained in front of the dormitory after the airman and a female companion were arrested.

A pickup truck rushed by and two shotgun blasts boomed, Autrey said. Seven students were felled by pellets.

Shotgun-armed police guarded Flow Memorial Hospital, where the wounded were taken.

Police seized nine black youths in what they said was an attempt to prevent rioting.

Both Texas Woman's University, with 5,000 students, and North Texas State, with 15,000, are racially integrated.

City and state police patrolled the streets of Cairo, Ill., after firemen were shot at while responding to two firebombings.

A fire destroyed the Tri-County Health Center, located across the street from Pyramid Courts, a Negro housing development, and heavily damaged an interior decorator's shop.

Seven or eight fires broke out in Champaign, Ill., two in adjacent Urbana and six in University of Illinois dormitories in both cities. Officials said most were caused by firebombs.

Firemen said shots were fired at them and they withdrew from a blaze that destroyed a frame house in Champaign. Police in squad cars patrolling Burch Village, a dominantly Negro housing development, were fired on. One squad car was hit by three bullets.

Another Champaign fire caused $10,000 damage to a grocery store, a fire official said. Battalion Chief Villard Ayers said most of the firebombings were in the predominately Negro northeastern section of town.

At the university, couches and drapes burned in four dormitories and a car parked on campus was destroyed by a firebomb.

Two young men were treated for minor injuries.

At Greensboro, N.C., police said the campus of North Carolina A&T University, scene of bloody disorders last week, continued to yield weapons, ammunition and fire bombs.

Most of the weapons have been found and turned over to police by authorities of the predominantly Negro school. The college was closed Friday following violence in which one student was killed by gunfire and five policemen, two students and a National Guardsman were wounded.

Blaze Damage $30,000-Plus

Fire which gutted a classroom at the Church of the Nativity in Marinwood last week caused between $30,000 and $40,000 damages, much more than originally estimated, Marinwood Fire Chief Gaylord E. Bonfield said today.

On May 19, fire burned the Sunday School room on the southeast side of the church, located on Ellen Drive.

Chief Bonfield said the beams on the roof have been charred, and the entire roof on the east side needs repair.

Cause of the fire may have been an electrical short, said Bonfield.

Edward Jenner, English physician, was the discoverer of smallpox vaccine.

Does he know his phone number? He could be lost without it.

Sure, he can tell someone that his name is Jimmy. And that his daddy's name is Daddy. And maybe that he lives on Elm Street. But if he can tell someone his phone number, he's found.

Stokes, says he will recommend to directors that they lease it for $1 a year to the city.

Frank Bardacke, representing the People's Park Negotiating Committee, declared, however, that its aim is still the original university-owned lot.

Bardacke, a former teaching assistant who was suspended following "Stop the Draft Week" demonstrations, declared "we're going to stay in the streets because we have the people behind us. That fence will come down and we will have the whole area for a park. We will have a march of 50,000 people on Friday to demand that the fence come down."

Here's a rundown of activities yesterday at the other U.C. campuses:

Santa Cruz—Chancellor Dean McHenry dismissed classes for two days urging students and teachers "to intensive examination of the problems of higher education in general and to the Santa Cruz campus in particular."

Santa Barbara — Students called for a two-day classroom boycott but Chancellor Vernon I. Cheadle told the faculty to hold classes, to discuss the problem. The administration reported very little absenteeism.

San Diego — Classes were nearly as usual although 2,500 attended a convocation called by the Academic Senate.

Riverside — About half of the 4,500 students skipped classes although only 40 of the 525 teachers failed to appear in classrooms.

Irvine — Chancellor Daniel Aldrich called off classes for four hours for a convocation to discuss Berkeley.

Davis — There was no disturbance and no attendance figures because they are never kept at this campus. Students on the Davis campus, nearest to the capitol, acted as sponsor of the march-rally.

UCLA — Officials said about 30 per cent of the students and teachers struck classes, but that the campus was "very, very quiet and orderly." There were several orderly pickets but no interference with those who wanted to attend classes.

Berkeley — A rally drew only 200 persons who marched later to a park across a street from where those arrested May 15 were being arraigned.

Teacher's Wife Pleads Guilty On Marijuana

The wife of a psychology professor — formerly of Mill Valley — yesterday pleaded guilty in Marin Municipal Court to a felony charge of marijuana possession. A similar count against her husband was dismissed.

Judge Peter Allen Smith ordered the woman, Barbara Ellen Schiffman, 24, to appear in Superior Court July 7 for sentencing.

Mrs. Schiffman and her husband, David Charles, 28, were arrested Nov. 15, 1968, by narcotics and postal inspectors who were searching for drugs believed to have been shipped illegally through the mail.

Although the agents sought LSD, they found only enough marijuana for six or seven cigarettes.

Schiffman told agents he was on leave as an assiatant professor of psychology at a New York college. The couple has since returned to the East.

Suspect Fails To Show In Court

A 38-year-old Petaluma man failed to appear in Southern Sonoma Municipal Court yesterday and forfeited $1,250 bail he put up after being arrested May 3 on suspicion of attempted burglary.

Howard Crump, of 28 Bridge Street, failed to appear to enter a plea, court officials said, and his bail was ordered forfeited.

Crump was arrested after police said they found him acting suspiciously and in possession of a switchblade knife near a Petaluma drive-in restaurant. Several window screens on the restaurant had been slashed but it had not been entered, police said.

Low Bidder Awaits Army Nod

Neil T. Burton of Kentfield was low bidder yesterday for construction of a chlorine house at the Sausalito-Marin City Sanitation District treatment plant, but the district board delayed awarding a contract because Army approval for the project has not been received.

The plant is on Army property at Fort Baker. Burton's bid of $10,980 was low among three bidders.

Board president Cyril G. Hansen said Army approval is expected in approximately two weeks and the bid will be valid for 45 days.

The board also passed to committee for study a proposal by the Marin County Health Department that the district take charge of garbage collection in the Waldo Point area.

New Main Approved

The Bolinas Community Public Utility District board last night approved laying a new water main on Mesa Road between Evergreen Road and Overlook Drive as the first phase of water service to the site of the future Bolinas fire station on Mesa Road. Cost was estimated at $1,500.

CREEK

1966 board meeting — had disappeared.

Kent put his niece, Marty Kent Jones, on the stand and she testified that a map reportedly filed with the supervisors' resolution on the flood control project did not show Tamalpais Creek. (Mrs. Jones, who lives in Kent Woodlands, has led demonstrations against altering the creek.)

County Public Works Director Donald R. Frost, Godino's witness, was asked to identify a 1964 study of the flood control project by the League of Women Voters.

Frost said the study included a map which showed that Tamalpais Creek was a part of the project and that it was to be a 450-foot concrete-lined channel up to Goodhill Road.

"Who prepared this document?" Godino asked. "Mrs. Alice Stephens," replied Frost. "Is she Roger Kent's daughter?" the counsel asked and Frost answered, "Yes."

Kent, speaking about the vandalism, told the court there were three pumping facilities available including that of the Kentfield Fire Department to pump out the creek but that there was no effort made by the engineers or contractor to pump it out.

"I say," said Kent, "any damages caused were not caused by any action of Marin County but are the responsibility of the Army Corps of Engineers and the contractor.

Kent also produced declarations of five county supervisors who voted on the flood control project in 1966 but stated they couldn't recall hearing about the inclusion of Tamalpais Creek.

He ended his presentation by quoting from a letter from his father, William Kent to President Theodore Roosevelt, dated Jan. 30, 1908 after his father had donated Muir Woods as a national monument:

"I thank you from the bottom of my heart for your message of appreciation and hope and believe it will strengthen me to go on in an attempt to save more of the precious and vanishing glories of nature."

Prior to the actual ruling, Judge Gardiner said he was going to express a tentative opinion and let the attorneys "shoot at it."

"It seems to me we've got too far to stop this project," he said. "The best thing is to dissolve the injunction and give no temporary injunction. But, at the same time, I think the procedure is void. The question is how can the situation be corrected?

"I would assume that if you try this that some overall solution should be found to make it more suitable to the community." (Judge Gardiner referred to a condemnation suit brought by the flood control district and pending in court against the four property owners, whose property borders the creek, to condemn portions of their land for the project)

The Judge Gardiner asked Kent if he, representing Kent Woodlands Properties, would post a $100,000 bond on a temporary injunction and Kent said, "No, sir."

Then the judge ruled.

Ex-Larkspur Pair Plead Guilty

A former Larkspur couple who fled last July before they could be tried on narcotics charges, yesterday pleaded guilty in Marin Superior Court to two felony counts of selling methedrine.

Judge Harold J. Haley set sentencing for Robert and Patricia Chidester Delzell for June 30.

A felony charge of failing to appear for trial against Mrs. Delzell was dismissed.

Delzell is currently serving a three-year federal sentence at McNeill Island Penitentiary in Washington. His wife, whom he married after they both fled, was extradited from Oregon last month.

Feather River Water Accord

OROVILLE (UPI) — The apparent final chapter of the once-bitter middle fork of the Feather River hydroelectric project controversy was written here today.

A pair of agreements resolving complicated Feather water rights were signed by representatives of the state Department of Water Resources, the Pacific Gas & Electric Co. and several Sacramento Valley irrigation districts.

The agreements assure water needed for valley rice growers and eliminate the need for the four districts to build a $74 million power and irrigation project on the scenic middle fork of the Feather.

these areas of concern about the Apollo 10 flight:

Poor communications with the LEM during the first low pass over the moon.

Telementry date showed that the LEM lost cabin pressure after it was unmanned, pushed away from the command ship and sent rocketing off into space. If loss of pressure happened with astronauts aboard the LEM, they would be protected by pressurized space suits but would have to return to the command ship, abandoning the effort to land on the moon.

Problems with two of the power-producing fuel cells.

The loosening of insulation on the command ship hatch during a pressurization exercise.

"We think we understand the reason for most of these," Low said. "If anything, the list we have today of things that bother us is considerably smaller than we had on the last flight at the same time."

Courtroom Escaper Sentenced

A 20-year-old transient who escaped from Marin Superior Court in February was sentenced yesterday to 10 months in jail for the escape and two car thefts.

Judge E. Warren McGuire also placed Robert Bruce Jones on two years probation and gave him a suspended prison sentence. He is to be given credit for four months he has already spent in jail.

Jones, who was described as a resident of the Haith-Ashbury in San Francisco, ran from a courtroom Feb. 11 where he was awaiting a trial setting for the first car theft. While he was free, he stole another car, but was arrested two days later.

He also made an abortive attempt to flee Judge McGuire's courtroom while on trial for the three felony charges but was quickly captured in the hall.

On the next day, March 27, he pleaded guilty to all the charges.

Judge McGuire yesterday ordered Jones to seek psychiatric treatment.

Novato Stores Are Burglarized

Two stores in downtown Novato were victims of burglaries during the weekend, police reported today.

In each case, the burglar entered the store through the roof and left the same way, reports said.

The Amer Griffin Bookstore at 1769 A Grant Avenue was entered between 3 p.m. Sunday and 10 a.m. yesterday, said owner Marta L. Grier. The burglar took $51 in cash.

The Thrift-D-Lux Cleaners at 1763 Grant Avenue was entered between 4:30 p.m. Saturday and 8:45 a.m. yesterday and $8 in cash taken, Twila M. Dawson, the owner, told police.

Cash Stolen From School

Burglars who broke into Homestead School in Mill Valley either Friday or Saturday took unknown amounts of money from various rooms in the school, sheriff's officers said today.

Among the cash stolen were payments made by students for class pictures. The thieves left behind checks, deputies said.

Stolen keys were dropped on the floor of the school, but not before one had been used to open a soft drink machine.

Irish-Brogue Appeal To Live In Trailer

A fiery, 77-year-old night watchman, who lives in a mobile home at the county heliport site south of Richardson Bay Bridge, pleaded yesterday for a chance to live in the trailer for five or six more months.

Duke C. Winston, speaking with an Irish brogue, appealed to County Zoning Administrator Thomas E. Cordill.

"I've been here since 1905," said Winston, "I love this county, that I do. In spite of you people, I'm going to be buried here."

He said he does not want to move to Sonoma County. "I want a spot on the waterfront in Marin County."

Cordill said he would take the appeal under submission and give his decision later.

There are two other trailers and an old school bus that are being used as residences in the area. John Hau, deputy zoning administrator, said the county is taking action to abate these illegal residences.

Winston said he works for McCoy Enterprises to watch the property at night. He told Cordill he plans to build a boat in about five months, and will then move his trailer away.

50 Seek Ross School Position

Fifty persons have applied for the position of superintendent of the Ross School District, according to Stanley Friese, assistant superintendent of Marin County Schools who is directing the initial screening.

Friese said the screening committee would review applications this week and recommend top candidates to the Ross School District board.

The board is seeking a replacement for Robert D. Gowan, who resigned.

McColpin To Receive Management Degree

Maj. Gen. Carroll W. McColpin (ret.), 45, of Novato, will receive a bachelor's degree in management at June 5 graduation ceremonies at Golden Gate College, San Francisco.

McColpin, of 205 Country Club Drive, is the former commander of the Fourth Air Force at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Mother's Name

A son was born May 17 at Marin General Hospital to Mrs. Robert L. Dollahite of Novato, whose maiden name was incorrectly listed in the Independent-Journal Friday on information from the hospital. Mrs. Dollahite is the former Nikki A. Giampoli.

Sonoma Purchase For Road Passed

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — The Sonoma County board of supervisors yesterday approved the $1,180 purchase of 3.24 acres of land from Mr. and Mrs. Don W. McCaughey for the Petaluma-Valley Ford Road project.

The land was made a part of the county highway system by the supervisors' action.

In other Southern Sonoma action, the supervisors approved the second progress estimate on the construction of Pepper Road between Walker and Petaluma-Valley Ford roads and authorized the payment of $4,446 to Reichold and Jurkovich, the project contractor.

New Speed Limit North Of Novato

A 55-mile-per-hour zone has been established along a half-mile section of Highway 101 north of Novato, according to the state Division of Highways.

The reduction from 65 miles an hour from 200 feet north of Atherton Avenue to 1,700 feet north of San Marin Drive was made after an investigation at the request of the California Highway Patrol.

The new limit will become effective when signs are posted, probably within a few weeks.

No Cutbacks In Activity At Hamilton

Hamilton Air Force Base will remain at or near the present level of activity during the foreseeable future, according to information received from Washington by Supervisor William A. Gnoss.

Gnoss said he got word from Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-First District, that several replacement units are being considered to occupy the space to be vacated by the inactivation of the Fourth Air Force Headquarters.

Air Force Col. John J. Shaughnessy, chief of the plans group, legislative liaison in Washington, D.C., is quoted as saying:

"We anticipate that the base will remain at or near the present level of activity.

"The Air Force does not plan to close Hamilton Air Force Base. The recent announcement concerning the inactivation of the combat center and Fourth Air Force Headquarters will not affect its continuance as an active air force installation during the foreseeable future."

84 Diplomas Due At St. Raphael's

Eighty-four eighth grade students will graduate from St. Raphael's School June 6.

The students will present a program to their parents next Tuesday evening entitled "Once Upon a Word."

June 6 they will participate with parents and student body at the 11 a.m. Mass. An award assembly will follow in the auditorium. Commencement exercises will take place in the church at 7:45 p.m.

On June 11 a party honoring the class of 1969 will terminate graduation activities.

Demobilization Is Set For 900 Reservists

A demobilization day program for the 349th Military Airlift Wing and the 938th Military Airlift Group will be held at 3 p.m., Thursday at Hamilton Air Force Base.

The 900 men of the two organizations were recalled to active duty following the Pueblo incident in January, 1968.

Some of the men who have fulfilled their military obligation will be released from the service at that time, but the majority of them will be returned to inactive reserve status, said Maj. Donald T. Brill, information officer. The effective date of the demobilization is June 1, but because of the holiday Friday and the weekend, the ceremony will be held Thursday, he said.

The 349th or Golden Gate Wing has had its headquarters at Hamilton for the past 10 years. By July 1, the wing headquarters will be moved to Travis Air Force Base.

The 938th group has been flying the C-124 Globemaster cargo plane. When it moves to Travis, it will fly the C-141 "Starlifter" cargo plane.

Since being recalled to active duty, the men of the 349th have been assigned to England, Germany, Korea and Southeast Asia.

In that year and a half of regular duty, they have flown 964 missions for a total of 28,007 hours, airlifting 24,326 tons of cargo for a total of 36 million ton miles. They have also airlifted 3,686 passengers for a total of 5,131,900 passenger miles.

Brig. Gen. Rollin B. Moore was commander of the wing at the time of its recall to active duty. Last August he was promoted to Major General and assigned as commander of air force reserves. He was succeeded by the present commander, Col. Jesse A. Irwin.

School Honors Kentfield Girl

Marguerite Smith, 17, daughter of Judge and Mrs. Peter Allen Smith of Kentfield, has been named the outstanding student in her graduating class at the Convent of the Sacred Heart in San Francisco.

She and 12 other San Francisco public and parochial high school students were honored by the California Savings and Loan Association at a luncheon at the Fairmont Hotel. She received a $100 award.

Miss Smith, who attended St. Anselm's School in San Anselmo, plans to enter University of California at Los Angeles this fall.

Shop Center Plan

An addition to the Red Hill Shopping Center will be considered at 8 p.m. Wednesday at city hall by the San Anselmo Design Review Committee. The addition is proposed for an existing building at the northwest corner of the center.

37 Marin Girls Due Diplomas At San Domenico

Twenty-seven Marin County girls will receive their eighth grade diplomas from San Domenico Lower School in San Anselmo at 10:30 a.m. Friday in Alumnae Hall.

Father B. Cole, O.P., who is Newman adviser at Marin Junior College, will address the graduates and award diplomas.

A reception for families and friends will be held in the library following graduation.

Paper Flowers By Marin Artist

The paper flowers on the cover of the June issue of Family Circle were designed by San Rafael artist Jackie Curry.

Mrs. Curry also designed the plastic flowers in kit form which are shown inside the magazine.

Mrs. Curry, of 109 Dominican Drive, is a free lance artist and has designed for Better Homes and Gardens for the past six years.

Driver Safety Fund Allocated To Marin

Funds to improve driver safety along a 10-mile stretch of Highway 101 in Marin County have been allocated by the California Highway Commission.

The commission voted $56,000 for removal and modification of existing guard rails and for the installation of new guard rails between the north end of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway 17, south of San Rafael.

JAN GOBERSHOCK
Gives community service

MICHAEL KING
Started troop paper

Eagle Awards To Two Scouts Of Troop 48

Two Marin Boy Scouts, members of Troop 48 sponsored by Shepherd of the Hill Lutheran Church, Tiburon, will receive Eagle Awards at 7:30 p.m. June 5 at Del Mar School, Tiburon.

Jan Gobershock and Michael King will receive the awards from their Scoutmaster Miles T. (Ted) McMillan. It will be his last court of honor with the troop as he plans to leave for Bangkok.

Gobershock, 14, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Gobershock of 89 Bay Vista Drive, Mill Valley, and a graduating eighth grader at Edna Maguire School in Mill Valley.

He has been a member of the troop since March 1966 and has served as quartermaster and senior patrol leader. He is a member of the Order of the Arrow and a member of the Ceremonial Dance Team of the order.

Gobershock will attend the National Jamboree of Boy Scouts of America at Farragut, Idaho, this summer and plans to continue in scouting as an assistant in troop 48 and in Sea Scouting and Explorer Scouts.

His community service projects have included the Mill Valley Methodist Church and the Sehpherd of the Hills Lutheran Church and the Tiburon Marine Laboratory, a project which has prompted plans for further study in marine biology.

King, 14, a freshman at Redwood High School, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alan King of Tiburon. A member of the troop for three years, he has focused on helping younger boys progress in scouting. He has been troop scribe, assistant patrol leader and patrol leader.

At the court of honor the first edition of the troop newspaper, "Shark," will be published. King started the paper and organized Scouts to write for it.

He also holds the Order of the Arrow and has earned the Ner Talmid Medal, a religious scouting award.

He will also attend the national jamboree in Farragut this summer and is patrol leader for Jamboree Troop 38.

Dixie School Is Burglarized

Personnel arriving for work yesterday morning at Dixie School in Lucas Valley discovered that the school had been broken into, ransacked and about $15 stolen.

The cash came from a box in the nurse's office, where a door had been pried open, according to sheriff's deputies. A soft drink machine in another part of the school had been smashed, apparently with a crowbar, officers said, and cash taken from it also.

The burglars also broke about 15 bottles of soft drinks on the playground outside the school.

FM Receiver Stolen

Burglars, who kicked open a back door to the garage at the home of Kenneth R. Vollintine at 729 Sequoia Valley Road, Homestead Valley, Friday, took an FM receiver valued at $525, a record player, television set and a camera, sheriff's deputies said today.

SACRAMENTO ROUNDUP

College Opportunity Bills Gain Amid Charges Of Credit Theft

SACRAMENTO (UPI—A Democratic-sponsored bill setting up a comprehensive $16.3 million program to provide college educations for minority youths has cleared an Assembly committee amid charges the Republican leadership wanted "to steal it."

The Education Committee yesterday approved a bill by Assembly Democratic Leader Jess M. Unruh that would finance college educations for 8,000 minority youths who don't meet entrance requirements.

The committee also cleared a more restricted Educational Opportunities Program (EOP) bill authored by Speaker Robert T. Monagan, R-Tracy. It earmarks $2.5 million to continue EOP at the state colleges only.

Assemblyman Willie L. Brown Jr., D-San Francisco, said there was a "conspiracy" among Republicans "to get Mr. Unruh off and Mr. Monagan on" as principal author of a bill which would result from merging the present bills.

Assemblyman Victor V. Veysey, R-Brawley, the committee chairman, told Brown: "I don't know where you got your information, but I haven't heard of it."

But Unruh, D-Inglewood backed up Brown's accusation. He said he had been approached by a GOP assemblyman who suggested Monagan be listed as principal author.

Both bills were sent to the Ways and Means Committee for financial study.

In another action, the committee sent to the floor a measure by Veysey placing control of the Coordinating Council for Higher Education in the hands of the six public members.

The council advises on policy implementing the master plan for higher education. Its critics complained the 12 members representing the University of California, state colleges, junior colleges and private institutions often "voted in a bloc" to serve their own self interests.

Each of the four segments of higher education now has three representatives. Veysey's bill would reduce them to one representative each.

TAX PLAN POLLED

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Gov. Ronald Reagan faces a public opposed to his basic tax policies, according to the latest California Poll.

In a survey released today, pollster Mervin D. Field reported that 55 per cent of state taxpayers back a pay-as-you-go tax program — opposed by Reagan — while 37 per cent are for lump sum payments. Eight per cent give qualified answers or had no opinion.

Last month, the governor proposed a massive tax reform measure, which essentially would reduce the tax on residential property by about 50 per cent and offset this loss of revenue with a state income tax hike.

The Field poll found 48 per cent against this change, 36 per cent for it, and 16 per cent undecided.

GHETTO SCHOOLS

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A bill permitting California ghettos to set up experimental school districts on the pattern of Brooklyn's Brownsville experiment reached the Assembly Education Committee today.

An education subcommittee last night approved the bill by Assemblyman Leon Ralph, D-Los Angeles.

One of Ralph's principal witnesses was Rhody McCoy, unit administrator of the independent New York City school district that figured in a teacher strike last fall.

McCoy said Ralph's measure was "a sound approach." The bill would authorize experimental independent districts controlled by parents within major school districts. It would apply only to Los Angeles, San Francisco, Oakland and San Diego.

McCoy said that since the Brownsville district became independent, tests showed 98 per cent of 760 children in one school advanced their learning ability by 1 1-2 years in only five months.

POLLUTION FINES

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A bill slapping a $6,000 per day fine on individuals or organizations which violate laws against polluting water was unanimously approved yesterday by the Senate Water Resources Committee.

The measure by Assenblyman Carley V. Porter, D-Compton, was sent to the upper house Finance Committee after a five-minute hearing.

McMorris M. Dow, deputy San Francisco city attorney, was the only opponent to the bill, whose provisions also cover local governments. His primary opposition was to the stiff fine for violations.

Draft File Burners Guilty; Court Uproar

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Scuffling and shouting broke out in the courtroom when a jury convicted 12 members of an antiwar group of stealing and burning about 4,000 files from a Selective Service headquarters.

Pushing and shoving between bailiffs and supporters of the defendants began last night when a young woman among the 140 spectators shouted: "We thank you, men and women of the jury, for finding Jesus Christ guilty once again!"

Judge Charles L. Lawson called in 18 policemen to help the bailiffs. About 30 of the crowd were carried out of the courtroom singing "We Shall Overcome."

The defendants, including five Roman Catholic clergymen, were on trial for two weeks accused of arson, theft and burglary. The files, stolen Sept. 24, were burned in a park containing a memorial to the dead of World War I.

Judge Larson said he would sentence the 12 on June 6. Maximum penalty is 18 years in prison.

The judge also cited four defendants for contempt of court because of their behavior during ranging from fines of $25 to $50 or five to 10 days in jail.

Senators Again Approve Tighter Mutual Fund Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed for a second time legislation to broaden regulation of the mutual funds industry.

Managers of the bill, which cleared the Senate on a unanimous voice vote yesterday, said it would give substantially greater protection to the 5 million investors in the $50 billion industry. The House is expected to start its hearings on the measure in July.

The 1969 legislation is similar to that which passed the Senate but failed in the House last year. Some changes have been made.

This year's Senate bill deals with the three major areas of management fees and salesmen's commissions cited by the Securities and Exchange Commission in its massive study of mutual funds three years ago. It does not go as far as SEC recommended in any of the areas.

These are the provisions in the measure on these areas:

Management fees—SEC or a shareholder is given the right to bring a court test of whether the investment adviser to a fund has fulfilled his fiduciary duty with respect to the size of the fee.

This is a substitute for the language in the 1968 Senate bill which allowed a test of the reasonableness of the fee; the industry objected strongly to this.

Salesmen's commissions — industry self-regulation is provided for through the National Association of Securities Dealers.

The SEC originally asked for a 5 per cent ceiling on commissions, contending a typical charge now is 9.3 per cent.

Front-end Loads—These apply to contractual plans in which the investor pays regular installments. Alternative methods of regulation are provided.

The fund could continue the present front-end load plan under which the sales commission is 50 per cent of the first year's payment. But, if it did so, it would have to a agree that the entire transaction could be rescinded in the first 60 days and that, for the first three years, the shareholder could get a refund of his payments minus a 15 per cent commission.

Or, the sales charge could be limited to 20 per cent each for the first three years.

The SEC had asked that front end loads be abolished.

Ticket Plan May Reduce Arrests

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — In the case of certain misdemeanors, San Francisco policemen will soon be issuing traffic-ticket type citations, rather than taking arrested persons to jail.

Police commission members informally approved last night the plan which had been prepared by Police Chief Thomas Cahill, Asst. Dep. Chief Al Arnaud and Supervising Capt. Edward Cummings.

The department said the citations may start July 1, providing necessary forms can be printed by then.

Basis for the citations is in the State Penal Code and the system was advocated by minority group spokesmen who complained that the poor often spent long periods in jail on minor charges because they could not raise bail.

Senator's Son Set To Join In Politics

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — John Hampton Stennis, 33, son of Chairman John C. Stennis, D-Miss., of the Senate Armed Services Committee, is striking out on a political career of his own.

He announced yesterday he would run for a seat in the Mississippi House in a special election to fill a vacancy.

We set the scene,
the choice is yours.

NEW BAY SPAN DESIGN CHOSEN

A 1,300-foot tied arch will be the main design feature of the next bay toll crossing to be built by the state. The state Division of Highways yesterday approved the design, rejecting recommendations from the Division of Bay Area Toll Crossings for a suspension bridge supported by cables from two diamond-shaped towers. The $265 million project is expected to begin within two years and to be completed by 1975. It will link the Hunters Point area to East Oakland and the Hayward area. (UPI Telephoto)

Son Of Actress Dies In A Motel

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Police say Michael Thiess, son of actress Ursula Thiess, died of a possible overdose of narcotics in the motel room where he lived while working as a construction company clerk.

The body was discovered yesterday by his mother, German-born wife of actor Robert

A note on the door, written in German, instructed his mother to wake him, investigators said. Taylor.

A coroner's autopsy of the death of Thiess, 25, was scheduled.

Detective Sgt. John Slattery said Thiess, a bachelor, was discharged from Camarillo State Hospital last month after treatment of "a mental problem" and was receiving weekly doses of prescription medicines.

In 1964 he was convicted in Munich of attempting to murder his father, German film producer Georg Thiess, by poisoning his tea with insecticide. He served one year in a reformatory.

Language Teacher Quits, Says 'Learning Impossible'

Martin Luther King School's language teacher resigned last night, charging that a lack of support from the school's administration had made "a learning situation impossible."

The Sausalito School Board accepted the resignation of Valerie Joy, effective at the end of the current school year.

In her official letter of resignation to the board, Mrs. Joy said that she felt " . . . the black students will relate better to a black teacher," and was resigning for that reason.

After the meeting, however, Mrs. Joy told the Independent-Journal that she had written that letter several months ago, although she dated it last week.

"Since I wrote the letter, a lot of things have happened," she said. "The learning situation is just not present in the classrooms. Teachers are unable to control their classes and the biggest reason is a lack of support from the school's administration."

She said there was constant friction between white and black students in her classes.

Mrs. Joy is in her second year of teaching in the district. She teaches both Spanish and French. She is the only French teacher in the district at present.

Mrs. Joy went into closed session with the district trustees at the end of the meeting, reportedly to discuss the problems she has encountered. Also in the closed session was William Chaka, the noncredentialed teacher at Martin Luther King.

Two parents, Frank and Delta Christ and their son, Dave, also met in closed session with the board to discuss the recent alleged beating of 14-year-old Diane Fudge, a white student at the Martin Luther King School.

The younger Christ is said to have become involved when he attempted to aid Diana during an attack by black students on Thursday.

The only reference to the incident in open meeting came when Supt. Phillip W. Schneider read a letter from Sausalito Police Chief James D. Wright, in which the chief said he would "like to clarify statements" attributed to him in yesterday's Independent-Journal.

Chief Wright, in a letter to the board, said:

"I did meet with the persons listed in the (newspaper) article Saturday, however, I stated, at the conclusion of the portion of the investigation, the subject of the girl being dragged by the hair across the yard could not be substantiated.

"After talking to the students accused, I determined there had in fact developed a rumble or disturbance, with both sides participating in kicking and hitting. I did not deny the girl was kicked."

The board accepted the letter without comment and the matter drew no question from the audience.

Fire Volunteers Finish Course

Novato volunteer firemen last night completed a 10-hour Red Cross first aid course, according to Fire Chief Jack Kidder.

All but two of the department's 26 volunteers completed the course which will be required by law on July 1, Kidder said.

The annual barbecue will be held starting at noon on June 8 at the Silveira Ranch on Highway 101 north of Novato, co-chairmen Robert Busher and Wilfred Lieb reported.

The volunteers voted to hold their traditional waterball fight with the Kentfield Fire Department on June 14 during Western Weekend Country Fair. It will be held sometime during the afternoon in the Scottsdale area, Kidder said.

Giddings To Speak

Alfred F. Giddings, game warden and outdoor columnist for the Independent-Journal, will speak at a meeting of the United Conservationists and Sportsmen of Marin, at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Marin Rod and Gun Clubhouse at Point San Quentin. The meeting is open to the public.

SESSION ON BUDGET SET FOR MONDAY

The Sausalito School District board will meet next Monday in special session to discuss the 1969-70 budget.

The special meeting was set after last night's meeting ran late and trustees were unable to get to the budget.

The trustees will meet at 7:30 p.m. at the Bayside School.

Prisoner On Death Row Wins Execution Stay

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The U.S. Supreme Court yesterday granted a stay of execution to Edgar L. Robinson, 29, who was scheduled to die in San Quentin's gas chamber June 4 for killing a Los Angeles policeman.

Robinson and Gilbert Durham, 33, were convicted of fatally shooting officer Keith G. DuPuis, 27, in 1967. The officer died 11 days after the shooting.

Unless the high court grants Robinson, whose appeal for a hearing, the stay will be automatically terminated. It is expected to be several months before the court rules.

Robinson, whose appear for a stay was denied by the California Supreme Court April 30, has raised a number of questions, including one to be considered by the Supreme Court in its next term. That is whether standards should be set to limit the discretion of juries in imposing the death penalty.

Ships Make Port After Collision

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Two ships reached San Francisco safely last night after colliding in a thick fog 2 miles northwest of Santa Cruz.

There was no injury aboard either the Hong Kong Truth, a 8,715-ton Liberian freighter, or the Pioneer Valley, a 10,296-ton tanker operated by the William S. Diamond Co. of San Francisco.

Both reached port under their own power under escort by the Coast Guard cutter Point Barrow.

Sausalito Trustees Support Black Panther Breakfasts

The daily, Black Panther-sponsored breakfasts for Sausalito School District students will continue and the program now has the official support of the district's trustees.

The board voted 3-1 last night to continue the program following nearly two hours of discussion with a generally calm crowd of nearly 175 persons who crowded into a classroom at the Bayside School.

Only Trustee James E. Muldoon voted against the breakfast program, saying that he had been flooded with calls from parents protesting the board's allowing a political body to become involved in a school-related program.

Muldoon said that reported "propagandizing" by the Black Panther Party members at the first breakfast last Monday was the main concern of many of the parents.

Supt. Phillip W. Schneider admitted that there were incidents of propagandizing but said that the Panthers involved stopped as soon as requested to do so.

"There have been no other incidents as far as I know," Schneider told the board.

The majority of the large crowd was vocally in favor of the program, and cheered and applauded each speaker during the evening who supported the breakfasts.

One who didn't, however, was Delta Christ of Sausalito. Mrs. Christ charged the Panthers not only with spreading propaganda, but with being responsible for many of the children getting to classes at 10:30 a.m.

"Not only that," she said, "I now find that my son purchased a Black Panther Party newspaper on campus. I think selling anything like that is illegal, isn't it?"

She also said that the Panthers had intimidated many of the merchants in the area in their quest for food donations.

"They handed out a leaflet calling the merchants 'capitalist pigs' and many of the merchants felt very intimidated," Mrs. Christ said.

An unidentified Black Panther denied that the leaflet had used the terms "capitalistic pig," and Mrs. Christ promptly produced a mimeographed sheet addressed to local merchants which used the term.

Muldoon then added that he had received calls concerning the wording of the sheet.

James Leech, of Sausalito, said that opponents to the breakfast program were suffering from "Pantherphobia."

"If this same program were being sponsored by the Rotary or the Lions clubs, none of us would even be here," he said.

"Perhaps if some of you got in and helped, you'd find out that the Panthers aren't as bad as you think."

Dave Townsell, a Black Panther member, said that the Panthers were hoping that the community would step in and take over the feeding program.

"We aren't looking for a base of operations," he said, "we are merely interested in taking care of a basic need, feeding the people. We want the community to become involved and hopefully take it over."

A petition was turned over to the board signed by 21 of 29 teachers at the Martin Luther King School supporting the breakfast program.

The breakfast program has been under attack from some circles because at the first feeding, some of the Panthers led "Free Huey" chants and passed out Black Panther propaganda.

Several opponents to the program said they objected not to the idea of providing free breakfasts, but that a political body was allowed use of school facilities for the program.

Charles G. Clear, who will become a trustee July 1 and who is sitting on the board as an observer, said that he was concerned about an apparent lack of communication in the district since the program began without it ever having come before a board meeting.

Trustee Martha Freebairn-Smith replied that the board's policy allowed the district superintendent to authorize use of school facilities without board approval.

Trustees Nathanial Johnson and Bruce E. Foelfel both indicated they strongly favored the program, as did Mrs. Freebairn-Smith. David Freedheim was absent.

"I think it's beautiful, a beautiful thing," Johnson said several times.

In addition to giving official sanction to the program, the board also set up a committee to try and bring the general community into the program and named Mrs. Freebairn-Smith to head it.

SECOND PEOPLE'S PARK

Berkeley Mayor Wallace Johnson (right) walks through the latest People's park to take root in the troubled university city. This one was created Sunday on unusuad Bay Area Rapid Transit District property. Though it blossomed without permission like the original park over which blood was shed, steps are being taken to make the new People's Park legal. (See story on page 1.) (UPI Telephoto)

Sonoma State College Students In New Vote

Sonoma State College students were at the polls again today in their fourth attempt to elect a student government but there were doubts as to the legality of the voting and indications the results would be challenged.

Today's election is the runoff that was supposed to have been held Friday among the leading votegetters of the general election held last Wednesday. Wednesday's general election was held after an earlier general election and runoff were declared invalid.

The Friday runoff was not held, said former elections commissioner James S. Dierke, when presidential candidate James Gillette objected because the school's psychology students, his political power base, were not on campus.

The psychology students were off on what was termed, but not explained, as a "mass freakout."

Gillette is challenging John Owen, a junior political science major from Novato who was the leader in all of the previous elections.

The legal hitch in the runoff being held today and tomorrow, Dierke said, is that the old student government went out of constitutional existence at 12:01 a.m. Saturday. There is a legal question, he said, of whether a non-existent government can sponsor elections for a new government.

Sonoma State administrative officials, however, have ruled that Russell Grindle, the current election commissioner and the fourth since Dierke was fired for refusing to obey election rules imposed by the old student board of directors, can legally run the election.

Several students called the Independent-Journal to indicate they would challenge the outcome of the election being held today.

Other contested posts in the runoff are academic vice president between Richard Saarinen and Irvin Moore and chairman of the board between John Callaway and Greg Jilka.

New Campaign To Get Gibraltar

MADRID (London Express) — Spain appears to be starting a new task in the campaign of propaganda and harassment for Gibraltar to be handed to her by Britain.

One of Spain's top generals opened it in a lecture in which he claimed that Spanish control of the Straits of Gibraltar would qualify her as "a useful and important member of NATO.

Lt. Gen. Manuel Chamorro, commander of the Seville Military Region facing Britain's fortress on the rock, reiterated General Franco's assessment that Gibraltar is not worth a war with Britain but that Spain must get it back somehow.

Permission Granted

Mill Valley Planning Director Harvey E. Bragdon yesterday granted a variance to permit construction of a one room addition to a single family house at 165 Elm Avenue, requested by David Stern at a zoning hearing held in city hall.

Novato Planners Resist Plan To Shrink Park Site

A request to change the master plan of San Marin to eliminate 3.8 acres from a park and allow multiple dwelling construction was denied last night by the Novato Planning Commission.

The vote was 5-0 with commissionrs Lee C. Wise and Frank Valim absent, reported Warren Baker, assistant planning director.

The request came before the commission at its May 12 meeting but was referred to the parks and recreation advisory commission, which last week unanimously recommended denial.

About 25 people from San Marin attended the meeting to oppose elimination of the park from the master plan, Baker said.

The Novato Planning Commission Also:

BOARDING HOUSE — Received a petition with 49 signatures protesting a boarding house requested by Jack D. Kinney at 1679 Hill Road. The request was withdrawn.

SETBACK — Approved a request to reduce from 30 to 25 feet the side yard set back for the Hy-Lond Convalescent Hospital at the southwest corner of Hill Road and Indian Valley Road.

USE PERMIT — Asked the Novato City Council to extend for one year the requirement for a use permit for all new construction in commercial districts as requested by Seday and Cooke, planning consultatnts who are making a study of the downtown area.

CONTINUED—Continued until June 2 consideration of changes in the master plan for 75 acres of Bahia at the end of Bugeia Lane for the Union Bank of Los Angeles.

Defense Spending Wastes Are Cited

WASHINGTON (AP) — The military is pouring untold billions of dollars into defense contractors' pockets for weapons that often don't work, a bipartisan group of senators and representatives said today.

The subcommittee's report followed hearings last November and January into the defense procurement program that totaled $44 billion in fiscal 1968—25 per cent of the federal budget.

"The wasteful, inefficient practices uncovered in the course of the hearings raise basic questions concerning the Defense Department's management of its own affairs," the report said.

"In the past literally billions of dollars have been wasted on weapons systems that have had to be canceled because they did not work," the subcommittee said. "Other systems have performed far below contract specifications."

"The result of the absence of effective cost controls, coupled with a number of policies and practices discussed in this report, has resulted in a vast subsidy for the defense industry, particularly the larger contractors," the report said.

Pentagon officials agree with much of the report. But they pointed out the new administration under Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird has started to overhaul procedures for buying major weapons systems.

Barry J. Shillito, assistant secretary of defense for installations and logistics, concurred with the recommendation that Congress be given periodic reports on the status of expensive weapons projects. He said a reporting system is being set up and he said he hoped that such information as cost increases could be made public under the arrangement.

The Pentagon did take issue with a recommendation to enforce provisions of the Truth-In-Negotiations Act on cantractors' cost estimates.

J. M. Malloy, a member of the installations and logistics staff, said law now allows the Pentagon to waive the requirements in certain essential contract situations.

"There are times when this waiver has been absolutely essential," Malloy said.

At the same time the Pentagon announced its joint logistics review board is starting a review of the Vietnam buildup to see what lessons could be applied to the future. Booz-Allen Applied Research Inc. of Bethesda, Md., was awarded a $315,114 contract to assist the board in its work.

The subcommittee singled out the following Pentagon procurement practices for criticism:

The increasingly heavy use of noncompetitive bidding for contracts.

The government's provision of property and working capital to contractors which "constitutes a government subsidy and contributes to concentration within this industry."

Progress payments to contractors that "are not necessarily related to progress in the sense of work completed."

The grant of exclusive patent rights for inventions produced on government work.

The pyramiding of profits to the prime contractor through subcontracting to other companies.

Failure to enforce provisions of the Truth-In-Negotiations Act on contractors' cost estimates.

The absence of uniform accounting practices and the use of change orders for contracts that allow the contractor to boost his profits.

Reliance on the contractor's cost estimates rather than using a standard of what the weapon should cost.

The absence of ongoing reports to Congress on the progress and cost of weapon systems.

Pools Granted For Clinic Use

The Rohnert Park Recreation Commission last night granted a Sonoma State College request for the use of its community swimming pools for a water polo clinic Sept. 6-13 for coaches from other California colleges which will compete in a new water polo league next fall.

Commission Chairman Ronald E. Rasmussen also reported today that the city's men's softbal league with seven teams will open June 9 and the new Rohnert Park Babe Ruth baseball program for boys 13 to 15 years old will start in early June. The Babe Ruth League will have five teams from Rohnert Park and two from Healdsburg, he said.

The commission set a special meeting for 7 p.m. June 4 at Rohnert Park City Hall to discuss its 1969-70 budget.

The Long, Long Scarf Ties Together Outfit With Drama

Few people would argue that the scarf, an accessory that has been gaining prominence for many seasons has become "the accessory of the year."

There are solids; there are prints, either abstract or traditional; there are stripes and there are polka dots. To add to the dilemma of which scarf to choose, this season there are a variety of possible shapes. The traditional square scarf continues, but the emphasis, by fashion experts and the public, is on the oblong. There are even varieties within that classification; the oblong may be simply that, an extended rectangle or it can also mean a narrow bias-cut tie.

Differing from other years, this season's scarf has many more uses than ever before. Although it is frequently used as neckwear, it is liable to be tied in the manner of a man's four-in-hand, or it can be looped simply and left streaming in the breeze a la Isadora. Since many oblongs come up to nine feet in length, they make marvelous turbans and can be easily wrapped around the head for a very sophisicated look. Ever more popular, the scarf encircling the waist creats a gerat belt, and in devising a gypsy outift, scarves in quantity are an absolute must.

No matter where, when or how, you wear your scarf, it adds the touch that draws together an entire costume and creates a completed look.

Mrs. John Burnham Elected First President Of New Hospital Branch

MRS. JOHN BURNHAM

Mrs. John Burnham of Mill Valley is the first president of the newly formed Old Mill Branch of Marin General Hospital Volunteers.

This will be a social and fund-raising group of members, whose husbands will be associate members.

Mrs. Burnham says she is planning a get-acquainted party in June, and the first fund-raiser will be an "Outdoor Night in Tahiti" to be held around the pool at the Burnhams' home.

Born in a San Francisco hospital, Louise is all but technically a native of Mill Valley, for her family moved there just after the 1906 earthquake. Her father, who was chief engineer of the River and Harbor Divisions of the United States Army Engineers, bought one of the old estates in Mill Valley that even had its own private schoolhouse.

The Burnhams now live in a house they built on the property when they were married.

Keenly interested in interior decorating, Louise has emphasized the early day background of their home with antique furnishings, such as a set that came around the Horn from France after surviving a shipwreck. She and her husband upholstered the chairs and love seat after she took a course in this work at Tamalpais High School.

Anything creative, she says, is what she enjoys most. She is widely known for her unusual decorations that she carries out in themes following her original ideas. Several oil paintings done as a result of instruction in Outdoor Art Club sponsored classes are part of her home decor.

Louise attended the old Summit School no longer in existence, Old Mill School and was graduated from Tamalpais High School and the University of California with a major in German. There she was a member of Delta Zeta sorority.

After graduation she worked as a secretary three years for Associated Oil Company, where she met her future husband, who was an assistant advertising manager for the company. He is now an advertising executive with Standard Oil Company of California.

The have two sons, Timothy, a senior at San Francisco State College, and John, who is in his first year in medical school at the University of California.

Louise has always typed all of her sons' term papers. "They do all the work," she says, "and dictate all the material. We have fascinating discussions, and I have learned all kinds of things. I think my interest in their projects has made them more interested in school."

Her major interests include psychology and medicine, and under a doctor's instructions, she has done work in hypnotism with a member of her family.

She devotes one afternoon a week to work at Marin General Hospital in connection with the book cart in-service branch of Pink Ladies. She has been grounds and decorations chairman for the Outdoor Art Club and vice president and decorations chairman for the Mill Valley Community Church Club.

Louise has always been athletically inclined — a real tomboy as a child, she says. She played tennis and took tumbling while in college so that it is not surprising that as one of the more advanced members of the Outdoor - Art - Club - sponsored Yoga class, she is one of those who can do a head stand easily. She keeps in trim by swimming in their pool every day that weather permits.

Other officers of the Old Mill branch of the Marin General Hospital Volunteers, which has 22 charter members, are Mmes: Joseph Witherown vice president; Edmund Pearson, recording secretary; Francis Keane, corresponding secretary; and William Praun, treasurer. Mrs. J. Paul Hurd is membership chairman, and Mrs. Earle F. Reinke, publicity chairman.

STATE REPORT FINDS

Teens Hold Unreal Picture Of Lives

By BARBARA HOSMER

With a lifespan that may extend 25 years longer than their grandmothers, California teenage girls may be holding an unrealistic picture of what their future lives will be like.

'Our educational counseling of girls and young women is not realistically preparing them for life patterns of women as they exist today," stated the California Advisory Committee on the Status of Women in its report delivered to the state legislature and the governor.

The commission had asked more than a thousand girls what roles or combinations of roles they thought they would be filling at various stages of their lives.

'THEIR ANSWERS indicate awareness of certain realities, but a marked lack of how to deal with them," the report states. Only half the girls thought they would be married at age 40, surprisingly, and yet most had picked dead-end occupations and less than a third were planning to go to college. The survey of teen-agers showed also that 42 per cent had doubts about whether they could be successful in business.

Also surveying homemakers, business and professional women and members of the Personnel and Industrial Relations Association, the commission reported that the most promising opportunities for women lay in the fields of electronics, space, research and the computer industries. Yet only six per cent of the teen-agers had picked the science field and only 10 per cent were interested in business.

Another study made by the Employment Section of the commission revealed that too many women seem unaware of their opportunities.

MOST WOMEN see themselves as second-class citizens in the business world, the commission reported, and that 'the negative self - image of women which hampers them in achieving success in business needs to be changed in the early teens.

The commission put forth 35 recommendations calling for action by schools, colleges, women's organizations, city planners, business and industry, foundations, hospitals and government.

The report also said that employers questioned cited traditions and precedents set by culture as blocks to greater use of women's talents in society.

THE SINGLE biggest problem of working mothers at all economic levels proved to be inadequate care of their children while they are on the job, the commission stated.

The 95-page report, which was the result of 15 months study, recommended the following:

1. Inclusion in the Fair Employment Practices Act of prohibition against discrimination based solely on the sex of the worker.

2. Coordination at state and local levels of public and private resources for child care services.

3. School counseling programs be expanded and more realistic counseling be given to girls and women.

4. Community college districts offer counseling classes for adults who need further education or retraining for employment.

5. Involvement in child care services by such groups as churches, hospitals, land developers and employers.

6. Cooperation from the state in providing child care for migrant agricultural workers' children.

7. California's weight lifting law be amended to provide protection for the health of the male as well as the female employee.

8. Information about labor laws affecting workers be given wider circulation.

Due to expire next month, the commission recommended that its work be continued. Chairman is Mrs. Betty Concannon of Atherton.

Copies of the report may be obtained from the Advisory Commission on the Status of Women, 1108 14th St., Suite 106, Sacramento.

FOR SUMMER HOLIDAYS

The tropics of Puerto Rico provide a green backdrop to display this fashion by Junior Sophisticates' designer Tom Nassare. It's white matte jersey with mini-bodice fastened in front with exaggerated gilt hooks and eyes. The skirt falls softly and freely for comfort on warm summer days.

Party Pants

Party pants threaten to put the party dress into mothballs. It seems almost everyone is wearing them, with wide culotte legs, either in solid shades or wild prints. At Harvey Berin's, designer Karen Stark also shows them with narrow legs, cuffed with jewels. Tops are like pullovers with high throats also jeweled.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Body Builder Loves Muscles More Than Having Dates

DEAR HELEN:

I am an ardent body builder and a sane health food fanatic. Weight lifting plays an important but not overly dominant role in my life. I often skip a valuable training session because college or my part-time job requires my attention. I've been working longer hours recently as my new car must be paid for.

As you can see, my activities leave me little time for girls. However, I met this real swinger — pretty, sexy, intelligent, funny and a good girl — and she agreed to wear my ring if we lasted for more than three months together.

I spent a fortune on her at the expense of my diet and exercise. Finally I realized my musculature was degenerating due to late hours and no athletic practice, so I went back to my hard training routine. This meant I could only see her once a week. She started dating other fellows.

A confrontation resulted. She accused me of having a narcissus complex with queer overtones, and I fought back by questioning her character because of her desire to see other men. That ended it. We never spoke to each other again.

Was I right or wrong? I simply cannot give up my body building. — MUSCLED BUT GIRL-LESS

DEAR M BUT G:

Perhaps you just chose the wrong girl. What you should look for: One who is pretty, sexy, intelligent, funny, good — and athletic. In other words, more bod than mod. Good luck in finding her. You'll need it. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

My girl friend is so innocent she thinks "Portnoy's Complaint" is a new kind of disease, and "Candy" was a best selling cookbook. What I mean is she won't accept the world as it is, but sees it as she wants it to be: Filled with good, wholesome, honest, honorable people; and those others are so few they don't count.

She forgets to lock her apartment door, and she goes out on dark streets at night. She strikes up conversations with just anybody, and brings home some pretty strange characters because they looked lonely or hungry.

Maybe she has a charmed life, for so far she hasn't been mugged or robbed. But how can I get through to her that trusting everybody is dangerous? When I show her newspaper stories about attacks and murders, she says, "Oh, that wouldn't happen to me!"

I want to marry the girl, and I'm therefore very interested in keeping her alive and well. How? — ENGAGED TO A LOVEABLE NUT

DEAR ETALN:

Amazing! An unfrightened person in this paranoid age! And isn't it a miserable thing that you must teach her fear for her own protection?

How? Perhaps she'll respond more to your worry than your scare talk. Ask that she take a few precautions — because you love her — H.

DEAR HELEN:

What do you do when the guy you like best would rather go out with the boys than out with you?—MISERABLE

DEAR MISERABLE:

Show him two can play that game. Go out with other boys until he gets the message — H.

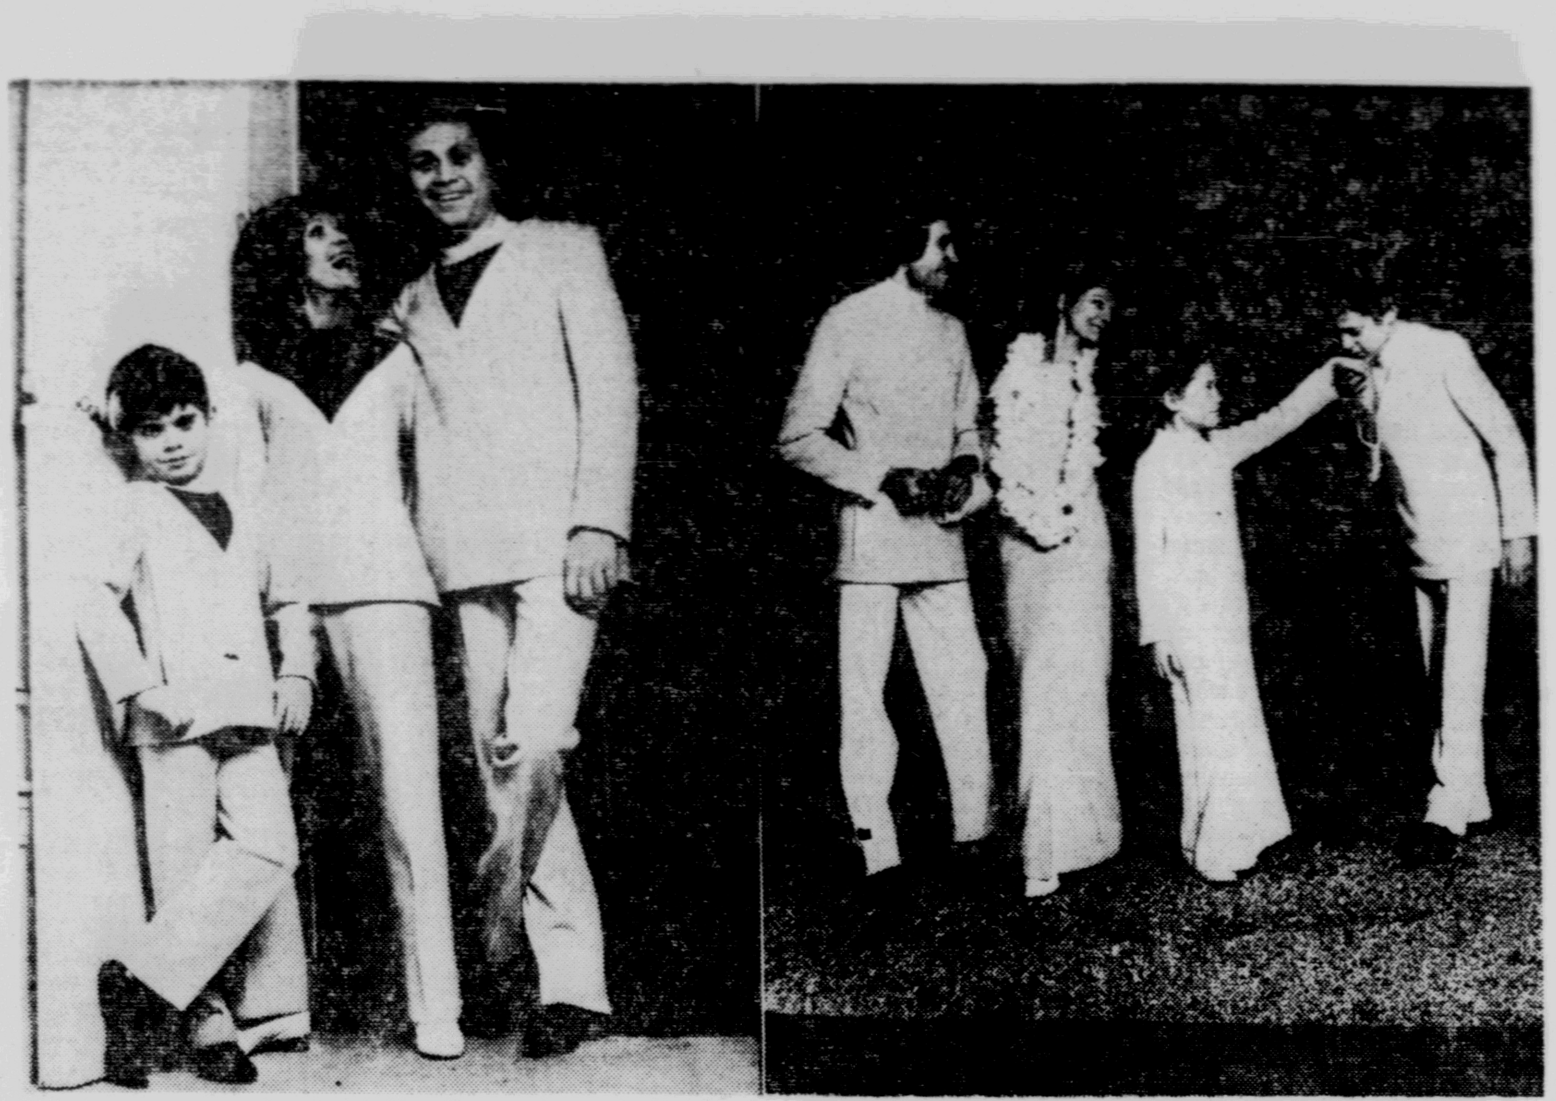
Single-Look Style For Whole Family

By JANE ROGERS
London Express



PARIS DESIGNER Jacques Esterel has designed the total look for the whole family, what he believes is to be the coming thing in fashion. At left is the daytime ensemble, tunic tops all around with matching flared trousers. At right, night time means long dresses for the women and jackets and trousers for the men, but all in a pastel jersey.

The ultimate in fashion togetherness has arrived. We've now gone one stage further than the one-sex look with the aid of French Couturier Jacques Esterel, who arrived in London with his new fashion idea of not simply one look for both men and women, but the same look for the whole family as well.

"We are going through a new way of life, a mutation," announced Mr. Esterel. "No longer are the sexes segregated. They do the same jobs, they drive the same cars, so why not wear the same clothes, and, while we are about it, let their children wear the same things as well."

TOGETHERNESS Esterel-style means that the whole family turned out in the same gear, usually immaculate jersey trousers with tunic tops all in exactly the same color scheme. The effect is curious.

If this is casual wear — and Mr. Esterel insists that it is — then it certainly has a very formal, Sunday-best air about it. There are his-and-hers pullover tops with a very natty cut about them worn over immaculate white shirts with an inch or so of cuff showing matching chain jewelry, matching trousers and, in one case, matching his and hers hairstyles too — longish bob that curls under, and a fringe. Add sunglasses in matching styles and unless he happens to sport a six o'clock shadow and needs a shave, you'd never tell which is which.

I liked the putty-colored trouser and top set which went with a toffee polo-neck sweater and white polo collar cut clerical style, but if I were wearing it, I wouldn't want to be up-staged by the men in my life, father and son, turning out in exactly the same style.

A good idea from this new Esterel range is the simple straight-hanging jersey top cut to match the trousers. It turns the whole outfit into a neat all-over look without the formality of a trouser suit.

IN THESE DAYS when women take over men's pullovers and jeans as a matter of course and many teen-age boys wear their sisters' skimpy sweaters is there anything so very new about one-sex clothes? Two London stores have opened Unisex departments recently and have been amazed to find that their entire stock was sold out almost immediately. But this is only true of casual wear — the day he wears a ball gown is a long long way off as far as I can see, though she will almost certainly turn up at a dance in a trouser suit next season.

What else did Esterel have to say? He's done a range of what he calls neo-classic dresses and coats cut on simple lines that are very similar to Courreges, but apart from these he is putting his money into knits — clothes made from heavy top-quality jersey which hang beautifully and are comfortable to wear. He has also designed some swinging accessories.

There's a two-tone lace up shoe, for instance, accompanying a matching bag with matching lacing on the flap. For girls who like leather he has some sports clothes including the best leather jerkins I've seen in a long time — they are made from reversed calf in white, trimmed with coffee brown, are sleeveless and fasten simply at the waist. And, needless to say, they are completely unisexual.

Take Care Of Sponges By Suitable Cleaning

Both natural and the synthetic sponges are useful in maintaining cleanliness in the home. Being aware of the kind and size of sponge for the best job and taking care of them after use is very important. Don't throw a sponge away because it's dirty. Clean it.

In buying synthetic sponges, try to buy them with reinforced edges. These sponges are usually oval in shape, will fit into the hand comfortably and will not ravel.

The natural sponge costs about five times more than the synthetic, but will give about five times more wear. Each has its uses and advantages. Each to give maximum use must have proper care.

A natural sponge may be more satisfactory than a synthetic sponge where heavy jobs are required. These jobs include washing down walls, ceilings and cars and windows. This is because the natural sponge has greater absorbency than the synthetic.

The synthetic sponge is particularly suited for washing desks, cleaning sinks, basins, mirrors, glass tops and washing down furniture. The large synthetic sponge with large pores is used for walls and ceilings.

Both types of sponges should be cleaned frequently. Natural sponges should be cleaned in a bucket of warm water to which two handfuls of sal soda have been added. Let soak and then squeeze to clean. This process not only cleans the sponge but gives it back its original resiliency and porosity. The synthetic sponge should be boiled or put into a washing machine with a detergent. No bleaching agent should be used with either type.

COST OF FIXING SLIDES: $35,000

Fairfax Council Seeks San Anselmo Aid To Repair Forrest Avenue Rain Damage

The slide which tore away part of Forrest Avenue in Fairfax last winter is actually two slides and it will cost a minimum of $35,000 to fix them properly, the city council learned last night.

"Boht slides will probably reactivate during heavy rainy winters and will progressively enlarge unless substantial preventive measures are taken," said Eugene A. Miller of Hardin, Miller an Associates as he outlined a soils engineeering report his firm did for the city.

The measures he recommended were construction of a series of reinforced concrete shear keys and a connecting grade beam; installation of surface and subsurface drainage, and replacement of the pavement.

Miller said the two adjoining slides total about 100 feet — 75 feet in Fairfax and 25 feet in San Anselmo. The council agreed to ask the San Anselmo City Council tonight if that city would pay for its share of work.

City Administrator Francis R. Lestanguet reported she has applied for state and federal funds for the project and estimated the city could recive $21,000 on a $35,000 project. (The $35,000 figure does not include engineering fees.)

Miller told the council actual construction will take about two months and other time is needed for preparation of plans and for bidding. He recommended starting the procedure no later than mid-June.

The council decided to wait until its June 9 meeting to get the project rolling, while Mrs. Lestanguet tries to find ways of financing the city's $14,000 minimum share.

In other businness, the council heard from Laurence G. Hermann, president of the Fairfax School District Board, on the tax increase election to be held next Tuesday.

Hermann outlined reasons the board is asking an increase in the tax rate of 95 cents per $100 assessed valuation and said Fairfax currently spends the least per child of any district in Marin

He said the board is estimating income on a 2 to 2.5 per cent increase in assessed valuation and promised if it is higher, not all of the tax increase would be levied.

Councilman Robert R. Souza predicted the increase in assessed valuation would increase by 3 to 5 per cent.

The council also approved and presented a resolution commending Leah Jarrett as senior citizen of Fairfax.

Four Sought On Warrants In Oakland

OAKLAND (UPI) — A municipal judge has ordered the arrests of four persons, including the national treasurer of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), in connection with a disturbance at a board of education meeting last week.

Municipal Judge William Levins issued the warrants yesterday after receiving signed complaints of school officials.

Among those named in the warrants were Elijah Turner, national treasurer of CORE, and Percy Moore, executive director of Oakland's Economic Development Council.

Turner was charged with disturbing the peace and interference with an officer. His bail was set at $625.

Charges of felony interference with police and battery upon a policeman were lodged against Moore. His bail was set at $5,000 on each count.

Warrants were also issued for Paul Cobb, chairman of the Black Caucas, and Alphonso Galloway who was charged with disturbing the peace. Cobb was accused of interferring with police and disturbing the peace.

The charges stem from scuffling and shouting matches which erupted during the board of education meeting when several persons rose to protest the hiring of Dr. James Mason as the district's new superintendent.

Newsmen Decry Hayakawa Action On Publications

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A committee of Bay Area newspapermen Monday criticized the methods used by Dr. S. I. Hayakawa in suspending all student publications at San Francisco State College last March.

The California Freedom of Information Committee of Sigma Delta Chi said the decision endangered freedom of opinion.

"To the extent that Dr. Hayakawa sought to suspend the student publications to alter their editorial content, he was wrong," the committee said.

The group, however, agreed with Hayakawa that "editorial control of the Daily Gater should be made more broadly representative of the student body which subsidizes it."

Scholarship To Petaluma Girl

Lucy Dechene, an 18-year-old senior at St. Vincent High School in Petaluma was among 19 students awarded $500 scholarships by the California Labor Federation, AFL-CIO, last week.

More than 1,100 students from throughout California took the competitive two-hour examination upon which the awards were based, the federation has reported.

Miss Dechene lives at 888 Bodega Avenue, Petaluma.

Billy Goat Park? Not For Fairfax

A few weeks ago, Fairfax Mayor Francis J. O'Connell causually suggested to an attorney that his client donate a troublesome piece of land to the city for a park.

Last night, to the amusement of the city council, Fairfax was formally offered the land — for $24,000 cash.

Toe property is four lots on the vacant hill on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, next to the Fairfax Nursery. For several months, James B. Johnson has tried unsuccessfully to have various plans approved for the land but most were turned down because there is no way to get to it.

"'It's the most inflated price I've ever heard," sputtered Councilman Adelaide P. Wilson. "If we'd like to condemn it and take it to court, I'm sure we could get it for one-fourth the price."

She pointed out that during one of is attempts to get the land rezoned, Johnson had sold off half of it between the planning commission meeting and the council meeting. The sale eliminated feasible access, she said.

She also commented on a letter from William R. Bremer, Johnson's attorney to whom O'Connell had jokingly made is suggestion.

The letter said, "I cannot help but note . . . it is the council's desire to maintain the land as open space and park area." Mrs. Wilson said the council has never discussed it though the matter came up at a planning commission meeting once.

Acting City Atty. Charles W. Pierce queried, "You're not contemplating keeping it as a park?"

"You'd have to be a billy goat to get up there," said Councilman Robert R. Souza.

The council authorized the city attorney to write Bremer and decline the offer.

Foundation Paid To Aid Coverage

WASHINGTON (AP) — The tax-exempt Albert and Mary Lasker Foundation contributed $3,000 in 1966 to promote news coverage of Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson's trip to Big Ben National Park, it was reported today.

The Washington Post quoted Mary Lasker admitting the foundation check "was for promotion of Mrs. Johnson." She explained: "I wanted her to take more people—more reporters—get a bigger play in the national press."

Mrs. Lasker said the check, listed by the foundation under "Civic and Miscellaneous Contributions," was given to Liz Carpenter, the former First Lady's press secretary.

Stockade Prisoner Capacity Decreased

FORT ORD (UPI)—The Army lowered the maximum prisoner capacity of the Presidio stockade in San Francisco from 141 to 103 following a sit-in last Oct. 14, according to the son of a former chief of the Secret Service.

First Lt. William Bulghman, assistant correctional officer at the stockade, made the admission yesterday under cross-examination by defense attorney Terence Hallinan who is defending 14 soldiers being court martialed for mutiny.

Baughman's father, U. E. Baughman, headed the Secret Service in the administrations of Truman, Eisenhower and until 1961, Kennedy.

Young Baughman and 2nd Lt. Charles Fox, security projects officer at the Presidio, were summoned as rebuttal witnesses for the Army in the trial of the 14 who were among 27 prisoners involved in the sit-down to protest alleged injustices at the stockade.

Baughman said the population of the prison ranged from 98 on Oct. 1, 1968 to 123 on Oct. 14, 1968 with the maximum set at 141 at the time. Since then, the officer testified, the Army has lowered the total to 103. Hallinan is trying to prove that the stockade was overcrowded at the time of the demonstration.

Fox testified Army Engineers were called to the stockade 27 times from last Aug. 1 to Oct. 14 and 11 of those calls concerned repairs of the latrines. He said prisoners caused about $1,000 worth of damage to stockade facilities during that period.

Since the Oct. 14 sit-down, approximately $56,000 has been spent on improvements and maintenance of stockade facilities, according to Fox. Of this amount, $23,000 has gone to remodeling the prison kitchen.

VOTE TOTALS

San Rafael High Runoff Vote Set

Rick Haenggi and Lee Harris will be in a runoff election tomorrow for next fall's San Rafael High School student body president.

Haenggi polled 216 votes to lead the field in election last Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday. Harris ran third with 177.

The second place candidate won't be in the runoff, however. Second place went to "Toad," a write-in promoted — with considerable success — as a protest against the form and functions of the student government. "Toad" got 199 votes.

Other candidates were Mitch Grandi, 117 votes, and Tony Salin, 36.

Announcement of vote totals, as in "real world" elections, was authorized for the first time by the student congress.

Lowell Widmer (224 votes) and Rick Scatena (214) will be in a runoff for student body vice president. Other candidates were Bebe Anderson, 125; Tony Vidal, 74, and Derek Taylor, 41.

Sue Davis (303 votes) and Kathy Zahn (173) are runoff candidates for secretary. Eliminated was Sue Scherini with 164.

Kim Bacharach was elected director of social affairs with 418 votes to 218 for Susan Lynn.

"Us," who got 325 votes, and "We Five," who got 206, will be in a runoff for yell leader group. "Gates" drew 184 votes.

Penalty Choice: Fine Or Jail

A 20-year-old San Rafael youth yesterday was given his choice of a $190 fine or 30 days in jail for marijuana possession.

Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court gave Harry T. Fendler until June 9 to make up his mind which penalty he wishes.

Fendler had earlier pleaded guilty to having marijuana with him when he was arrested Feb. 23 for shoplifting of two tape cartridges worth $13 from the Emporium. The shoplifting charge later was dismissed.

'SITTING ON A BOMB'

Ordeal Of A Vietnam War Widow

By BRUCE COLEMAN

The Vietnam war has left an attractive blonde San Anselmo woman without a husband, temporarily without a country, and — soon — she will be without a home.

"I have the constant feeling I'm sitting on a bomb," said Uta Bender.

"I don't know what will be next. First the death, then no plans, then I had to go and bring my husband's body to Germany."

She broke into tears. Then she whiped her eyes with a paper handkerchief and said, "I'm not a cry baby. But I feel so all alone."

Mrs. Bender's husband, Gernot, went to Vietnam Feb. 25 and was killed March 25.

"Everything is connected with March," Mrs. Bender, 30, declared. "We were married in March. He was born in March. He died in March. He got his citizenship in March. They told me of his death exactly on our 10th anniversary — the 28th day of March."

Mrs. Bender, mother of three — Arleen, 9, Clyde, 7, and Kevin, 5 — is looking for a home because her landlady wishes to move back into her house, which Mrs. Bender has rented up to June 15.

Mrs. Bender understands her landlady's wishes but hates to move because it will mean uprooting her family again. In addition, one of her sons gets very upset about moving, she says, and — at this time —moving only makes things more difficult.

A refuge from Latvia, Mrs. Bender was living in Germany when she met her husband who was stationed in Bamberg with the U.S. Army.

Bender, Brazilian-born, had come to the U.S. and one year later was drafted. Son of a German colonel, he had tried to get into West Point but was unsuccessful.

The Benders were married in 1959, stayed in Bamberg until 1963 during which time Arleen and Clyde were born. They moved to Georgia with the Army and after a year, were reassigned to Germany for three more years.

They came to San Anselmo in February 1967 when Bender was assigned as ROTC instructor at the University of San Francisco.

Mrs. Bender said she gets $350 a month from the Veterans Administration and social security but this is not enough for her to live on with the three children.

Last Thursday she found a job as a waitress and is now having trouble finding a baby sitter to match her split-shift working hours. Arleen is not old enough to watch the other children and, on the first night she worked the younger children wandered across town and weren't found until 9:30 p.m., Mrs. Bender explained.

She tried to return to college but found she couldn't attend college and also earn a living and care for the children.

"People are very nice," she said. "They try to help us . . . but I have no relations (relatives) in any way. I know people but most are so concentrated in their own lives and happy with their husbands on the weekends. And I don't know any single persons.

Mrs. Bender said she is to receive her American citizenship in about three months. Now a German, she concedes it would be easier to return to Germany but says "I know it is not the right choice."

She believes it is better to remain in America so the children will have better opportunities when they are grown.

She spoke of how unlucky her husband was, saying he tried to get into West Point and later an engineering school but failed. Then he was only 16 days in combat, she added.

"Sometimes I feel totally lost," Mrs. Bender said. But, brightening, she said, "The main thing is if I can just find a house for my children."

Sausalito Budget Drop Proposed

A 1969-70 budget of $1.252.220, a drop of $54.414 from current expenditures, has been proposed by Sausalito City Mgr. George M. Patterson for city council consideration at tonight's initial budget meeting.

The city's total property tax rate would remain at $1.315, Patterson's figures indicated.

The council wlll meet at 7:30 p.m. to start budget work. Seven budget meetings have been scheduled with adoption set for July 1.

In his budget message Patterson said the decrease comes from a cutback in capital improvement expenses, due to not having gas tax reserve funds or the sea wall fund, which was used this year in widening Bridgeway.

Any major capital improvements in the future, Patterson wrote, will not be possible without financing "over a period of years."

Patterson is recommending adding one and a half employees to the staff, and a 7½ per cent pay raise for all but four employees. One employee would get a 10 per cent raise and the other three 5 per cent.

Patterson predicted a total revenue for next year of $1,257,995, compared to the current estimate for this year of $1.170.743.

Dinner Set For 25-Year Priest

A dinner and reception for the Rt. Rev. Paul M. Flynn, director of St. Peter Chanel Seminary in San Rafael, celebrating the 25th anniversary of his ordination to priesthood, will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at Nero's restaurant in Ignacio.

To be honored at the dinner at Nero's restaurant are two seminary graduates, Dennis Steik, who will be ordained to the priesthood at St. Raphael's Church at 10 a.m. Saturday, believed to be the first such ceremony there, and Donald Exley, who will be ordained a deacon at the same time.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Nelson of Terra Linda are giving the dinner reception.

Tributes Planned For Memorial Day

Observances honoring war dead will be held Memorial Day in San Rafael, Fairfax, Petaluma and Cotati.

The traditional ceremony at the doughboy statue at the Marin County Courthouse in San Rafael, will begin at 10:30 a.m. Friday with a concert by the Fourth Air Force Band from Hamilton Air Force Base.

Chief Warrant Officer D. A. Grimes, a member of the staff of Naval Schools Command, 12th Naval District, Treasure Island, will be speaker.

There will be a massing of colors at 11 a.m. and placing of floral tributes with the 23rd Company, Marin's Marine Corps Reserve unit, providing the color guard and firing squad.

Services will be held at the Honor Roll Grove, adjoining the Fairfax City Hall on Bolinas Avenue at 1:30 p.m.

Supervisor Peter J. Arrigoni Jr. will be the speaker and Mrs. Connie Rose, a Gold Star mother, will present the memorial wreath.

Members of Boy Scout troops and Cub Packs will present the colors, and various veteran, service, youth and fraternal groups will place flowers.

Rev. Rowland Chandler, pastor of Christ the Victor Lutheran Church, Fairfax, will give the invocation and Rev. Kirwin Murray of St. Rita's Catholic Church, Fairfax, will give the benediction.

Fairfax Mayor Francis J. O'Connell will give the welcome and a bugler from Hamilton Air Force Base will play taps. The services are sponsored by the Fairfax Senior Association.

Memorial day observances will be held in Petaluma at 1 p.m. at Walnut Park. A Vietnam war memorial plaque with the names of Petaluma area war dead will be presented to the city by the Petaluma Youth to Youth organization.

Cotati veterans' groups will have their regular Memorial Day observance at 10 a.m. at the Cotati Veterans Memorial Building.

Rohnert Park will open both city swimming pools free to residents.

The Marin County Civic Center will be closed as will post offices, municipal offices, the courts and most businesses.

Girl's Condition Reported Fair In Car Accident

Linda Marks, 14, of Santa Venetia was reported in fair condition today in the intensive care unit of Marin General Hospital where she was taken following an accident Sunday evening.

She was a passenger in a car driven by Shannon Royal Scott, 17, of 3 River Oaks Drive, San Rafael. (Shannon is a boy, not a girl as reported yesterday in the Independent-Journal.)

He was driving Miss Marks home before going to a reception for his father, Rev. T. Royal Scott, who has been transferred from the First Prebyterian Church of San Rafael to a Presbyterian church in Los Gatos.

Young Scott was hospitalized with cuts and brusises on his head and was released yesterday. Miss Marks suffered a head injury, cut jaw and cut right knee.

Recorders Taken

Burglars entered the Manzanita pre-school building in Marin City during the weekend and stole three tape recorders valued at $200, sheriff's deputies reported today. There was no sign of forced entry, deputies said, and there may have been an unlocked door or window which allowed access.

Boys Nabbed On Stolen Credit Card

A San Rafael policeman, who had stopped at a restaurant for a soda, wound up arresting three youths yesterday in connection with alleged possession of a stolen credit card.

When he entered the Griddle Restaurant on Fourth Street for a break period yesterday, Officer Scott Nelson was told by restaurant owner Cal K. Brown that a youth later identified as Arvord Leigh Clementz, 16, of 973 Las Pavadas Avenue, San Rafael, had just attempted to pay for food with a credit card that Brown had ckecked and found to be stolen.

Clementz reportedly told Nelson he and a friend, identified as Danny Lynn Allan, 13, of 512 Tamarack Drive, San Rafael, had found the card earlier on Los Gamos Road in Terra Linda. The card was among those reported stolen during the weekend from the auto of Margaret D. Herzer of 1052 Los Gamos Road.

Clementz, Allen and Allen's brother, Dennis Lynn, also 13, were booked at Juvenile Hall on suspicion of possession of stolen property. Clementz also was booked for investigation of forgery as a result of alleged purchase of items with the stolen card from a sporting goods store.

Youth Sentenced For Theft Try

Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court yesterday sentenced Mark Jefferson Lee, 20, of San Rafael to 90 days in the county jail for the attempted burglary of the Greenbrae Pet Hospital on Nov. 3.

Lee was also placed on six months probation and ordered to submit to periodic tests to determine if he is using drugs.

The youth was also due to be sentenced today in municipal court for shoplifting and being under the influence of drugs.

TWO CHIEFS

Corte Madera Splits Fire, Police Posts

The Town of Corte Madera — which has had a combination police and fire chief since 1943 — will have separate chief positions starting July 1.

The Town Council agreed in a budget session last night to name Police and Fire Chief Frank L. Neson as Town Fire Chief.Sp Police Lt. David L. McIntosh was named chief of police.

The action moves the town into the traditional type of emergency service program and away from the public safety team approach recommended twice by Town Mgr. Ronald L. Usher but turned down by councilmen. The traditional approach has also been strongly supported by the Corte Madera Chamber of Commerce.

Both men were in the audience, the recommendation of Lt. McIntosh as police chief by Mayor Edward W. Colthurst coming as a surprise to McIntosh.

"I'm kind of shocked," he said, then added, "I'll do the best I can. I'm really happy about it."

Nelson was appointed police chief almost 26 years ago along with the job of tax collector, then immediately elected chief of the volunteer fire department. Ten years ago he was named part-time fire chief but has actually held both jobs since 1943. "There's not too many two-headed monsters left," he said jokingly today.

Now making $14.676 in the combined position, the fire chief will be paid $16.104. Nelson is married and the father of four children.

McIntosh came to the police department as a patrolman about 14 years ago. He is married, with two children. Now receiving $1,023 per month, he will be paid $1,048.

The council also agreed to hire four mcre policement at a total of $28.168 and to replace Inspector Harold Hockett who has become Lakeport Police Chief. The replacement will receive $10,860. It agreed to add one fireman at $8,316.

The council tentatively approved a $191.444 police budget and a $97,319 fire budget for 1969-70.

Salaries total $161.754 in the police budget; materials supplies and services, $21,195 and capital outlay, $8,495. The budget would include a $3,000 for a replacement for one police patrol car and $4,000 for a new unit.

Proposed in the fire budget is a high pressure fire unit estimated at between $10,000 and $12,000, and $5,720 for a new fire main in the Christmas Tree Hill area. Total capital outlay is estimated at $20,430.

Further discussion will be held on proposed police and fire vehicles at the council's next regular meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday. At that time the council will also consider the 1969-70 budgets of the sanitary district, retirement and reserves.

Councilmen agreed that efforts should be made to look for good personnel to fill the new positions, saying they are particularly interested in lateral transfers and in candidates with post training. Those with post training can be hired at a higher salary, said Councilman Robert P. Simmons.

Mike Ingerman, representing the chamber of commerce, raised the question of whether the paid fire chief should be in charge of all equipment at all times or if it should be under direction of the town manager. Usher said his job description is "grossly inadequate" and Mayor Colthurst said the council would look into analyzing job descriptions.

The council voted to spend $2,730 to overlay Echo Avenue and a portion of Yolo Street in Marina Village.

Supervisor's Trip Cloaked In Secrecy

Supervisors Chairman John F. McInnis is on a hush-hush trip on "county business" but none of the county officials including Administrator Alan Bruce will disclose where he went or why.

Supervisor William A. Gnoss served as chairman today in the absence of McInnis. Gnoss said he did not talk directly with McInnis but heard from Asst. Administrator John F. Barrows that the chairman went "back East."

"I understand he went to Washington, D.C., probably concerning Point Reyes," Gnoss said.

Other officials at Civic Center speculated the trip may have something to do with the Tamalpais Creek problem.

Bruce said McInnis's trip will presumably be paid for by the county, but a claim for expenses for the trip had not been turned in to the county auditor as of this morning.

Freshman Supervisor Louis H. Baar went to Washington May 12 to testify before a House subcommittee on the need to acquire seashore land. Rancher Boyd Stewart and County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney aslo testified. The cost for the three came to $1,450, which was appropriated by the supervisors last week.

Library Board Adds Item To Budget

The San Rafael Library Board last night voted to add approximately $2,000 to its budget request for fiscal 1969 for converting a basement store room at the library into an addition to the children's department. The action was on motion of trustee Harold H. Fulkerson.

The board also authorized librarian Vivian Smith to procure a new card stamping machine which will entail replacement of present library cards with slightly different type.

Limited Personnel Group Role Detailed

The progress of collective bargaining between the county and various employee groups is gradually limiting the role of the Marin County Personnel Commission, County Administrator Alan Bruce declared this morning at a workshop of the supervisors and personnel commissioners.

"It is quite clear that the primary purpose of the commission is going to be that of a neutral, impartial, almost quasi-judicial body," said Bruce. Its role would be to hear appeals in cases of dismissals, suspensions and grievences, said Bruce.

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney said the concept of the personnel commission is in conflict with the concept of collective bargaining.

The role of the commission and extent of its authority was one of the primary questions raised by the commission his morning.

Commissioner A. Bruce McKenzie pointed out that rules worked out by personnel commission can be superceded by collective bargaining agreements.

If each bargaining unit can come up with different agreements, McKenzie said, then different rules will apply to different county employees.

Bella Aaron, chairman of the personnel commission, said she realizes collective bargaining is completely outside the scope of the commission, and she will attempt to keep the commission neutral.

Commissioners also asked for funds to permit commissioners to attend personnel conferences to keep abreast of developments, and consideration of a change in county examination procedure to make allowances for disadvantaged groups to pass job examinations for county employment.

Supervisors took the requests under consideration.

Parents Tell Lagunitas Board Of Bus Need

A group of parents living on Arroyo Road in Forest Knolls asked the Lagunitas School District board last night to reinstate school bus service to their street.

Supt. Masrhall J. McCunniff said the parents complained of high speed traffic on the narrow street and said their children had to pass a residence occupied by what the parents called undesirables who "swim in the nude."

McCunniff said the board took no action on the parents' request pending annual review this summer of the district bus schedule. McCunniff said bus service to Arroyo Road was eliminated this year and restricted largely to the Sir Francis Drake Boulevard area because of class scheduling problems.

The board also heard reports from McCunniff and staff members, Francine Blub, Sarah Napier, Lee DiVincenzo and Patsy Barnes on the statue of various district programs run with state and federal funds.

Fair-Marin To Open Office

Fair-Marin, which will operate the 80-acre fairgrounds at the Civic Center, will open its office at Northgate Industrial Park next Monday, president Harold Stockstad announced last night.

Stockstad said the office at 45 Mitchel Boulevard will be hhe headqarters for Leon Kalimos, manager of Fair-Marin, and a secretray, Mrs. Anna Johnson of Fairfax. The office will be moved into the new Veterans Memorial Auditorium when the building is completed later this year.

Next meeting of Fair-Marin will be a quarterly membership meeting of all member organizations at 8 p.m. next Monday in Room 400 of the Civic Center.

Beatle Lennon Off Marijuana

MONTREAL (AP) — Beatle John Lennon, recently convicted of possessing marijuana, says he's through with the stuff because it "interferes with my mind."

"I don't regret anything I've done," he told newsmen. "It's just that I get my best high now on brown rice." Rice with the hulls on is brown.

Lennon and his wife, Yoko, were granted a 10-day stay in Canada by immigration officials yesterday and a hearing was begun in Toronto to weigh their request for a longer stay. The marijuana conviction was the issue.

Mr. and Mrs. Lennon plan a one week "lie-in" demonstration for peace while awaiting the verdict.

According to a survery by manufacturers of solid glass bricks, the New York City school system paid $1,013,560 to various manufacturers to replace 202,712 broken windows during 1968.

Board Scans Budget For Next Year

The Novato Unified School District board last night surveyed the $9,226,917 preliminary budget for fiscal 1969-70 but left it intact for future study sessions before adoption in August, reported Supt. James G. Bunker.

The trustees agreed to make some changes in the format of the final budget, with special programs, such as the mentally retarded program, to be segregated to show their cost separately, Bunker said.

Wayne Sartain, chairman of the Citizens Finance Advisory Committee, persented the final report from that committee.

The report said the committee realized the district had a low assessed valuation and that the main source of funds must come from the state and federal governments.

The committee said if that portion of the Unruh Bill giving school districts unlimited taxing power remains in effect in 1971, it recommended that an increase in the school tax not be made without a vote of the people.

The report also urged lowering of class size, better flow of information between the school and home, formation of citizens committees to aid parents in their relations with the schools, and allotment of time for citizens to speak at school board meetings.

Cliff Climber Suffers Injuries

A 20-year-old Lodi youth was rescued late yetserday afternoon after he tumbled down a cliff at Point Reyes National Seashore.

The youth, David Riggle, suffered multiple cuts, bruises and scrapes and a broken finger and was taken to his personal physician in Berkeley by friends, Chief Ranger Philip Ward reported.

Ward said the youth was attempting to climb a cliff just south of the end of Bear Valley Trail when he slipped and rolled 100 or 150 feet.

He was brought up the cliff by a team of park rangers and Marin County firemen.

Kentfield Specialist In Reading Dropped

The district reading specialist was dropped last night by Kentfield School District trustees in an attempt to whittle the 1969-70 budget.

The board also cut two teacher aides from the budget, reduced the summer employees by two and cut capital outlay expenditures by $37,000 and maintenance by about $6,000, Supt. Anthony G. Bacich reported.

Reading specialist Jane Gates has actually been reassigned as a teacher but her former position will not be filled, Bacich said.

Trustees are concerned about having to lower the reserve balance to between $25,000 to $40,000, the superintednent reported. Expenditures for 1969-70 are being budgeted at $1,321,171 as compared to the current budget of $1,412,000. Income, projected at $1,346,000 for 1969-70, was $1,412,000 in the current year, Bacich said.

Burglary insurance was approved for a three-year period at a cost of $1,545, a jump of 100 per cent and "a phenomenon in all school districts," the superintendent added.

Trustees, who adjourned at 2 a.m. today, plan to discuss the budget again at the next regular meeting June 9.

The Kentfield School Trustees Also:

CONFERENCE— Heard that 92 per cent of the 12 to 15 per cent of the parents who returned a conference evaluation sheet to the district favor parent conferencing with teachers to the grading system.

NEW PRINCIPAL — Named Warren English as principal of Adaline E. Kent School for grades K through six. English was formerly vice princiapl.

Greyhound Asks Fare Increases

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — California's Public Utilities Commission is considering a request from Western Greyhound Lines for a 10 per cent increase in long distance bus fares.

At a hearing yesterday, the commission heard a recommendation from its staff that the increase be granted.

If the increase is approved, Greyhound would realize a 6.9 per cent rate of return on its investment, the staff said. It noted that previously a 7 per cent return was considered reasonable by the commission.

In June 1967 Greyhound passengers traveled 1.8 billion miles, compared to 1.68 billion last December.

Girl Arraigned In Assault Case

Patricia Ann Fusiliereia, 18, of Marin City, yesterday was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court on two counts of assault with a deadly weapon stemming from the stabbing of a supermarket employee Friday.

Miss Fusiliereia is accused of attacking both the employee with whom she got into an argument while standing in a check-out line and a man she actually hit with a five-inch hunting knife.

Thomas Bernier of San Francisco who stepped between the two women was treated for a shoulder stab wound.

Miss Fusiliereia's case was continued until today for entry of plea.

North Marin Ranch Hit By Vandals

The owner of a North Marin ranch who had objected to a rifle range in the area last Monday reported to sheriff's deputies that his property was extensively damaged sometime between Wednesday and Saturday.

Ben Rothbard, who owns a 44-acre ranch at Alexander and Two Rocks roads opposed plans for a rifle range on the William Souza ranch on Alexander Road before the Marin County Planning Commission.

Rothbard told deputies he couldn't see any reason for the damage to the ranch except as retaliation for his stand against the rifle range.

Deputies said pickets were removed from the fence leading to the main gate, the gate damaged, a milk house door and windows broken, two doors broken at the main barn and a third door removed, a wall removed from a chicken house, porch railing torn down, doors broken and walls damaged at an unoccupied old house on the ranch.

Rothbard told the Independent-Journal that people are using Nazi tactics and terrorism and vandalism. He told deputies he has owned the ranch for six years and hadn't previously had any trouble.

Castro Reports Bad News On Sugar Crop

HAVANA (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro admitted last night that Cuba's 1969 sugar harvest would fall far short of its goal and described it as "the agony of the country."

In a broadcast speech lasting nearly two hours, Castro blamed the disappointing harvest on equipment and personnel problems.

In Japan only one out of every 25 people owns an automobile.

Zelinsky Loses Drive For Village Zoning

Tiburon developer Fred G. Zelinsky's request to gain less restrictive zoning for the bulk of his downtown holdings was denied 4-0 last night by the Tiburon City Council.

Councilman Thomas E. Drohan was absent.

Zelinsky asked the council to change his property between Main Street, Tiburon Boulevard and Beach Road from planned development to village commercial.

He said the planned development zone, now covering the entire downtown area, was meant to apply to undeveloped property and, as a result, it overly restricted his remodeling attempts.

He argued he would be required to submit a master plan for the entire area plus precise plans for such minor jobs as painting a building.

Failure to rezone would mean "another delay and I've been delayed for the past two years on developing my property," Zelinsky said.

"All I want to do is continue my plan for Main Street," he told the council. "I'm not a professional developer; I don't know what to do."

Planning Director Wayne E. Moody noted that under the planned development ordinance, Zelinsky would need to submit a master plan for all his properties only once and then submit precise plans for each individual project. The village commercial zone requires only design review, he said.

Moody also noted that village commercial would allow 80 per cent lot coverage; the existing zone limits coverage to 40 per cent.

Councilman William R. Bremer argued that the city should not give up the controls built into the planned development zone.

The planning commission had also recommended denial.

The Tiburon City Council Also:

REZONING — Approved first reading of an ordinance to rezone 53 acres from Hacienda Drive to Gilmartin Drive, owned by Stephen Heller and James C. Reisinger, from one-acre residential zoning to a planned residential zone allowing two dwellings per acre and referred the application to the council's lands and development committee for study on how to limit the density to the lower figure.

SHAPERO — Adopted an ordinance rezoning 26 acres between Trestle Glen Boulevard and Hacienda and Porto Marino drives, owned by City Treasurer Samuel M. Shapero, from park to planned residential zone one a 3-1 vote with Councilman Anne L. Ellinwood dissenting.

STOP SIGNS — Ordered two stop signs for Hilary Drive at Teresa Court and between 662 and 664 Hilary Drive and asked further study to see if a stop sign is needed at Mara Vista Court to protect children playing in the area.

PARKING — Established a 24-minute parking zone on Tiburon Boulevard from Juanita Lane to a point just past Varney's Hardware and an hour parking zone from the end of the 24 minute zone to Beach Road.

STREETS — Awarded a street maintenance contract to W. K. McLellan and Co. at a low bid of $13,796, just $106 above the city engineer's estimate.

ANNIVERSARY — Named John C. Hoffmire and Elva Pask co-chairmen of a committee to organize a fifth anniversary celebration for the city June 24.

MAYOR — Named Bremer to serve as acting mayor while Mayor Branwell D. Fanning and Vice Mayor Denis T. Rice are both out of town next month.

SALARIES — Adopted an emergency ordinance rescheduling the deadline for the annual salary schedule review from June 15 to the middle of July on a 3-1 vote with Miss Ellinwood dissenting.

ADJOURNMENT — Adjourned to 8 p.m. June 9 in city hall.

Among the most primitive of fish are the sharks, which have slits instead of movable gill coverings, cartilage skeletons rather than bone and a tough skin dotted with tiny denticles.

Reagan Praised, Hit On Unrest

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Two prominent Republicans praised Gov. Ronald Reagan yesterday for taking a firm stand on campus unrest, but a leading California Democrat criticized the governor for failing to keep his promise to end it.

Sen. Paul Fannin of Arizona said he would favor any legislation for "preventative measures" in dealing with campus problems. He said use of National Guardsmen and police was an example in that "in the long run the students know they will be dealt with."

Rep. Barry Goldwater Jr. of California agreed, commenting, "I buy the Reagan approach that a firm hand is needed."

However, Democrat Roger Boas said one of his responsibilities as state party chairman was "to assess the performance of the chief executive in our state," and that campus conditions are worse than when Reagan took office.

Petaluman Accused In Shoplift Case

Sonja F. Porter, a Petaluma housewife living at 829 East Washington Street, was arrested yesterday on suspicion of shoplifting $6.66 worth of merchandise from Carl's Market in Petaluma, police said.

She was free on $625 bail pending a court appearance at 1:30 p.m. June 9.

Building Code Inspection Stirs Council Criticism

Tiburon City Councilman Anne L. Ellinwood last night criticized the city's building inspector after hearing complaints of inspection errors during an appeal hearing.

Miss Ellinwood said she was "appalled beyond belief that this should happen" and that the council should "fix the blame" after hearing Lawrence H. Stotter say that "perhaps up to a dozen building code violations" exist in the house he recently purchased at 2244 Vistazo East Street.

"How were you ever issued an occupancy permit?" Miss Ellinwood asked Stotter.

"I don't know," he replied, explaining that the home was constructed by Alfred Birich, a developer, and he (Stotter) had presumed all requirements, including adequate building inspection, previously had been taken care of.

"There was no indication to me that there was anything wrong until the city called my wife and said there might be some problem about a variance.

Mrs. Stotter then called him, Councilman Denis T. Rice reported, to ask if she should be concerned about the variance— since such details were Birich's responsibility.

Said Rice: "I didn't know anything about it and said, 'Don't worry Ruth, it's nothing.' Little did I know the bad advice I was giving."

Stotter went to the council to appeal a denial of a variance request by the board of adjustments. He sought to retain a deck which presently encroaches into the side yard setback.

However, Stotter said, after he had moved in he gradually was informed by City Development Administrator Phil V. Scott that other errors existed in the home.

"I saw that house," Miss Ellinwood interjected. "The building code violations in it are unbelievable. How it could ever have been completed without someone doing something is beyond me. This is a serious example of ineptitude."

Miss Ellinwood also noted that during construction, neighbors had notified the city several times about errors in calculating property lines and in building placement, but that the staff had taken no action.

Stotter indicated he would file a civil suit against private parties concerned but asked the council to take no action on his appeal until he could determine what would be his best course of action to remedy the entire problem. The council agreed.

Mayor Branwell D. Fanning then asked City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose to prepare a report on the entire incident for council review "since serious charges have been levied in public against a city employee."

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Pioneer Surgeons Need Courage To Attempt Untested Operations

VAN DELLEN

Surgeons do not establish enviable reputations on the basis of a high death rate. It took a tremendous amount of courage to be the first to operate on the heart, transplant an organ, or remove part of the lung. New techniques come about after considerable research on laboratory animals. Should the procedure fail, the surgeon must also face the criticism of his colleagues and family especially when the patient dies.

BACK IN 1902, Sir Lauder Brunton, a top British surgeon, suggested a way to mechanically enlarge a narrowed, scarred heart valve. His reward was a scathing attack by the editor of The Lancet, and, as a result, he never tried it again.

In 1925, Dr. H. S. Souttar did the operation as suggested by Sir Brunton, and the procedure was successful. This took great courage because there were none of the advances in anesthesiology and chest surgery as are known today.

He was criticized and never repeated the operation because he was unable to get another case.

Some of Dr. Souttar's colleagues declared the procedure "nonsense" and unjustifiable. They said this, despite the fact that the operation was being done on persons who could not live with the heart defect. Although courageous enough to do the operation, he was unable to sustain his courage in the face of the opposition.

IN 1948, Dr. Charles P. Bailey devised a special knife to cut and widen the narrowed valve. The knife which fitted his finger was inserted into the heart via a small opening. He attempted the operation three times, in three different Philadelphia hospitals. All attempts failed. Furthermore, he was denied the use of facilities in these institutions.

Two hospitals still allowed him the right to operate, but he knew that another failure would be the end. Dr. Bailey summoned enough courage to schedule two operations on the same day, one in each of these hospitals.

The first failed, and he ran to the next hospital before they got the news. His fifth operation was successful, and a new era of cardiac surgery began. If Souttar had had the courage of Bailey, cardiac surgery might have been advanced 23 years.

Today heart surgery is routine, the organ is opened in the operating room and a plastic, ball-like valve is substituted for the scarred structure.

(Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

THE LATE ARRIVAL

Mrs. L. D. writes: My son was at least three weeks late when he was born. Could this delay have caused the thyroid deficiency with which he was born?

REPLY

No. Hypothyroidism at birth usually is due to a development defect that often leads to cretinism. In some instances, lack of iodine is responsible.

STOPPER FOR BURPS

L. C. writes: What is the best way to stop belching attacks?

REPLY

Stop swallowing air and stop burping. Relief may be obtained by taking an antacid or a carbonated beverage, such as ginger ale. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on air swallowing.

TELLTALE SWELLINGS

L. G. writes: Does a healthy infant with enlarged lymph glands in the neck need treatment?

REPLY

This depends upon the cause. These swellings stem from a variety of disorders ranging from the residuals of a cold to infectious mononucleosis.

CANCER DETECTION

A. H. writes: How can a person be sure he does not have cancer of the lung or throat?

REPLY

He can't, unless he is examined. Cancer of the throat usually is visible when the mouth and throat are examined. As a rule, a malignancy of the lung is detected initially via a chest X-ray. When a suspicious shadow is seen, additional studies may be necessary, including a bronchoscopic examination.

GIRL ESCAPES

Mrs. L. K. writes: My 13-year-old daughter has never caught measles, chickenpox, or other childhood diseases, even though she has been exposed. Isn't this an unusual situation?

REPLY

Yes, especially if she escaped measles, which is highly contagious. Children who seem to have a natural immunity to communicable diseases often contract them later in life, when they least expect them.

CAN'T WALK AT NEARLY 2

J. E. C. writes: My daughter, who is 23 months old, isn't walking yet. A girl friend told me it is because the soft spot in her head hasn't closed. Could this be true? The doctor told me my little girl's joints are growing very slowly.

REPLY

Stop listening to your coffee-clatch medico and get some expert advice.

DEVIL-GREEN FACES

W. T. writes: Since my heart attack, whenever I walk into the subway station, all faces seem to have a devil-green color. Can you explain this occurrence?

REPLY

Blame it on the fluorescent lighting, not your heart.

Purse Snatcher Gets 30 Days

Judge Harold H. Haley of Marin Superior Court yesterday sentenced Gary Robert Saxton, 21, of San Anselmo to 30 days in jail for purse snatching.

Saxton had earlier pleaded guilty to taking a woman's purse Jan. 28 in a Corte Madera Store.

Judge Haley also declared the offense a misdemeanor, placed Saxton on two years probation and ordered him to make restitution to the victim. He stayed Saxton's sentence for 90 days.

Programs On Hunger Win TV Awards

NEW YORK (UPI)—Programs on hunger in the United States broadcast by the NBC and CBS television networks were among winners of 1968-69 news and documentary awards announced yesterday by the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences.

Awards in categories other than news will be announced during the annual Emmy awards telecast on June 8. The 14 news and documentary award winners were selected from 145 entries by judges from the fields of print journalism, public affairs and journalism education.

CBS was cited for its CBS Reports documentary "Hunger in America," which was criticized by some congressmen who called it distorting.

The NBC award was for coverage of the hunger controversy in its regular evening Huntley-Brinkley news program. The academy listed seven special reports on hunger broadcast on the Huntley-Brinkley program.

CBS captured 10 of the awards announced yesterday, while NBC won three and one went to the Public Broadcast Laboratory on National Educational Television.

Airman Caught In C47 Cockpit

WASHINGTON (UPI) —An off-duty mechanic at Andrews Air Force Base was caught at the controls of a two-engine transport plane about dawn Sunday in what could have been a takeoff attempt, the Air Force said yesterday.

A base spokesman said that S. Sgt. Lewis Greenstone, 33, of Tonalea, Ariz., was found at 5:10 a.m. by a maintenance duty officer sitting in the cockpit with both engines of the C47 running. The plane was stationary but both wheel chocks have been removed as if the aircraft had been readied for takeoff.

Greenstone, a C47 crew chief, was confined to the base hospital for observation, the spokesman said, while officials investigated circumstances of the incident.

Mill Valley Council Wrestles Budget; Tax Rate May Hit $2.55

Mill Valley City Council last night pushed the city's proposed $2.1 million budget up about $18,000, bringing the estimated tax rate to $2.55 per $100 assessed valuation.

City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer estimated the tax rate after councilmen made a series of additions and deletions during a three-hour session.

The current tax rate is $2.31 and Balmer had submitted a revised budget of $2,098,767, carrying an estimated tax rate of $2.47.

Councilmen hiked the budget last Tuesday by setting aside $9,000 more for salary hikes than Balmer had earmarked and last night they restored some of cuts he had recommended.

The biggest slash came when the council cut $6,000 from the retirement system budget and put it in the golf course budget, where it would be covered by golf course revenue.

The council didn't take up the question of granting salary raises, but made a move to meet the demand for two new tennis courts at Boyle Park.

They voted 3-2 to place $5,000 in the contingency fund with the provision that it would be used for the courts if tennis enthusiasts raised the balance for the new courts, about $15,000.

Councilman Robert H. Andresen and Rodric L. Robinson dissented, saying they weren't objecting to the courts as such, but to the procedure.

Councilmen agreed with Balmer's recommendation to eliminate two proposed new firemen, but agreed that a lieutenant in the fire department be promoted to captain.

They deleted $32,000 for a new fire engine, but agreed that it could be ordered during 1969-70, and payment would be in future budgets.

Councilmen deleted a proposed new maintenance man II, who would have worked part time in the street department manning the sweeper and part time in the sanitation department clearing sewer lines.

They approved a new position for the corporation yard, a part-time maintenance man to service the city's vehicles, at a cost of $1,320 for the year.

Councilmen made increases in the equipment replacement budget when they approved $11,500 to replace the street department's loader, and $2,100 to replace a tilt trailer, items which had been recommended for deletion.

In the corporation yard budget, they approved $1,990 for an engine analyzer, which also had been slated for deletion.

At the plea of Recreation Director Don Dimitratos they included $966 in the recreation budget to provide a summer program at Sycamore Park.

Dimitratos also protested that placing the $6,000 retirement cost in the golf course budget, would cut off funds for planned improvements.

When fees were raised in January golfers went along believing improvements would be made, Dimitratos said.

When councilmen got to the capital improvements budget, they added $3,000 for greens improvement.

The also added $2,000 for restrooms at the course and $2,000 for restrooms in the park improvements category by a 3-2 vote with Councilmen George E. Wickham and Jerome C. Hauke dissenting.

Councilmen agreed to tackle the capital improvements budget, revised downward by Balmer from $768,000 to $467,000, at the close of its next regular council sesssion at 8 p.m. Monday at City Hall.

Mayor Dean N. Meyer said the council would meet in closed session at 7:30 p.m. with City Atty. Leland H. Jordan to discuss litigation concerning the city's proposed yacht harbor.

During the session Stanley M. Bala, city engineer, warned that the city's sewer lines are getting old, and infiltration of storm water is a serious problem.

Bypassed was the proposed library budget of $144,065. Balmer suggested postponement until the Marin County Board of Supervisors acts on a proposal to allocate $40,856 to help pay the cost of serving users from outside Mill Valley.

Hearings Slated In Police Killing

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Superior Court Judge Joseph Karesh has set June 6 for a preliminary hearing for five of six youths charged in the slaying of police officer Joseph Brodnik.

The case of the sixth defendant yesterday was delayed indefinitely to determine whether he should be tried as a juvenile. The suspect, Jose Rios, was 17 at the time of the shooting.

The officer was killed and his partner, Paul McGoran, beaten while checking a suspected robbery in the Mission district.

The five other defendants are Rodolfo Martinez, 20; his brother Jose, 19; Nelson Rodriquez, 19; Jose Melendez, 18, and Gary Escallet, 18. A seventh suspect, George Lopez, 19, is still being sought.

Moss Will Speak On Social Studies

Dr. Penrod Moss, Dixie School District assistant superintendent of curriculum, will speak on new social studies in California elementary schools at a meeting of the Marin County Substitute Teachers' Association at 3:45 p.m., Thursday.

Election of 1969-70 officers will be held prior to the talk at the meeting at Don Timoteo School, San Rafael, Ruth Scott, publicity chairman, reported.

Heart Patient's Luxury House

CAPE TOWN (London Express) — Dr. Philip Blaiberg, the world's longest surviving heart transplantee, is moving into a new luxury home in Cape Town.

In spite of his ailing condition, Blaiberg, who turned 60 last week, spent yesterday packing in preparation for the move. He would not comment on reports that the house was bought with money made as a result of the heart transplant.

The $41,200 home in the plush Cape Town suburb of Newlands is something Blaiberg has always wanted. He admits he could not afford such a luxury before the transplant.

Remember, if you have any questions, just complete the coupon below. IF WE USE YOUR QUESTION, YOU WILL RECEIVE A TWO-DOLLAR MERCHANDISE ORDER FOR ANY CO-OP LABEL PRODUCTS.

Attention . . . Mrs. Clean!

The latest of washday "miracles" . . . enzyme products . . . can get rid of stubborn stains, as the ads say, but pre soaking clothes with ordinary detergents can do "as good a job on most stains," according to Consumers Union. The product testing organization concluded that enzyme products did better on blood and gravy stains, but detergents did just as well on stains involving spaghetti sauce, grass, syrup, coffee and tea after soaking. Neither enzyme nor products did very well with mustard stains. (How do YOU remove mustard stains?) Pre soaking, says CU, is a "terrific idea," but you can save up to half the cost of an enzyme pre-soak by using laundry detergent. (From U.S. Consumer)

AND SPEAKING OF "CONSUMERS UNION," DID YOU KNOW THAT CO-OP HAS A GROUP RATE FOR "CONSUMER REPORT?" ONLY $4.00. ASK AT ANY EDUCATION OFFICE.

U.S. Consumer says that pet foods have become a jungle for shoppers seeking their money's worth, with nearly 200 brands, sizes and types of products . . . resulting in some 15,000 separate items from 300 manufacturers. Jim Ray Hart To Phillies?

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Amid talk that Jim Ray Hart may be traded to Philadelphia, the San Francisco Giants tackle the pitching-rich Chicago Cubs tonight at Candlestick Park.

Righthander Bob Bolin (2-3) of the Giants is scheduled to go against hard-throwing Ferguson Jenkins (6-2). The teams wind up the abbreviated two-game series tomorrow afternoon before the Giants head to New York and Montreal on a six-game road trip.

Giants president Horace Stoneham confirmed yesterday that trade discussions with the Phillies "probably will continue."

It has been reported that Hart and pitcher Joe Costello of the Phoenix Giants would go to Philadelphia for infielder Cookie Rojas and outfielder Johnny Callison. Big hangup in the deal is the status of Hart's oft-injured right shoulder which is being examined by a physician hired by the Phillies.

Righthander Juan Marichal, who gave his sore side and groin muscle a workout for one inning against Pittsburgh Sunday, figures he will be ready to pitch against the Mets this weekend.

The Cubs boast two of the finest relievers in the major leagues in Phil Regan (5-1) and Ted Abernathy (4-0). This has been a weak spot in the San Francisco attack. In addition, lefty Ken Holtzman of Chicago, a starter, owns a sparkling 7-1 mark.

For sluggers, the Cubs can count on veterans Ernie Banks and Ron Santo. Banks leads the National League in runs batted in with 39 and Santo is close behind with 33.

Nino, Tiger Hit With Subpoenaes

Injured Benvenuti Loses Bout

NEW YORK (AP) — Middleweight champion Nino Benvenuti of Italy, Dick Tiger of Biafra and several other persons connected with their fight at Madison Square Garden last night, have been subpoenaed in a grand jury investigation, it was learned today.

District attorney Frank Hogan's office declined to comment on the subpoenaes, which reportedly were served last night following Tiger's upset victory.

Benvenuti came out of the fight with a broken right hand, suffered, he said, in the first round.

NEW YORK (AP) — Dick Tiger's upset victory over middleweight champion Nino Benvenuti turned slightly sour when it was learned the Italian had suffered a broken right hand. But there were lucrative fights ahead for both winner and loser today.

"I broke the hand in the first round when I hit him high on the head. The pain was terrible," said Benvenuti after dropping a unanimous decision in a 10-round nontitle bout with the 39-year-old Biafran at Madison Square Garden last night.

ONE-HANDED

"I was a one-handed fighter after that," said Benvenuti, grimacing in pain. Asked why he didn't quit, Nino replied quickly and firmly, "Never. I am a professional fighter."

Dr. Edwin Campbell of the New York Athletic Commissioner said handsome Nino had suffered a complete break of the second metacarpal bone (behind the index finger) of the right hand.

"He won't be able to train until a minimum of eight weeks," said Dr. Campbell.

That means a delay in Benvenuti's next defense of his middleweight (160 pound) title. He whipped Don Fullmer in a title defense on Dec. 14 and his six months period of grace expires on June 14.

RODRIGUEZ

The World Boxing Association's championship committee insists that the 31-year-old champion must defend next against Luis Rodriguez, the WBA's No. 1 contender from Miami.

Rodriguez, a one-time welterweight king, and his manager, Angelo Dundee, saw Tiger, who will be 40 on Aug. 14, completely dominate Benvenuti, who had used his injured right only sparingly.

"We'll wait for him," said Dundee. "We've been waiting a long time. I'm posting a $2,000 forfeit check with the New York Commission.

"Right now we've got offers for Benvenuti of $100,000 in Puerto Rico, $150,000 in Miami Beach, and $200,000 in San Diego which is celebrating its 200th year. My guy will take a lot less, we want the title shot.

FULLMER WINS

Fullmer, in his first fight since his loss to Benvenuti in San Remo, Italy, won a split decision over Brazil's Juarez de Lima in the 10-round semifinal.

Referee Barney Smith, 5-4-1, and judge Berl, 6-4, voted for the West Jordan, Utah veteran. Judge Armstrong voted for the Brazilian, 6-4.

A crowd of 14,305 paid $147,431 for the television fight. Benvenuti earned $50,000 and Tiger $35,000. They may get more with television reruns. And there's the possibility of a very lucrative return match.

Mark Donohue Leads Field Of Indianapolis 'Rookies'

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Mark Donohue, America's premier road racing driver, tops the field of rookies in cars for Friday's Indianapolis 500.

The rookie tag here, of course, refers only to the lack of previous 500 experience. Grand Prix veteran Graham Hill of Britain was a rookie when he won the 1966 race.

The average age of this year's five rookies is 31. All but Bruce Walkup, 24, are veterans in other racing circles.

Do they feel like rookies here?

'YOU BET'

"You bet I'm a rookie," says George Follmer, 35, of Arcadia, Calif., who is driving his own car. "I don't imagine you can hear that big crowd race day, but I'm sure you feel extra pressure."

Follmer's background includes success in sports car racing and a victory in the first U.S. Auto Club championship race of this season, a 150-mile event in his native Phoenix, Ariz.

Donohue, who received the Martini and Rossi Driver of the Year award last year, said he was happy about the rain that washed out the scheduled first weekend of 500 qualifying May 17-18.

"I woke up that first morning and looked out the motel window. The stands were full and it was only 8 o'clock. It kind of shook me up."

A week later, more relaxed, he put his Lola, with a turbocharged Offenhauser engine, in the fourth starting spot.

It's the best starting position for a rookie since Mario Andretti won the same spot in 1965.

Donohue, a Brown University graduate, left an engineering job in New Jersey two years ago to begin driving full time. He lives in Media, Pa.

He'll be seeing his first Indy race and its crowd of 300,000 from the cockpit of car No. 66.

Peter Revson of New York City gives the Ivy League another representative in this year's rookie class.

Revson, 30, attended Cornell for two years. He's driving a car for Jack Brabham of Australia and starting last in the field of 33.

Walkup, from Downey, and Sonny Ates, 34, Sellersburg, Ind., complete the rookie field.

Walkup came here looking for a ride, after qualifying last year but getting bumped from the starting field.

He hooked up with car owner Don Gerhardt of Fresno, and put a turbo Offy in the 28th spot.

United States-Russia Track Meet In July

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The dual track meet series between the United States and the Soviet Union, discontinued in 1966 when the Russians protested U.S. involvement in Vietnam, is on again — the day before America is to land a man on the moon.

The president of the Southern Pacific Association of the Amateur Athletic Union, Al Schoenfield, in a letter to the Los Angeles Coliseum Commission, said yesterday the meet would be held July 18-19 in the Coliseum.

AND BRITISH

He also said a team made up of British Commonwealth athletes would compete in the meet.

Starting times for the meet were listed as 7 p.m. Friday night and 1 p.m. Saturday with a national television network broadcasting the meet nationally. It will be blacked out in the Los Angeles area.

The Apollo program has the date July 20 marked on its schedule to land a man on the moon and the meet was arranged so it wouldn't clash with that planned event.

The Russian-American track meet series began in 1958 in Moscow. The following year the meet was held in Philadelphia but in 1960, an Olympic year, the meet was cancelled.

PAST MEETS

In 1961 the meet was held in Moscow, in Palo Alto in 1962, Moscow again in 1963, Los Angeles in 1964 prior to the Tokyo Olympics, and in Kiev, Russia, in 1965.

American men won the first six meets handily, taking the '64 clash by the largest score in the series, 139-97. That crushing defeat forced coaching changes on the Russian team but the Americans, spurred by the victory, performed better than expected at the Olympic games, including Billy Mills' thrilling 5,000-meter victory.

BEST EVER

The Russians came back to win the 1965 meet at Kiev, 118-112 but on the eve of the 1966 meet, track experts said the Americans had their best-ever team.

The cancellation by the Russians forced promoters of the meet to schedule the International Games and invited teams from free world nations.

The following year a team from British Commonwealth nations was invited but last year Olympic training schedules forced cancellation of the meet.

Athletics Vs. Tigers

OAKLAND (AP)—The Athletics have returned from their worst road trip since moving to Oakland before last season.

Catching their breath following six straight losses, they had yesterday off.

Action resumes tonight against the Detroit Tigers.

Prospects are foreboding because the Bengals will start World Series hero Mickey Lolich, whose current record is an impressive 6-1.

The A's will counter with Chuck Dobson, 3-4.

Bills Owner 'Considering' O.J. Trade

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The Buffalo Bills once again have failed to sign All-American O.J. Simpson, and owner Ralph C. Wilson Jr. said today he would consider trading Simpson.

Wilson, in a statement released by the American Football League team's office here, said he met yesterday in Detroit with Simpson, his agent, Chuck Barnes, and his lawyers, David Lockton.

Simpson, the 1968 Heisman Trophy winner from Southern California, reportedly has been asking Wilson for a $600,000 salary and a $500,000 loan.

NO LOAN

Wilson said Simpson and his negotiators agreed to drop the loan demand.

"As their concession for doing this," Wilson said, "they asked for an increase of $50,000 in the bonus and salary previously requested."

Wilson said he had been prepared to increase his original offer, never made public, to Simpson.

"But in view of this new demand, which I felt to be unreasonable, I stood pat except to offer inducements on the basis of performance."

SOME THOUGHT

The Bills' owner said the Simpson group rejected the idea and asked if he would trade O.J.

"I said I would consider it," Wilson said. "I don't know how seriously but I will give it some thought."

Buffalo, which finished the 1968 season with the poorest record in both the AFL and National Football League, had first choice in the combined draft. It picked Simpson.

During the weekend the Bills signed their No. 2 choice, All-American fullback Bill Enyart of Oregon State.

Novato's Dillon Player Of Year

Coaches Select All-Stars

Fabulous Novato hurler Russ Dillon, who dominated over Marin County prep hitters throughout the spring, got his just rewards yesterday as he topped the selections for the All-Marin County Athletic League baseball team.

Dillon was named player of the year and he and Terra Linda's slugging catcher Craig Logan were the only unanimous choices for the first team.

THREE HORNETS

Novato's MCAL champs topped the pickings for first team honors with three choices, while runnerup Terra Linda and last-place Marin Catholic had two each.

Southpaw Dillon was joined by Novato's hard-hitting third baseman Tom Zechlin and outfielder Bob Helbing on the first team. Terra Linda's Mike Timmel, everybody's favorite pitcher last year, was the other first-team pitcher.

Marin Catholic shortstop Rick Denning was named to the first team for the third straight year, despite a somewhat disappointing season. The other Marin Catholic pick was outfielder Tim Hearn.

ONE JUNIOR

The only junior to join the all-league first team lineup was Redwood outfielder Frank Pomilia, who moved up to the varsity team earlier in the season and proved to be the Giants' only consistent hitter.

Rounding out the first team were San Rafael's Gallardo at first base and Drake's leading hitter and fielder Clark Jamison at second.

Overlooked in selections were first-year entry San Marin, which finished a surprising third with a 7-7 record, and Tamalpais. San Marin sophomores Jack Burnam, a catcher and Jim Thompson, an outfielder were named to the second team while junior shortstop Ken Gnoss also made the second team; but tireless workhorse pitcher Steve Francis, who won six of San Marin's games, two on shutouts, was relegated to honorable mention status.

Honorable mention was all that second baseman Ken Bolstad and outfielder Wendell McReynolds of Tamalpais managed, despite above average seasons.

Dillon had an amazing season, going through the league season unbeaten on a 8-0 record without giving up an earned run, once striking out 18 batters (against Terra Linda) and hitting two homers, one of them a grand slam on the last game of the season against Marin Catholic.

Dillon and Timmel were repeats from last season, but it was Timmel who dominated the league last year with a perfecto 10-0 record in a 12-game season.

Julie Heldman Wins First Match In Paris

PARIS (AP) — New Yorker Julie Heldman, U.S. Wightman Cup tennis star and surprise winner of the Italian championships, won her first match in the French Open championships today, whipping Janet Young of Australia 6-0, 6-2.

Another star of the U.S. Wightman Cup team, Peaches Bartkowicz of Hamtramck, Mich., also won, defeating Lita Liem of Indonesia 6-1, 6-1.

Less than an hour's play was possible before rain set in. The tournament opened yesterday, but fewer than half the first round matches in the men's and women's singles were completed.

Unhappy Athletics Back At Home Base

OAKLAND — Now in their third home stand of 1969 and with no immediate attendance crescendo in sight, the young Athletics — or at least some of them — can be expected to continue grumbling about lack of support.

Jim Nash's sudden clubhouse outburst — which wasn't so sudden or truly outbursty — after a Red Sox game during the last stand here was understandable when you examine the logic of an athletic ego.

MORE THAN most of us who need pats on the head, athletes expect constant verbal caressing. By their very physical nature, they seek acclaim. Much as a Praetorian guard, they must be loved at home if they are to battle bravely.

The sports figure who shuns a kid seeking a signature is either old, malevolent or hung over. The young A's give more autographs than probably any club in the majors. The Oakland ballplayers are far and away the best public relations device in Finley's arsenal.

AND BECAUSE they're trying so hard to be loved in a new town, the A's kids are torn when the few thousands in the stands boo them and cheer the visitors.

What Nash said out loud after a night of facing a crowd of boisterous ex-New Englanders has been said quietly by several of his mates for several months. The talk about moving, that is.

There are some A's who were deeply sorry to leave Kansas City. Not that they knew lethargy awaited them at the Coliseum; not that they wanted their owner to continue economic suffering; not that they preferred humidity over chilly Oakland evenings THAT much.

IN KANSAS CITY the A's were somebody. At restaurants and clubs they were known, feted, appreciated. Doors were open everywhere, because Kansas City didn't have that many athletic heroes to love.

Here, though, the A's don't even know where the doors are. They have yet to be clutched to a collective community breast. Many of them with families have settled on the island city of Alameda, as if seeking some common defensive barrier against the strange, hostile world on the other side of the Oakland Estuary.

A FEW WHO used to live in Kansas City year-around have moved permanently to the East Bay area, forsaking the nether world of ex-ism for an as-yet-unfulfilled love affair with a new town.

They don't want to be transients, these A's. By the same token, some of them are so soured by being ignored that they whisper furtively of rumors Finley will sell the club to somebody who will move it elsewhere.

THIS IS A gravely unfortunate attitude to develop in so short a stay. Plainly, though, the feeling exists.

They can't understand why the public isn't buying what they are convinced is a marvelous product. It's a wonder the A's have been winning so well at home when so many of them aren't certain where home is.

The tantalizing possiblity is that young pitcher Rollie Fingers will buy the team and move it to his residence, Cucamonga. After all, Anaheim's in the league. And can Azusa and Fingers' village be that far from reailty?

BOWLING TIPS

By MARION LADEWIG

Bowling control is important, of course, but those who creep up to the line and then lay the ball down ever so gently are not going to rack up too many pins. Try to develop a fairly free-wheeling approach and let 'er go at release. This willl help reduce tensions and will probably improve your score.

PARIS (AP)—Czechoslovakia officially pulled out of the Davis Cup today in protest against South Africa's racial policies.

Czech Davis Cup star Milan Holocek, who is competing in the French tennis championships at the Roland Garros Stadium, said he had been informed by phone this morning that Czechoslovakia's match against South Africa is off.

Tam Golf Champs In Big Tourney

Tamalpais High School's young and unbeaten Marin County Athletic League golf champions, who have battered and tortured Marin County golf courses this season, face their biggest challenge Thursday away from the county and away from their pet course.

The Indians will be going into the fourth annual Piedmont Invitational Golf Tournament at Lake Chabot course in Oakland. It will be a 26-team tourney of champions featuring clubs from all Northern California sections.

130 PLAYERS

Some 130 players comprising five-man teams will be in the tournament and they figure to give the Lake Chabot course a going over, if last year's results are any indication.

The winning team last season finished at three under par, while the runnerup was one under.

The Indians by virtue of their last match, are no strangers to under par scoring. They practically wrecked their short-approach home municipal course in Mill Valley, finishing with a hot three-under par 165 in an easy win over San Marin last week.

They also hold top scores on the other courses with an even 200 at tough San Geronimo, a 194 at Meadow Club in Fairfax, a 202 at San Rafael's Peacock Gap and a 198 at Indian Valley in Novato.

14-0 MARK

The Indians, who missed a share of the title by a tie in their last match in 1968, won the Marin County Athletic League crown in a walkaway this year, finishing with a perfect 14-0 mark that padded their overall dual meet record to 19-0.

Coach Paul Wata's big five will be made up of four juniors and a senior. The juniors are Wayne Smith, Steve Goldfien, Jeff DeVoto and Dean Rider while the lone senior on the squad is Craig Smith. The five comprise one of the most balanced squads around, with any one of them capable of breaking loose, as DeVoto did with a 30 in the under par assault on the par 33 Mill Valley Course last Thursday.

TOUGH COURSE

"My boys are real sharp around the greens," Wata said. "Lake Chabot is not that tough a course, but it is long. If we stick in there on our approach shots, we could do really well."

It will be a long grind of 18 holes, beginning at 7:08 in the morning.

Race Boat Driver Dies Of Injuries

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — Bobby Lee Hill, 35, a Knoxville, Tenn., power boat driver, died yesterday of injuries received in the Galveston 250 Speed Classic Sunday.

A spokesman at John Sealy Hospital said Hill suffered massive brain damage when his craft, 'Ambusher II,' disintegrated in rough water on the 55th lap of the 125-lap race of Offats Bayou.

Two other drivers, Mike Reagan, son of California Gov. Ronald Reagan, and Marvin Friedman of Coral Gables, Fla., were injured slightly in separate accidents.

Reagan received a cut on his arm when his boat, 'Mike Reagan Special' flipped. Both Reagan and Friedman were treated and released.

Tennis 'Fighters' Must Play

PARIS (AP) — British tennis pro Roger Taylor, his left arm in a sling after a fight with South Africa's Bob Hewitt, was told today he must be ready to play by late afternoon or lose his place in the French Open Championships.

The Roland Garros Stadium in Paris buzzed with talk of the incident, which occurred at a tournament in Berlin last Saturday.

Taylor, a left-hander, still said he intended to play—despite advice from doctors that he should lay off tennis for at least a week.

REQUEST DENIED

He asked that his match against Milan Holocek of Czechoslovakia be postponed until Wednesday. But a French Lawn Tennis Federation spokesmen said the match must be played today.

Hewitt, with a black eye, arrived in Paris but did not show up at the Stadium. He too was scheduled to play today against Ron Homberg of New York.

Three pro stars—Rod Laver and John Newcombe of Australia and Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, won their first round matches while two members of the United States Davis Cup team — Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., and Cliff Richey of Dallas, Tex., also moved into the second round.

IN DEFENSE

The two reigning champions —Ken Rosewall of Australia and Nancy Richey of Dallas, Tex.— were due to start the defense of their titles today.

Rosewall, 34, had to play Michel LeClercq of France. Miss Richey faced Karen Krantzcke of Australia.

The men's singles title is worth $7,000 while the women's winner receives $2,000.

Record For Dogs

DENVER (AP) — Single-night and seasonl wagering records were set at the Mile High greyhound track on the closing night this season. A crowd of 12,000 wagered more than $537,000 to raise the 61-night handle to $21,451,000.

Braves' Mascot Is Biggest Loser

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

St. Louis got shut out by Phil Niekro and Washington got blasted by Rod Carew. But baseball's biggest loser last night was Atlanta's Indian mascot, Chief Nok-A-Homa.

Niekro, the Braves' knuckleballer, blanked the Cards 3-0 and Carew's two home runs led Minnesota to a 7-1 romp over the Senators. Nok-A-Homa had a rougher time than both losers though.

He got burned out of his teepee.

BACKFIRES

Nok-A-Homa, the Injun who camps behind the left field fence in Atlanta Stadium, sets off smoke bombs and goes into a war dance to celebrate every Brave home run. Yesterday, though, one of his smoke bombs backfired.

When Clete Boyer tagged a two-run shot in the sixth inning, the Chief, an Ottawa-Chippewa Indian from Charlevoix, Mich., whose real name is Levi Walker, went into his act.

Then, something unscheduled happened. Flames enveloped his canvas teepee, shooting up about two feet over the top of the flimsy structure.

"It was sabotage," said Walker, who gets $10 per game for his homer celebrations. "Somebody got in my smoke bombs and fooled with them."

BROOMSTICK

Undaunted by the sudden emergency, the resourceful Indian grabbed a trusty broomstick he keeps "in the teepee for housekeeping" and beat out the flames. But it was too late to save his home. The canvas will have to be replaced.

"Maybe," said Nok-A-Homa philosoplically, "it was just a hot game."

It wasn't so hot for the Cardinals, who managed just five hits against Phil Niekro. The game was scoreless until the sixth when Felipe Alou opened with a single.

Felix Millan forced Alou but Orlando Cepeda, facing his ex-Cardinal teammates for the first time, doubled for one run. Then Boyer followed with the homer which cost Nok-A-Homa his humble home.

CAREW AT .394

Carew, the major league's leading hitter, boosted his average to .394 with his fourth and fifth homers of the year, each with a man on base.

The second one came in a five-run fourth inning that opened a 7-0 bulge for the Twins. Carew also had connected in the third inning.

Carew also made a sparkling play in the field in the second inning. There were runners on first and third with one out when the Minnesota second baseman lunged to stop Paul Casanova's grounder and started an inning-ending double play while on the ground.

Frank Howard broke a nine-game homer famine with his 15th of the season, accounting for Washington's only run off winner Jim Perry, 4-1.

FISH AND GAME

By AL GIDDINGS

Salmon Anglers Hit A Weekend Jackpot

The ocean salmon limit was upped to three fish again this past week by the Fish and Game Commission and Saturday turned out to be a bonanza!

Department of Fish and Game personnel looking in at Caruso's in Sausalito checked approximately 150 anglers, 100 with the three fish limit and most of the others with two fish. The largest king salmon checked weighed 27 pounds. About one-half of all salmon caught were silvers, average weight five to six pounds.

Party boats out of Sausalito Boat and Tackle had 54 limits, with a 36-pound king recorded as the largest fish taken. Most boats fished the Farallon Islands.

COMMERCIAL boats working out of Bodega and Point Reyes also had a big weekend, so it would seem that we have a number of large schools of salmon from San Francisco to Bodega.

Though it was windy at Corte Madera and Sausalito, it was relatively calm and not windy outside the Golden Gate Bridge, though some ground swells in the morning roughed up the water. Muir Beach and Stinson Beach were mobbed with sun bathers and the ocean and weather were beautiful. At the mouth of Tomales Bay, near Bird Rock, W. L. Barker from Marshall, fishing alone, picked up two salmon Saturday, both six to eight pounds.

The boat Blue Horizon, out of Sausalito, was rockfishing at the Farallons and took 21 limits of rockfish, big reds and blues and some good lingcod, biggest 23 pounds. The Ma-Ru also tried for rock fish and came home with ten limits and some lings. Biggest was 35 pounds, and that's a whopper!

THE STRIPED BASS fishing map made up by the Department of Fish and Game biologists says that most of the legal sized bass are leaving the delta, and should be enroute to the San Francisco Bay. This downstream migrations is completed usually by June 5. Imagine that: Sacramento is sending us 3,000 bass in the next couple of weeks all tagged with $2, $5 and $10 bills. This is better than taxes, and about time too! Please call me when they arrive, and you can send me the reward tags. I'll take care of them for you.

NEXT WEEKEND we have the lowest tides of the year. Saturday we have a -1.8 at 6:12 a.m. and on Sunday a -2.0 at 7:06 a.m. Sunrise will be at 5:50 a.m. these mornings so it's possible to take abalones, clams, eels or rockfish.

The mussel quarantine is now in effect, so no mussels, and only the white meat parts of clams should be eaten. Cockles could be dangerous. Abalones and fish are okay. The Marin County Health Deaprtment says that clams taken from Richardson Bay are dangerous due to sewage contamination. It might be a good idea to check with the Health Department for last minute conditions at Bolinas Lagoon also.

WITH TROUT plants made all through May, and scheduled for all of June at Phoenix and Lagunitas lakes near Fairfax and Rodeo Lagoon neort Fort Cronkhite, anglers should be able to bring home meat for the table, along with having some good sport.

Of course everyone misses sometime. I heard that Joe and David Mello found Bernard Nerviani's hot spot, fished all day, and never got a bit! There's lots of razzle-dazzle that goes on in this fishing game, I tell you.

BOB WILSON of Woodacre, who nailed a big sturgeon last week south of Richmond Bridge, went again this week, and connected with another — about a 60-pounder. That's two trips and two big fish for Robert.

Enos Foster of Woodacre, who went with Wilson, caught a leopard shark for his only fish. You think he threw it back? Ha! It's being cooked. As Enos sees it, his family won't know the difference, and a buck saved is a buck earned.

Nets Get A New Owner

NEW YORK (UPI)—The wandering New York Nets have a new owner. Now all the team needs is a coach and a place to play. Some good players would help too.

Roy Boe, the owner of the Long Island Bulls of the Atlantic Coast Football League, bought 51 per cent of the Nets of the American Basketball Association from Arthur Brown yesterday, Six of Boe's associates bought the other 4 per cent. The price was a million dollars.

FAILURE

Brown's failure to land Lew Alcindor because of his original low bid was a severe blow to the success of the team—and the league.

It's uncertain where the club will play in 1969-70. The team, which played in Teaneck, N.J., in its first season and Commack, L.I., in its second year, is searching for a suitable area in the metropolitan area.

Boe said he plans to sign "one of the country's outstanding college coaches" to coach the team within a week and hopes to name a general manager "with major league experience" within a few days.

The club finished in last place last season in the Eastern Division. The coach for the first two season, Max Zaflosky, resigned.

MONDAY NIGHT AT THE GAME

Pro Football To Invade 'Prime Time'

NEW YORK (UPI)—Does the hand that rocks the cradle also switch the TV dial?

That's what the National Football League will find out starting in 1970 when it invades "prime time" on ABC-TV for 13 consecutive Monday nights. The NFL announced last night it has signed an agreement with the network for the televising of 13 games each season for a three-year span from 1970 to 1972 after the merger of the AFL and NFL becomes a fact.

NEGOTIATING

Pete Rozelle, pro football commissioner, said both CBS and NBC had rejected the Monday night package but he's still negotiating with those networks on the Sunday games.

The agreement culminates an effort Rozelle has made for the past several years to get "prime time" TV exposure for pro football. The networks have been cool to the idea in the past—and CBS and NBC rejected it—because sports attractions usually don't fare too well in "prime time" hours when the women supposedly dominate the audience.

But ABC, which doesn't usually have a strong Monday night lineup (NBC usually dominates the evening with its "Laugh - In" program), decided to gamble on the Monday night idea since it currently televises no pro football. Both the network and the NFL hope to attract a more diversified audience with a consistent "prime time" show. The number of sets in use on a typical Sunday afternoon is very low compared with an evening and most of the people watching football are men who turned their sets on specifically to watch the game.

RATINGS

Of course, it remains to be seen whether a regular "prime time" attraction will be successful but the ratings of the program—the barometer of success or failure in TV—will tell.

No financial terms were announced but it was estimated the package calls for $6 million a year—almost $500,000 a game—for a three-year pact of $18 million.

Rozelle hopes to negotiate TV contracts for Sunday and Monday night totaling at least $31.2 million because that amount is needed for each of the 26 teams to receive $1.2 million a year from TV rights.

Rozelle said "hopefully" the take for each team will surpass $1.2 million, but the total package would have to yield $38 million for the individual sum for each team to go up just $300,000 to $1.5 million.

The Monday games will start at 8:30 p.m. or 9 p.m. Eastern time and will be televised from parks which have lights suitable for televising in color.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

If You Are Minus Six Trumps Don't Bet On An Even Split

When you're missing six trumps (or six cards of any suit), don't expect each opponent to hold three. The odds are almost 2 to 1 that they will divide less evenly. The point decides today's hand, taken from Victor Mollo's excellent new book "How Good Is Your Bridge?"

FIRST IDEA

West leads a spade, and you ruff since there is no advantage in discarding. Now your first idea is to draw trumps and cash the good diamonds safely.

Before you do so, take the precaution of playing the hand mentally. You will have to play dummy's top hearts and top diamonds. This will leave you with two trumps. You will have to ruff a spade to return to your hand, and now you will have one trump left, with two trumps still out.

This means that you will be unable to draw trumps if either opponent started with four trumps. It is even possible that one opponent started with five trumps.

Since you are not happy about being on the short end of 2 to 1 odds, you must look for a plan that offers a better chance; and, fortunately for you, such a plan exists. (If there were no better chance you would have to settle for your original line of play and hope for the best.)

RUFFERS IN DUMMY

After ruffing the first spade, cash dummy's top diamonds and the ace of clubs. This is not very risky because with seven diamonds missing the odds are about 12 to 1 that neither opponent will be able to ruff the first or second diamond.

Now ruff a spade in your hand, ruff a good diamond in dummy, ruff another spade in your hand and ruff your last good diamond in dummy. By this line of play you win tricks with dummy's five top cards and also with your own five trumps for a total of 10 tricks.

DAILY QUESTION

Dealer, at your right, opens the bidding with one spade. You are next, holding:

S — A K Q 10 7
H — 7 6 4 2
D — 7 4
C — Q 10.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Pass.

You would have bid the spades yourself if the dealer had opened with one of any other suit, but there is no advantage in bidding them when you know that the suit will break horribly. Your best chance for a plus score is to pass and hope that the opponents stay in spades.

ALMANAC

Today is Tuesday, May 27, the 147th day of 1969 with 218 to follow.

The moon is between its first quarter and full phase. The morning stars are Venus, Mars and Saturn. The evening stars are Mercury and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1935 the U.S. Supreme Court ruled unanimously that the National Recovery Act was unconstitutional. The Act was created by the administration of President Franklin D. Roosevelt to combat the depression.

In 1941 the German battleship "Bismarck" was sunk 400 miles west of Brest, France.

In 1942 Nazi Reinhard Heydrich, "the Hangman of Czechoslovakia," was slain by patriots of that country.

In 1968 the U.S. nuclear submarine, Scorpion, was lost with 99 aboard.

A thought for the day: Miguel de Cervantes said. "My honor is dearer to me than my life."

Indians Live On Grand Canyon Floor

WASHINGTON (UPI) —One of the most isolated Indian settlements in the country is situated on the floor of an extremely rugged section of the Grand Canyon, reports the National Park Service.

The Havasupais ("People of the blue-green waters") live on a reservation 3,000 feet below the canyon rim that averages only about one-quarter mile in width. Visitors can make arrangements to be met by Indian guides who conduct horse or mule-back tours of the settlement.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Annual Dividend Boosts Usually Indicate Advances

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. My wife and I have $10,000 to $12,000 to invest for retirement in nine to 10 years. What would be the best investments for us? — R. L.

A. In recent weeks several studies on an old theme have appeared in the financial press — stocks with consistently rising dividends. While these are not to be confused with the high-yielding income issues, they make very satisfactory holdings over a period. As dividend increases usually follow earnings gains, share price levels are likely to advance.

Five companies which have increased dividends annually for at least a decade are: Avon Products, Gulf Oil, Heublein, Magnavox and Warner-Lambert. Their current yields are not impressive — they average just over 2 per cent — but over a period of years when applied to the purchase price, the yield appears more generous. For instance, Avon shares bought 10 years ago would yield 26 per cent on a cost basis. By investing equal-dollar amounts in the above-named five stocks, you should, in 10 years, realize a sizable boost to your retirement security.

Q. My husband, age 79, and I (under 65) own $5,000 of E bonds, some being 20 years old. Do you advise changing these to H bonds, and how is this done? What are the denominations of H bonds? — H. S.

A. The exchange to H bonds can be made by your bank without charge. Their denominations are $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000. I don't recommend switching because your oldest bonds are accruing interest at the maximum rate of 4.25 per cent. The changeover would force you back to the lower end of the interest range for a year and a half. If you need income, you could redeem one or more of the oldest bonds, put the cash in a 5 per cent savings account and pay federal income tax on the interest which the E bonds have accrued to redemption. Since this column does not include tax advice, I urge you first to discuss with a bank officer or tax specialist the best way to arrange the proposed redemptions.

Saleswomen Get A Chance In Steel Industry

BALTIMORE (UPI) — The shortage of good salesmen is compelling the steel industry to turn to women.

Armco Steel Co. of Middletown, Ohio, is holding the first seminar exclusively for female sales personnel in Baltimore this week. Twenty-seven women sales representatives from all over the country are attending.

The women work mainly in distribution service centers, taking care of customers' emergency needs and some regular needs.

The women are not all from Armco. Other companies taking part in the seminar are American Steel & Aluminum Corp.; Esco; Peter A. Frasse & Co.; The House of Stainless; Industrial Stainless Steels Inc.; Joseph T. Ryerson & Son; Metal Goods-Whitehead; Viking Steel, and Mapes & Sprowl.

ON VIOLENCE: 'Assassin Pool' Always Lurking

By BRUCE BIOSSAT

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Not long ago a leading American political figure went on a one-day trip to make a public appearance. By careful design, there was no advance notice of his travels.

That may set something of a pattern for the politics of America from here on. The threat of assassination of presidents and other top figures is greater than it ever was.

Beginning with Franklin D. Roosevelt, the country has had six presidents. One, John F. Kennedy, was assassinated. Two others, Roosevelt himself and Harry Truman, had unsuccessful attempts made on their lives.

In his more than five years in office, Lyndon B. Johnson had some 6,000 written threats against his life. President Nixon surely will not be spared this same continuing menace.

VIOLENCE and high politics have long been linked in this nation, as witness the fact that one-fifth of our 20 presidents since Abraham Lincoln's time have been murdered in office.

The 1968 killings of Robert F. Kennedy and Martin Luther King Jr. are reminders that the danger does not stop at the White House.

Writing recently in the Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists, political scientist Sidney J. Slomich and clinical psychologist Robert E. Kantor suggested that the rise of charismatic figures like Roosevelt, the Kennedys and King at crisis periods in history tends to heighten the prospect of assassination.

The man with charisma is, by definition, a person who by his very appearance and presence — aside from his actions — conveys a sense of hope and promise to millions at a time of crisis.

But the Slomich-Kantor theme is that most potential political assassins not only suffer a feeling of hopelessness, but actually develop a vested interest in supporting their despair. Hence they strike out at the figure of hope, because they have none and cannot adjust to signs of promise.

The Slomich-Kantor argument adds that charismatic figures are much more likely to be sought after in times of rapid social change like the present. But such times also are much more productive of persons who belong in what the authors call the "assassin pool."

WHO ARE these people?

The author say that mostly they are dispossessed elements of the lower middle classes, that they have a strong feeling of envy and are alienated both from themselves and society. The writers go on:

"... These individuals come to attach value to pain, frustration and despair ...

"They therefore may strike out destructively against public figures who hold forth a hopeful future."

Dr. David Abramsen, a New York psychiatrist, told the President's Commission on Violence pretty much the same thing as to the make-up of would-be assassins.

Aided by the Secret Service, he studied 10 men who wrote LBJ menacing letters. All had similar personality traits and all had many traits in common with Lee Harvey Oswald, the alleged assassin of John Kennedy.

THEY WERE estranged from society, had dreams of the limelight, and an intense wish to exact revenge for presumed wrongs. And, as Slomich and Kantor found, all were sexually frustrated.

There is no proof in these studies that a society's tolerance of violence is a clear encouragement of political assassins. Right now the extreme New Left openly advocates it and a surprising number of self-styled liberals wink at it.

They, and some of their European counterparts looking at us, like to believe that strongly felt issue lie behind — if they do not justify — political assassination. Hence their love of the conspiracy approach and their distaste for the "estranged loner" theory.

But the Slomich-Kantor studies, backed by others, suggest only minor weight can be given to issues. The men in the assassins' pool are on the fringe of life — tormented failures waiting to lash out.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Anonymous Complaints Sometimes Have Reason

The anonymous call and anonymous letter are plagues of editors. At the Independent-Journal, we refuse to publish letters which the writers will not sign, insisting that they be willing to stand behind whatever they say. We usually do not pay much attention to anonymous calls, for the same reason.

Sometimes, however, there is good cause for a person to fear being identified with a complaint. Sometimes he may have reason to be afraid of reprisals.

The fear of reprisals is especially poignant, and the cause for it especially repugnant, when it involves reprials against one's child.

MOST OF THE anonymous callers and letter writers who refuse to disclose their names because of fear of reprisal against their children are complaining about something at school.

The old plaint of "the teacher will take it out on Johnny" is as familiar as it is usually unjustified. But of late there has been an increasing number of complaints of another type regarding the schools — and fear of reprisal.

"A Very Concerned Parent" writes of a meeting arranged by a high school teacher at which pamphlets telling how to avoid the draft were passed out. The same teacher, claims this parent, has instructed classes in the techniques of "confrontation" with the police.

AN INFORMANT in position to know — but fearful of having his name used — insists that black students at College of Marin threatened school officials to get them to hand over money that had been given the college specifically to be used for those students needing aid in going on to higher education. The black students got the money.

Another parent claims that tape recordings promoting racial hatred through the spoutings of a young boy are played to classes in a Marin elementary school district.

In another Marin district where there has been much school yard gangsterism a parent claims the school principal refused to be responsible for the safety of a child beset by gangs.

Still another parent complains that her daughter at high school is approached almost daily by other students trying to push marijuana and other drugs, but the principal of the school contends it is impossible to police against such activity on campus.

Then there is the parent who says students in certain high school classes are encouraged to defy laws with which they don't agree. And there is the parent who claims a boy in a high school class smoked a marijuana cigaret in class, with the teacher paying no attention.

THE TRUTH of such complaints — and those listed are but a sampling — is extremely hard to determine. The ordinary citizen cannot just walk into a class at school and expect that the class will continue as it was before he entered. Nor can the principal, or a school board member, ever be sure that his visit does not occasion an abrupt change from whatever was going on before he appeared.

The sum of the complaints, however, is this: When things go on at school to which a parent objects, no satisfaction is obtained by going to school officials or trustees. That's why the complaints wind up at the newspaper office.

And that is, to a great extent, why school people complain they have "trouble with communications."

Marin Birdsongs

Morning, afternoon and evening, the air in our neighborhood has been vibrating like a violin string with the songs of many birds this spring. We do not claim to know them all. But we find them interesting.

The quail we know very well, to the point that we can tell if they are safe, in distress or just claiming their territory. But we always have lots of quail, so their song isn't unusual.

Also, not uncommon in our neighborhood are the chick-like peeping of the brown towhee; the churr of the rufous-sided towhee; the electric sound of the hummingbird; the cooing of two kinds of doves; the warbling of the goldfinch and the robin.

However, this spring there is more — much more. Enough to make us want to study the birdsong records and become really expert.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Juvenile Hall Should Be Closed

It is my opinion the juvenile hall should be discontinued for the following reasons:

1. The cost to maintain such an operation.

2. I am told the juveniles are only kept for 90 days while awaiting a hearing.

3. Why can they not be confined for 90 days without trips to the beach and the ski resorts?

4. According to the recent incident involving a teen-ager girl's death, there is lack of supervision (or the wrong kind of supervision) and if there is a rule that a woman and a man should accompany them on these outings, why was there only a male? Was it a man with long flowing locks? That tells me something right there.

5. The court, community, and taxpayers have a responsibility to these wayward youths, since our money is provided for the project.

My visit to juvenile hall left me with many questions in my mind. One, the quarters shared by boys and girls, with girls on one side, boys on the other, and a common room in between?

Marin County taxpayers never really know what is going on.

Why should the new probation officer who succeeded Mr. Busher get $20,000 per year to start, when Mr. Busher's salary was $17,770 (according to the I-J, March 19)? Why was Mr. Brewer appointed at a closed meeting? Was this a "departure form normal employment routine", and why?

Student Players Provide Inspiration

The College of Marin Drama Department under the direction of Robin Jackson, is staging "The World We Live In" for the Mountain Play Association. The cast is large — actors, dancers, choruses, supers, musicians. Fortunately, I had a chance to be exposed to these young students, and feel so privileged to have had contact with this youth at first hand.

They may have long hair, bears, mini-skirts, odd clothing — so what? Their energy is boundless and electrifying. They can dance for hours on end, making their own music from whatever is available, and oh! to be young again! They drink very little, an occasional beer. They are too busy, just being. Under the director, they do body exercises before each rehearsal and performance. They leave no litter. They are courteous and they are friendly. In particular, their enthusiasm for life is exciting. I do not doubt that these young people thoroughly understand the play and its messages, as summed up in the epilogue by the fine actor, David McCauley.

They are paid nothing for their participation in the Mountain Play, nor do they get credit at school. All their time and effort is donated, including Mr. Jackson's.

As adults, we must find ways to adapt this tremendous vitality into a meaningful society for them. I must honestly admit that I had not felt the responsibility so strongly until I had been exposed to them. They can take over where we wear out.

Attempt To Create Park Commendable

As a teacher, who has worked with, and for, young people for the past 15 years, I believe I have the background to make some comments on the present state of affairs at Berkeley.

The students of today are intently interested in helping, in a constructive and meaningful way, to bring into being a society based on humane principles. They are, by and large, the best informed and most incisive thinking group of people ever to come to the fore in this country.

As an example, their intent to create and build a park on an unused parcel of land is not only in the best interest of the citizens of Berkeley, but is indicative of their sincere desire to become involved in a meaningful and constructive way.

If they chose an improper way to do so, one must attribute this to the impetuosity of youth. If the youth of today are to discover that they are important to their immediate environment and to each other they must be afforded greater opportunities to become instrumental in changing said environment. Particularly if it is beneficial to the community.

I would urge my fellow citizens who have an interest in their children's future not to be misled by the intimidating remarks of some segments of the political arena. The governor in particular has used his office, not to bring reason and compassion to bear on the problems afflicting today's young people, but has rather used the situation to strengthen his political fences. This will redound to his disadvantage. . . .

Johnson The Wheeler-Dealer Behind The Fortas Uproar

WASHINGTON —With the furor over Abe Fortas beginning to subside, it is worth examining how it happened. As an example of how not to manage the relationship between the chief executive and the judiciary it should be a warning for the man now in the White House and for other presidents to come.

While the flak rains down on Fortas, the principal actor was Lyndon Baines Johnson, currently playing it very quiet offstage in Texas. As in almost every aspect of his presidency, Johnson was the political animal, the wheeler-dealer, in his approach to the supreme court.

IT BEGAN immediately after the death of Adlai Stevenson in July, 1965. Who was to take his place as ambassador to the United Nations? President Johnson summoned Arthur Goldberg, then an associate justice, to the White House.

Those familiar with the background say that Johnson exerted all his mastery of persuasion on Goldberg to get him to give up his lifetime place on the court and take the U.N. post.

This created a vacancy. Since Goldberg was of Jewish origin, it opened the way for the appointment of Fortas. An unwritten rule prescribes that in the political-religious balance on the court there shall be one Jew and one Roman Catholic.

FORTAS WAS a long-time Johnson friend and his personal lawyer at critical moments in the Johnson career. He had managed the certification of Johnson's election to the Senate in 1948 when 87 votes in a bossed county were at stake. Even after he had formally withdrawn as Bobby Baker's lawyer, Fortas continued behind scenes to try to help get the secretary of the Senate majority — and Johnsons protege — out of the mess of his wheeling and dealing.

Confirmation of Fortas by the Senate to be an associate justice was a formality. The storm broke when Earl Warren decided a year ago to retire, and Johnson named Fortas in his place. The nomination was twinned with that of Homer Thornberry, a circuit court of appeals judge and another long-time Johnson crony, to fill the associate justiceship made vacant by the Fortas elevation.

Determined opposition soon developed, led by Sen. Robert P. Griffin (R-Mich.). At the outset this seemed to be based on Fortas' record as a liberal. Facts soon developed, however, notably the $15,000 American University lecture fee and what appeared to be justice Fortas' intervention in behalf of Johnson in a phase of the Vietnam controversy, that cooled his Senate backers. With confirmation blocked, Fortas asked that his name be withdrawn.

Leslie Salt Fabricating 'Study' In Bay Quarrel?

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

The biggest private property owner on San Francisco Bay vehemently opposes legislation that would extend to its property the jurisdiction of the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission.

That's hardly surprising, but it is unsettling to find the owner of 50,000 acres, the Leslie Salt Co., apparently fabricating arguments to bolster its fight in Sacramento.

SPECIFICALLY, the company has testified before legislative committees that while the BCDC's master plan for the bay "states that the (salt) ponds must be preserved because they help prevent smog, the San Francisco Air Pollution Control District's studies prove they do not — indeed that water surface of any kind has no effect in reducing smog."

But the district director of information, Edward W. McHugh, told us that "we never made such a finding." Leslie's statement simply was "not supportable," McHugh said.

McHugh, stressing that the district had not studied the matter, nevertheless said water surface "certainly plays an effect on climate, and thus on smog."

LESLIE'S testimony, incidentally, was not presented by an overly imaginative public relations man, but by its secretary and counsel, Harry A. Jackson Jr.

Contrary to Jackson's testimony, the BCDC's study of smog and weather concluded that substantial bay filling would increase summer temperatures, lower winter temperatures, cut rainfall, and increase the frequency and density of fog as well as of smog.

The BCDC study, done by Albert Miller, meteorology professor at San Jose State College, estimated that "significant changes would be observed before 25 per cent of the existing bay water surface had been eliminated." He reportedly felt this figure was far too conservative, but his caution as a scientist obliged him to avoid a stronger statement.

LESLIE'S SALT ponds amount to about 15 per cent of the water surface of the bay, thus its plans for their extensive development could go a long way toward lousing up the Bay Area's climate. And Leslie is not the only property owner eager to shrink the bay.

Leslie particularly objects to BCDC's proposal that the public buy the salt ponds as they go out of production. Ponds left in Leslie's hands because of a lack of public money to buy them would be subject to the BCDC's control over development. Leslie knows that the BCDC would be a tougher nut than city and county officials.

The fate of the legislation is up to the Senate now, where anything can happen, but very little usually does.

EVEN THE GOVERNOR'S inner sanctum has been infiltrated!

Spotted on a blackboard in the governor's conference room in the capitol was the hastily erased, but still legible "ND" symbol of the peace movement. The bold word "Peace!" also still was legible.

IS TAM CREEK JOB LEGAL?

Work Ban Ended; Judge Thinks Procedure 'Void'

By BRUCE COLEMAN

The stop work order which has halted construction on Tamalpais Creek flood control work in Kent Woodlands for nine days was dissolved yesterday in Marin Superior Court.

Judge Samuel W. Gardiner dissolved the order and announced that no temporary injunction would be issued.

Judge Gardiner also raised the question of whether the Army Corps of Engineers project to concrete line Tamalpais Creek between Kent Avenue and Goodhill Road was legal, by saying he believes the procedures used have been "void."

By void, that is to say that if the engineers proceed with work on the creek, they do so "at their own peril" and are liable to law suits, later commented attorney Roger Kent, representing Kent Woodlands Properties, which secured the stop work order May 16.

Asst. County Counsel Richard V. Godino, representing the Marin County Flood Control District afterwards expressed satisfaction with the judge's refusal to continue the stop work order. He said that the extent of the county's liability if the county loses a pending condemnation suit, could only be for the value of the property affected.

Today no work was being done on the tiny creek. It contains four feet of water following the wrecking of two pumps last Thursday which flooded the stream and caused excavated banks to crumble.

Godino said he has been talking to the engineers and the contractor, Elmer J. Freethy Co., and hopes that work can soon commerce to put the creek back into the shape it was prior to the vandailsm.

"The job has to be finished before the rains start," he said.

Much of the discussion presented before about 40 persons in the court hearing at the San Rafael City Hall yesterday was about maps.

Godino produced several maps and references to maps to attempt to show that Tamalpais Creek was in the overall Corte Madera Creek Flood Control project from its beginning.

He did say that a map — dated Nov. 17, 1965, and approved by the Marin County Board of Supervisors when it approved the project at a Jan. 11,

Bomber Waves Hit Reds

COMBINED AP & UPI

SAIGON — The U.S. Military Command sent nine waves of B52 bombers against Communist troop concentrations in three sections of South Vietnam during the night, it was announced today. The strikes followed a series of 30 mortar and rocket attacks on U.S. bases.

Military spokesmen also reported 5,000 Communist violations of the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) since the American bombing halt began last Nov. 1. They reported a major violation Sunday when Communist shellings blew up an ammunition dump, killing eight Marines and wounding 24.

The B52s were sent against Communist forces threatening Saigon and against troop concentrations in the Central Highlands and on the northern coast of South Vietnam. Allied forces in those areas killed 194 Communist troops in scattered fighting yesterday.

The waves of B52 bombers dropped more than 1,600 tons of bombs on enemy troops and camps near Dak To, south of Da Nang, and north of Saigon.

Two light U.S. observation helicopters were shot down and destroyed. One went down today 12 miles west-northwest of Saigon, and no one was hurt. The second helicopter was shot down yesterday about 40 miles north of Saigon, wounding two men.

Hunter, 42, a handsome and youthful looking leading man, had been active in recent years in roles on television and in movies made in Europe.

Spacemen Ready Crucial Report

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The Apollo 10 astronauts returned home today to a hero's welcome and to make the reports that will determine when man will go to the moon this year.

As a band piped them in with "Up, Up and Away" and "Deep in the Heart of Texas" the three men who returned from the moon just 24 hours earlier, leaped from the plane that brought them nonstop from Samoa.

The astronauts, Air Force Col. Thomas P. Stafford and Navy Cmdrs. Eugene Cernan and John Young, were wearing leis. Their first act, after embracing their wives and children, was to drape the necklaces around their loved ones' necks.

What the astronauts report will determine when the Apollo 11 astronauts leave on a moon-landing mission. The blastoff for that voyage is scheduled at Cape Kennedy July 16, but space agency officials said Apollo 10 raised a few questions that could delay it a month or two, because troubles cropped up with some of the equipment.

Still wearing one of the baseball caps the astronauts received when they boarded the carrier Princeton, Young told the crowd:

"That moon doesn't have any air and that moon's not Texas and we're sure glad to be here."

Stafford said "It's really great ... it's fantastic to be back from the moon."

Cernan said, "I'm convinced now more than ever that there's no place we can't eventually go and there's nothing we can't eventually do."

There was little time for reunion with families. After lunch, the astronauts were to undergo extensive physical examinations.

The astronauts' flight from Pago Pago in the Pacific took exactly 12 hours. They landed at Ellington AFB, near the Manned Spacecraft Center.

In Moscow, Soviet newspapers and Russians in the street hailed America's Apollo 10 moon flight and praised the astronauts today for their bravery and sense of humor.

One smiling Muscovite summed it up: "Molodtsy (good boys)."

Pravda called the astronauts "three courageous people who wrote yet another bright page in the history of conquering the cosmos."

The cone-shaped command capsule carrying the Apollo 10 trio parachuted into the Pacific yesterday, climaxing eight days in space that one space agency official said had "given us the confidence to make the next bold step."

Dr. Thomas O. Paine, administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, said, "The real goal (of the space program) is to develop and demonstrate the capability for interplanetary travel."

Specialists were ready to start debriefings almost immediately. They want Stafford, Young and Cernan to recall in detail everything about the mission—the liftoff May 18, the 76-hour coast out to the moon, the two and one-half days in lunar orbit and the 54-hour return trip.

Emphasis will be on the critical eight hours when Stafford and Cernan left the command ship in their little moon lander, to rehearse the procedures set for July and look at the landing site.

Next Monday the Apollo 10 crew will meet with the Apollo 11 astronauts, civilian Neil A. Armstrong, Air Force Col. Edwin E. Aldrin and Air Force Lt. Col. Michael Collins. Armstrong and Aldrin are to land on the moon while Collins remains in moon orbit aboard the command ship.

AEC Explodes Nuclear Bomb

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—An underground nuclear explosion of low intermediate yield was set off today 1,690 feet under Yucca Flat at the Nevada test site.

The Atomic Energy Commission said its 10th announced test of the year, in a vertical shaft, had the force of from 20,000 to 200,000 tons of TNT. The strongest so far have had the power of 1 million tons of TNT.

The AEC said no radiation was released from the weapons-related test, which was at 7:15 a.m.

SNOWY SUMMER FOR TAHOE

Brewery Is Indicted For Contribution

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Brewing Co. was indicted by a federal grand jury today on charges of unlawfully contributing campaign funds in connection with the 1964 senatorial campaign of former White House press secretary Pierre Salinger.

Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell said the indictment, returned in Baltimore, headquarters of the brewery, alleged the company violated a federal statute prohibiting corporate and labor union political campaign contributions in federal elections.

Specifically, it said National paid $5,000 to the Walter Leftwich Organization, a Beverly Hills Advertising Agency that represented Salinger in the 1964 California election.

Salinger, who was not mentioned in the indictment, defeated Alan Cranston, now U.S. senator from California, in the Democratic party primary that year. He lost to Republican George Murphy in the general election.

RFK Autopsy Charge Dropped

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The county has dismissed a complaint against Dr. Thomas T. Noguchi, fired recently as county coroner, that his autopsy of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy was incomplete.

The dismissal came yesterday after Martin Weekes, deputy county counsel interrupted defense testimony for a conference with three civil service commissioners hearing Noguchi's plea for reinstatement.

After 20 minutes of quiet conversation with the commisssioners and Noguchi's attorney, Godfrey Isaac, Weekes announced the county had offered "no evidence" to support the complaint and further exploration of the matter would be "totally immaterial."

Record Turnout For Yorty-Bradley Runoff

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Voters turned out in record numbers today for the runoff election between Negro challenger Thomas Bradley and Mayor Sam Yorty, seeking a third term.

City Clerk Rex Layton said the turnout should exceed his prediction of a new high of 70-75 per cent. He based his forecast on a spot check of 75 precincts, which reported voting about 3.6 percentage points ahead of the turnout for the primary last April 1.

Assembly Rebuffs Try To Cut School Funds

COMBINED AP & UPI

SACRAMENTO — The Assembly rejected today an effort to take all $619 million in college and university spending from Gov. Ronald Reagan's $6.23 billion budget.

The lower house then moved toward a vote on the full budget, criticized by Democrats as too fat.

Defeated on a vote of 27 to 35 was an amendment by Assemblyman Ray E. Johnson, R-Chico, who said he wanted to withhold higher education funds until "we get some answers to this mess" on California campuses.

Johnson, father of a former helicopter pilot in Vietnam, said California taxpayers are demanding to know what's going on at the University of California and the State Colleges.

"I think it's a reasonable question and I don't have any answer," he said.

The amendment was opposed by Republican Chairman Frank Lanterman of the Ways and Means Committee and author of the budget who said it would mean the campuses would have to be closed.

Lanterman said it would require "closing the institutions, just as the SDS (Students for a Democratic Society) and the militants have been trying to do through their violence. The only way you can keep control is by your financial ties to the schools."

Johnson replied the current budget still has 30 to 40 days to go. In the meantime, he said, "I want to see if the regents and trustees have any respect for this Legislature."

Earlier, Assemblyman Robert W. Crown, D-Alameda, said Democrats would vote against the budget as it was approved by the Ways and Means Committee. Democrats demanded trimming of more than $86 million in some areas of the budget and called for more spending elsewhere.

Before debate started, Lanterman told a news conference the proposed cuts amounted to political monkey business.

The budget is basically the same as when submitted by the Republican governor in February. The State Constitution requires passage of a final budget by midnight June 30.

As it cleared Lanterman's committee, the budget totaled $6,228,014,401, a net increase of $2.4 million over the Republican governor's original request.

With Republicans in control of the house but with a partisan standoff of 39-39, the GOP needed at least 15 Democratic votes to clear the budget from the Assembly and send it to the Senate, which will adopt its own version of the spending program.

Time Magazine Issue Banned In Saigon

SAIGON (UPI)—The South Vietnamese government announced today it has removed from newsstands the May 23 issue of Time Magazine because it carried an article which advocated a coalition government with the Communists.

The issue had been on the stands for at least three days before the government decided to ban it. Sales in American post exchanges were not affected.

'Torture' Cases Probe Demanded

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — An assemblyman today called on Attorney General Thomas Lynch to investigate "punishment and torture" received by arrested University of California students at the Santa Rita Prison Farm.

John Vasconcellos, D-San Jose, sent a letter from Rev. Edward Glynn of Berkeley, who was among the almost 500 persons arrested last Thursday in the continuing People's Park crisis.

"Punishment and torture" were "inflicted by county agents on hundreds of defenseless men whom the state has in no way found guilty or deserving of punishment," the letter said.

Reagan Sees Riot Danger Over Park

Says He'd Meet People —If Peace Guaranteed

COMBINED AP & UPI

Gov. Ronald Reagan expressed willingness today to meet with students any time and at any campus for a discussion of grievances but voiced fear his appearance could trigger a riot.

The Republican governor made the offer in the wake of a march on the state Capitol yesterday by an estimated 7,000 orderly students from colleges and universities throughout California.

They demanded complete withdrawal of National Guard troops from Berkeley immediately and removal of a fence from around the "People's Park."

PEACEFUL RALLY

The students, some from as far away as Riverside and Los Angeles, rallied peacefully for Capitol's west steps, a shout from Reagan's office. He did not appear and was not invited to do so. In marching away, the crowd carefully picked up any litter along the way.

Police, aided by a helicopter hovering overhead, reported no incidents. Security at the gold-domed Capitol rivaled safety precautions invoked when President Johnson campaigned in Sacramento in 1964.

Reagan met later for an hour privately with a dozen leaders of the rally in his office.

TWO BOLT AWAY

He described the meeting as "courteous" except for the bolting from the session of Jim Hawley and Wendy Schlessinger of the Berkeley People's Park negotiating committee who voiced six demands and denounced him as a "murderer."

They referred to the death during the peak of violence of James Rector, 25, a nonstudent, wounded by a police shotgun.

Reagan told reporters he was frustrated by what he termed the inability "to get into a dialogue and communication with the majority of students, those who are really representative of the cross section of student thinking."

"If they can find a way, I would be happy to meet on any campus and with a group at any time," Reagan said. "But at the moment you and I know that I could precipitate a riot by simply showing up."

Meanwhile in Berkeley, 431 persons seized in a mass arrest last week appeared in court to face charges of unlawful assembly, blocking a street and creating a public nuisance. Municipal Judge Mario Barsotti took the cases in groups of 10 and set further hearings on them to begin June 4.

Asked about the rally by a newsman, Reagan replied:

"I think it is a shame. Because it isn't any way to solved anything. Just to have a rally and come all the way to Sacramento to talk to each other...they made it very plain they didn't want any information from us."

WATCH FROM BALCONY

Several state legislators, including Republican Assembly Speaker Robert T. Monagan, watched yesterday's rally from a balcony and west Capitol steps. None participated in the demonstration, which was highlighted by a speech by Dr. Linus Pavling, Nobel Prize winner and antiwar advocate.

Berkeley Mayor Wallace Johnson said today this may be the "most critical week in Berkeley's history" because of the "People's Park" dispute.

Campus militants are planning another march and rally for Friday on the university-owned vacant lot which Berkeley's "street people"—a group of students and nonstudents—appropriated and turned into a park.

Hopes improved today for another "People's Park" — this one on land owned by the Bay Area Rapid Transit District. Planting was started Sunday on land over a new subway and the district's general manager, B. R.

Justice Douglas Believed Ready To Leave High Court

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — Justice William O. Douglas is retiring from the U.S. Supreme Court of which he has been a member since April 1939.

This will be announced in the near future.

At his age, 71, and with 30 years' service on the tribunal, Douglas can retire with full pay ($60,000) for life. Former Justice Abe Fortas, 59, on the bench less than four years, gets nothing.

Two factors are behind Douglas' decision to quit — declining health and increasingly harsh criticism in and out of Congress of his extra-judicial activities.

Last summer Army doctors at Walter Reed Hospital implanted a "pacemaker" in Douglas' side to regulate his heart. He has to return to the hospital at intervals to recharge this device. In April, it came to light that he had quietly had an appendectomy at Walter Reed, and was undergoing treatment for a liver ailment.

Douglas' physicians have strongly advised him to curtail his work.

Foremost among his extra-judicial operations that have come under fire was his association, until a few days ago, with the Albert Parvin Foundation that had large interests in Las Vegas, Nev., gambling casinos. It was disclosed that Douglas had received $12,765 a year as president, and sole paid official, of this foundation.

Also, that the foundation is a large contributor to the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions at Santa Barbara, of which Douglas is chairman and paid $500 a day for his services.

He also does considerable lecturing for fees ranging from $1,000 to $5,000. Several weeks ago he delivered a series of talks in Brazil for which he reportedly got $5,000.

Water Grab In Evidence On Southern California Tour

Here are some random thoughts after traveling around California on vacation:

The rape of the once verdant Owens Valley to take water to Los Angeles set the pattern for the southern end of the state which is still continuing. Los Angeles gets what it wants at others' expense. Although Los Angeles claimed that it paid the Owens Valley farmers well for the water, the aqueduct was dynamited more than 20 times in its first three years.

The Los Angeles reached eastward and took water from the states that drain into the Colorado River. After many years of litigation, Arizona got back a portion of its water.

Now under the California Water Plan, water from Northern California is to be sent to Southern California. In the desert between Victorville and Palmdale, irrigation pipes are now being installed, awaiting the water from the north to dump out on that stretch of rock and sand.

That same area when we were there was engulfed in smog which was blowing over the mountains from Los Angeles like smoke from a forest fire.

The same California Water Plan calls for drowning the Round Valley and city of Covelo for water for Southern California.

ONCE AT a hearing before the state highway engineers in Novato, the request was made to extend Highway 37 from Novato to Point Reyes National Seashore. The answer was given that the Division of Highways does not construct highways that start nowhere and go nowhere.

A trip over Highway 14 south of Palmdale disputes this statement. This highway cost millions of dollars per mile to construct the four and six-lane freeway which goes nowhere and connects nothing but cacti and desert plants.

It was rather disheartening to see that beautiful highway with hardly any cars on it and compare it with Highway 101 in Novato which is clogged with cars and traffic lights.

AT HEARST'S CASTLE at San Simeon the remark was made that it was a waste of money. Was it? Without the expenditure by multimillionaire Hearst on the art treasures, many Californians would never be able to see man's works of art from past centuries.

The lakes and forests of Northern California looked pleasing after the smog and wasteland of the southern desert. The fresh ocean breezes and abundance of water made a great contrast. Northern Californians should be on the alert to keep them.

Southern California already has its hold on the water, but it cannot get the ocean breezes. That is, it cannot unless the San Andreas Fault makes a big move and shifts Los Angeles to the west of the bay.

ART BUCHWALD

The Perils Of A Revolutionary In Nest Of Capitalist Intrigue

The Students for a Democratic Society has urged its members to get their hair cut, shave off their beards and sideburns and infiltrate the business community this summer. The idea is to foment revolution off the campss.

Some businessmen are fearful of the results of such an infiltration. But I think the SDS is taking a bigger chance than business. It's one thing to stick to your ideals on a campus with 50 or 60 other students giving you support, but it's another to go off all alone into the business world and keep from being corrupted.

BEARING IN MIND that most members of SDS are usually the brighter students, let's go to the Flipper Department Store where Barney Longstreet, an SDS leader, has managed to get a job as a trainee in the men's clothing department. For a start, Barney has been sticking pictures of Che Guevara in the suits hanging on the racks—a small thing, but as Mao Tse-tung says, "A revolutionary must work in the pocket of most resistance."

Barney does this early in the morning. Since he is always the first one there, the men's clothing buyer is very impressed with him and one day announces that he is elevating Barney from his trainee position to full salesman.

This surprise appointment leaves Barney unsettled, as he wants to pursue the life of the lowliest employe to get the feel of what it is like to be exploited by the capitalist system. Rather than reveal his true identity, Barney accepts the promotion.

HIS CHANCES of fomenting revolution among the employes are limited to lunch and smoking breaks, and when Barney tells the employes what a lousy deal they have at Flipper's, he attracts a large audience.

The vice president of personnel, who has no idea what Barney is talking to the other employes about, feels that if he can attract such large audiences he must have executive potential, and, therefore, he makes him a floor manager at a healthy salary increase.

Stricken with fear that he is selling out, Barney hands in a list of reforms which he says the store must agree to before he takes the job. These include Flipper's Department Store getting involved in the community, donating part of its profits to the employes and setting up an Afro-American clothing boutique.

These demands are sent up to the president of Flipper's and after reading them he says, "Why didn't we think of this first? Bring him up to the executive offices."

BARNEY IS NOW in real trouble because, thanks to his demands, profits of Flipper's are up 30 percent, and he is made a vice president in charge of promotion. In keeping with his position, he has a new apartment, a new car, and he spends his evenings at First Avenue bars meeting airline stewardesses. The only revolutionary activity he has time for is reading Marcuse on the Long Island Railroad when he goes to West Hampton for the weekend.

Once, in a moment of extreme guilt, Barney sits down on the floor in the president's office to show his disdain for the system. But when the president and other executives come in, they all join him on the floor and they hold a meeting on how to increase the store's charge accounts. The president finds everyone so much more relaxed when they sit on the floor that he orders all the furniture taken out of his office.

At the end of the summer Barney is offered his own store, which Flipper's is opening in Westchester County; and since he's too ashamed to go back ot his SDS chapter and tell them he's executive vice president of Flipper's, he accepts. And so the Students for a Democratic Society lose another good man.

Forgery Suspect Pleads Innocent

Julie McCue, 32, of no fixed address, pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to a charge she tried to obtain amphetamine with a forged prescription.

A preliminary hearing was set for Tuesday.

Miss McCue was arrested Thursday at a San Rafael pharmacy.

Quail Hill Project Stays On Schedule

Work on the site preparation for the multi-million dollar Quail Hill project is progressing on schedule and initial landscaping work is expected to begin this summer, city officials and project landscapers report.

Work on the project for Commerce Clearing House began following the April 9 issuance of an excavation permit to move 450,000 cubic yards of dirt, much of it away from the site. Grading plans were approved by the city before the permit was issued.

While site preparation is in progress on the hill above Northgate Shopping Center, the San Francisco landscape architectural firm of Eckbo Dean Austin and Williams is working on plans for the development.

Initially, entrance roads will be planted with native shrubs and flowering trees. Other general landscaping plans include extensive screen planting on all borders, primarily pines and flowering trees; erosion control seeding on all cut slopes, chiefly grasses and wild flowers, and two vineyard areas, one of about an acre on the terraces facing Northgate Drive and another of about 4.5 acres on the western slope, according to George W. Swan of the firm.

Swan said the development is drawing extensive interest because it is the first of its size and scope in Marin and the extension service of the University of California at Davis is working with his firm on landscaping plans.

In addition to the general landscaping, there will be street trees and other plantings in the single family dwelling areas and individual landscaping for the buildings such as the conference and office complex.

Preliminary plans and zoning for the project have been approved by the San Rafael City Council and Planning Commission. "The ultimate development will have to conform to what has been approved," said senior city planner Charles J. Linthicum.

Linthicum noted that landscaping around individual buildings will be part of architectural approval still to be sought. Any changes in other plans would have to come back to the planning commission and council.

A scale model of the finished development is on display in the city hall foyer.

Nixon Asks Congress For Sweeping Postal Changes

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Richard M. Nixon asked Congress today for legislation to convert the Post Office Department into a government-owned, self-sustaining service removed from cabinet status.

"Traditions die hard and traditional institutions are difficult to abandon," Nixon declared. "But tradition is no substitute for performance, and if our postal system is to meet the expanding needs of the 1970s, we must act now."

The President's proposal was largely based on recommendations submitted by Frederick R. Kappel, head of former President Lyndon B. Johnson's Commission on Postal Organization.

Nixon said his reform, besides removing the post office from the cabinet, calls for several sweeping changes including:

Creation of an independent postal service wholly owned by the federal government and administered by a nine-member board of directors.

New and extensive collective bargaining rights for postal employees.

Bond financing for major capital improvements, similar to the funding arrangement now held by the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Establishment of a commission of experts to propose changes in mail classifications and postage rates, subject to review by the seven presidentially appointed members of the nine-man board.

Much of what the President recommended was leaked by congressional sources last week.

Postmaster General Winton M. Blount held a White House briefing today on the plans.

The Kappel recommendations are backed by two of Johnson's postmasters general, Lawrence F. O'Brien and W. Marvin Watson.

Blount said he took the Kappel report, along with several other proposals, and welded them together into what he and his top aides considered a workable solution to the perennial postal problem.

He repeatedly emphasized that the Post Office, faced with rising deficits despite numerous rate boosts in recent years, could not economically process its growing annual mail volume under the existing machinery.

His first step in the reorganization came after he had been in office less than a month. At that time, he got Nixon's support for a proposal to remove Post Office Jobs from the political patronage system.

Nixon's bill to implement that plan is pending in Congress.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Red Ties Denied

DAMASCUS (Syria) — (AP) — The leftist military regime which took control of Sudan in a bloodless coup Sunday says reports that it is Communist or Communist-inspired are "absurd lies spread by supporters of the ousted reactionary leaders."

Prime Minister Babakar Awadallah said the members of his bainet are "leftists, Socialists, but not extremists or fanatics."

He added, however, "We are Arabs and fanatics as fas as the Palestine question is concerned. We advocate nonalignment in foreign policy, but we will stand fast against any country which supports Israel, be it Western or Eastern."

Mideast Gunfire

TEL AVIV — (AP) — Syrian and Israeli forces traded gunfire for three hours early today on the usually calm Syria-Israel cease-fire line, Israeli spokesmen said.

No losses were reported, but the sources said it was the most serious outbreak in the occupied northern Golan Heights since the 1967 war.

Echo To Disappear

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Echo 2, the most highly visible of all satellites, will disappear at the end of next week, dropping into the atmosphere and burning up, project engineers predicted today.

Officials at the Goddard Space Flight Center, Greenbelt, Md., set the probable destruction date at June 7 for the 135-foot diameter balloon that was placed in orbit Jan. 25, 1964.

Fewer Teens Smoke

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A survey of teen-agers exposed to antismoking messages — including the blunt "smoke, choke, croak" — shows a sharp decline of youngsters taking up ciga rettes in the last 10 years.

The drop means the total number of smokers in the United States remains about 49 million despite increases in the population, according to Roy L. Davis, a spokesman for the survey group.

Among 17-year-olds questioned during 1967-68, 25.6 per cent of the boys said they smoked cigarettes and 15.7 per cent of the girls said they are smokers.

A 1957 survey of the same age group reported 34.7 per cent of the boys and 25.5 per cent of the girls said they smoked.

Death Penalties Hearing Put Off

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court decided yesterday to put off until its next term a ruling on whether juries should have the right to impose the death penalty.

The action came in a brief order that an Arkansas capital punishment case should be reargued after the court convenes its 1969-70 session on Oct. 13. At least two new members presumably will have taken seats by then.

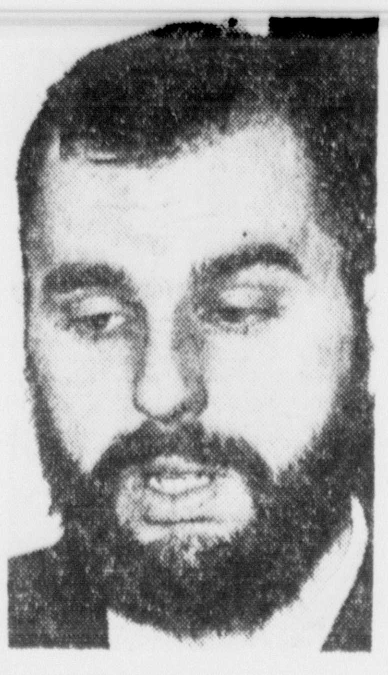
There was no indication in the court's action whether it was prompted by the resignation from the court of Abe Fortas and possibly created an even split on the constitutional issues of the case among the eight remaining justices.

Economy Still Rising

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's Gross National Product in the second quarter should "register a sizable advance," say Commerce Department analysts, whil demand continues strong and inflationary pressures show no signs of diminishing.

However, the Office of Business Economics said yesterday, April labor data suggest the rate of advance in output may be easing off though it is still moving upward.

Some indicators were unmistakeably bullish, the analysts said, such as the Consumer Price Index which has been rising at an annual rate of 7.6 per cent, highest since 1956.



GARY STEVEN KRIST
Buried victim alive

Jury Spares His Life; Kidnaper Counts Pulse

DECATUR, Ga. (AP) — A praying jury has convicted Gary Steven Krist of the $500,000 ransom kidnaping of co-ed Barbara Jane Mackle, but spared his life because of elaborate steps taken to keep the victim alive in a buried box.

Krist, 24, who had predicted the death penalty which the state asked, was given a life sentence last night on the jury's recommendation for mercy. Normally a life term may be reviewed for parole in seven years in Georgia.

Jury foreman H. I. Rainwater said deliberations began with a prayer. He disclosed in an interview that the 12 men were divided on whether to impose the death penalty, but finally voted for mercy because "of the effort and precaution he took to see that she (the victim) wasn't killed."

"He did go to an awful lot of trouble to see that she would be all right," Rainwater said.

Miss Mackle, a 20-year-old Emory University junior, was buried in an 8-by-2-by-2-foot box for 83 hours after her abduction from a Decatur motel last Dec. 17. The box contained food and tranquilizer-loaded drinking water. It also had a battery-run ventilation system, water pump and small light that burned out after a short time, leaving the girl in total darkness.

The bearded Krist counted his pulse beat as the verdict was read. He later said it was 110, considerably higher than normal.

Ruth Eisenmann Schier, 26, former University of Miami biology student also charged with the kidnaping, is to be tried in June.

While the jury deliberated, Krist said he did not believe in capital punishment. "No human being has the right to take the life of another."

Krist, a native of Washington state, escaped in 1966 from a California penal institute where he was serving a sentence for car theft. At the time of the kidnaping, he was employed as a technician at the University of Miami's Institute of Marine Sciences.

Violence Hits Seattle, Texas Campus

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three policemen were shot and nine other officers injured in a clash with black youths in Seattle, Wash. In Denton, Tex., nine persons were shot in a melee stemming from an automobile collision.

Seattle police used tear gas and nightsticks last night to quell a daylong outbreak of violence in the predominantly Negro central area. Thirty-five persons were arrested.

Members of the Black Student Union at Seattle Community College, protesting refusal of the board of trustees to appoint a Negro to the board, marched from the main campus to a branch in the central area, touching off the violence. They were joined by community youths.

One of the trustees, Carl Dakan, resigned early today, paving the way for appointment of a Negro.

His resignation was announced after a 13-hour meeting of college officials, BSU representatives, the Seattle Human Rights Commission and the State Board Against Discrimination. A spokesman for Gov. Dan Evans said he would name a Negro to the post "very soon."

Police said the three wounded officers were in good condition. They said it was not known who fired the shots and officers did not return the fire.

In Denton, a black girl was critically wounded when, police said, a rookie policeman pulled his gun and the weapon fired accidentally.

Police Chief Wayne Autrey said three police cars had responded to a report of a car striking a parked vehicle in front of Hubbard Hall on the Texas Woman's University campus.

Autrey said the driver, a Negro airman, attacked one officer; another policeman coming to his aid, hit the officer's arm, and the gun discharged, striking Glenda Hopkins, 18, a Texas Western student, in the chest. The bullet passed through her and hit Ralph Stolow, 18, a student at neighboring North Texas State University, in the groin.

A crowd remained in front of the dormitory after the airman and a female companion were arrested.

A pickup truck rushed by and two shotgun blasts boomed, Autrey said. Seven students were felled by pellets.

Shotgun-armed police guarded Flow Memorial Hospital, where the wounded were taken.

Police seized nine black youths in what they said was an attempt to prevent rioting.

Both Texas Woman's University, with 5,000 students, and North Texas State, with 15,000, are racially integrated.

City and state police patrolled the streets of Cairo, Ill., after firemen were shot at while responding to two firebombings.

A fire destroyed the Tri-County Health Center, located across the street from Pyramid Courts, a Negro housing development, and heavily damaged an interior decorator's shop.

Seven or eight fires broke out in Champaign, Ill., two in adjacent Urbana and six in University of Illinois dormitories in both cities. Officials said most were caused by firebombs.

Firemen said shots were fired at them and they withdrew from a blaze that destroyed a frame house in Champaign. Police in squad cars patrolling Burch Village, a dominantly Negro housing development, were fired on. One squad car was hit by three bullets.

Another Champaign fire caused $10,000 damage to a grocery store, a fire official said. Battalion Chief Villard Ayers said most of the firebombings were in the predominately Negro northeastern section of town.

At the university, couches and drapes burned in four dormitories and a car parked on campus was destroyed by a firebomb.

Two young men were treated for minor injuries.

At Greensboro, N.C., police said the campus of North Carolina A&T University, scene of bloody disorders last week, continued to yield weapons, ammunition and fire bombs.

Most of the weapons have been found and turned over to police by authorities of the predominantly Negro school. The college was closed Friday following violence in which one student was killed by gunfire and five policemen, two students and a National Guardsman were wounded.

Blaze Damage $30,000-Plus

Fire which gutted a classroom at the Church of the Nativity in Marinwood last week caused between $30,000 and $40,000 damages, much more than originally estimated, Marinwood Fire Chief Gaylord E. Bonfield said today.

On May 19, fire burned the Sunday School room on the southeast side of the church, located on Ellen Drive.

Chief Bonfield said the beams on the roof have been charred, and the entire roof on the east side needs repair.

Cause of the fire may have been an electrical short, said Bonfield.

Edward Jenner, English physician, was the discoverer of smallpox vaccine.

Rash Of Accidents Leaves Eight Injured

A rash of accidents on Marin roads yesterday and today left eight persons injured and five hospitalized, one in critical condition, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Homer W. Byard Sr., 54, of 1145 Elm Drive, Apt. 8, Novato, was reported in critical condition today in the intensive care unit at Marin General Hospital with injuries including a broken pelvis, broken right leg and multiple face cuts.

The patrol said Byard was inexplicably walking along the center divider on Highway 101 in San Rafael at 3 p.m. yesterday when he dashed into traffic. Two vehicles missed him but he was hit by a car driven by Eugenia B. Delemos, 58, of 113 Vendola Drive, Santa Venetia, the patrol said.

According to the patrol, partial traffic blockage following Byard accident on freeway near Lincoln Avenue slowed traffic and backed up northbound cars as far as the San Quentin Wye for an hour.

Serge E. Agadjanian, 24, of San Francisco, was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital with cuts on the scalp and left eyebrow suffered in a collision on the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge at 5:50 p.m. yesterday.

Agadjanian's passenger, Delbert Smith, 31, of Reno, was treated at the hospital for cuts on face, scalp and toe.

The patrol said Agadjanian's car stalled just as he cut in front of a van driven by Harry A. Barnes Jr., 62, of San Lorenzo. He was cited for making an unsafe lane change and having no driver's license in his possession.

Two women were hospitalized after a collision on Highway 101 near the Waldo Tunnel at 3:30 p.m. yesterday. Karen A. Staley, 22, of Santa Maria, Santa Barbara County, was reported in fair condition at Marin General Hospital with a broken neck vertebra, broken collarbone and broken right ankle.

Mabel V. McBride, 61, of Belmont, was reported in fair condition at Mill Hospital, San Mateo, with a broken right hip.

The patrol said Mrs. McBride's car drifted onto the shoulder, then veered across traffic and hit the Staley car, which overturned. Mrs. McBride was cited for failing to drive in a single lane of traffic.

Ronald S. Kish, 24, of Oakland, was reported in fair condition at Harkness Community Hospital, San Francisco, with a compound fracture of the right leg suffered when his motorcycle hit a van head-on on Shoreline Highway in Tamalpais Valley at 1:30 p.m. yesterday. Van driver Craig R. Morris, 22 of San Franciscop was uninjured. Kish's motorcycle skidded on wet pavement, the patrol said.

Catherin F. Ghiringhelli, 51, of 25 Harcourt Street, San Rafael, was treated at Marin General Hospital for scrapes and bruises after a tire went flat and her car hit the center rail on Highway 101 in Corte Madera at 11:30 a.m. She was cited for driving with an unsafe tire.

Isaac G. Velanzquez, 30, of 1355 San Anselmo Avenue, San Anselmo, was treated at Marin General Hospital for bruises and scrapes on the left elbow and left temple today after his car went off Highway 101 and overturned on Alto Hill at 12:55 a.m.

Bay Bills To Finance Committee

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — All three major bills to continue controls over filling of San Francisco Bay won unanimous endorsement today by the Senate Governmental Efficiency Committee.

The unprecedented move sent all three to the Finance Committee, which is dominated by the same senior senators as is the governmental efficiency committee. Thus, presumably the decision on which bill is to survive still must be made by the finance committee.

The three bills and a host of others which the committee has been sitting on, were voted out without debate. The chairman of the committee, Sen. Richard J. Dolwig, R-San Mateo, previously had announced no action would be taken on the three bills until the committee heard a fourth one next month.

The three bills voted out today were by Dolwig, and Sens. Nicholas C. Petris, D-Oakland, and Milton Marks, R-San Francisco. All three continue the life of the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission, and the bills by Petris and Dolwig would extend the jurisdiction of the BCDC to the shoreline and salt ponds.

Marks' bill would merely extend the life of the commission, due to go out of existence late this year unless the legislature acts to extend its life.

The postcard celebrates its centennial this year, the National Geographic says. It was introduced on Oct. 1, 1869, in Austria.

Planners Approve Division Of Lots On Shelter Bay

Application by the Bank of America to divide 31.47 acres on Shelter Bay into four lots was approved last night by the Mill Valley Planning Commission, Director Harvey E. Bragdon reported.

Bragdon said the property is zoned commercial recreational and all but 14 acres will be developed with restaurants, motels and other recreationally oriented commercial uses. Apartments are planned for the 14-acre parcel, he said.

Vote was 2-0 with commissioners Robert E. Burton and Paul E. Rosenthal abstaining. Commissioners Edward Farrell, Sally Garoutte and Harlan L. Soeten were absent.

The commission denied a request by Gulf Oil Co. to rezone the northwest corner of East Blithedale Avenue and Camino Alto from professional administrative to general commercial. A request for a use permit to demolish an existing Hancock service station and construct a Gulf Oil station was also denied on a 3-1 vote with only Chairman Richard J. Hiatt supporting the application.

Opponents said the corner was a poor location for a service station and that the future of the property is in doubt if the intersection is relocated, Bragdon said.

The Mill Valley Planning Commission Also:

APPOINTMENT — Named Farrell as the commission's representative to the city's street lighting committee.

HOWARD JOHNSON—Opposed the proposed six-story high-rise motel, restaurant, service station complex on the Howard Johnson property on Richardson Bay as overcrowding the site, being out of sale for the area and blocking the view of the bay.

701 PLAN — Continued discussion on the 701 general an until 8 p.m. June 9 for a full commission hearing.

ENCROACHMENT — Postponed consideration of an encroachment application by Joseph Sparrowhawk for 602 Ralston Avenue to June 9 at the request of the city engineer.

Special Contract

A special contract for relocation of water facilities in connection with the widening of the San Rafael viaduct on Highway 101 will be considered by Marin Municipal Water District board at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow in the district office, 220 Nellen Avenue, Corte Madera.

Suspended Sentence For Carrying Gun

Larry Gene Harper, 35, of Cotati yesterday was placed on one year probation and given a 30-day suspended jail sentence by Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Superior Court for having a pistol in his possession.

Harper, a convicted felon, had earlier pleaded guilty to having the gun which he tried to pawn Nov. 15 in San Rafael.

Three Youths In Custody In Theft Of Gun, Jewelry

Three youths were in custody and a fourth sought today in connection with the theft of a gun and more than $500 in jewelry, radios and other items from the San Rafael home of the principal of Davidson Junior High School.

Suspected of the daylight burglary of the home of Hanlon P. Tharp at 90 Chula Vista Drive are Richard Sheldon Knowles, 18, of 49 Delores Street, and Casey Lawrence Porter, 19, of 2008 Fifth Avenue, both San Rafael, and Michael Anthony Omizzolo, 16, of 107 Live Oak Drive, Fairfax.

Police — working on information supplied by a witness who allegedly saw two of the boys enter the Tharp home shortly after noon yesterday — stopped a car carrying the three near Knowles' home later in the day. Some of the stolen items were recovered from the youths' clothing and the car, police said. The gun, a .38-caliber revolver, was missing, as was a fourth suspect.

Police said Tharp's home was entered through a kitchen window. Among the items stolen were a $200 wristwatch, $200 in miscellaneous jewelry and a $100 stereophonic radio.

In addition to each being booked for investigation of burglary, Knowles was suspected of possessing marijuana for sale and Porter of marijuana possession. Bail was set at $3,215 each for appearance in Marin Municipal Court today.

Omizzolo was taken to Juvenile Hall.

Eighty-five per cent of the nation's municipalities of 50,000 population or more had housing codes in 1967, the National Commission on Urban Problems reports.

Stokes, says he will recommend to directors that they lease it for $1 a year to the city.

Frank Bardacke, representing the People's Park Negotiating Committee, declared, however, that its aim is still the original university-owned lot.

Bardacke, a former teaching assistant who was suspended following "Stop the Draft Week" demonstrations, declared "we're going to stay in the streets because we have the people behind us. That fence will come down and we will have the whole area for a park. We will have a march of 50,000 people on Friday to demand that the fence come down."

Here's a rundown of activities yesterday at the other U.C. campuses:

Santa Cruz—Chancellor Dean McHenry dismissed classes for two days urging students and teachers "to intensive examination of the problems of higher education in general and to the Santa Cruz campus in particular."

Santa Barbara — Students called for a two-day classroom boycott but Chancellor Vernon I. Cheadle told the faculty to hold classes, to discuss the problem. The administration reported very little absenteeism.

San Diego — Classes were nearly as usual although 2,500 attended a convocation called by the Academic Senate.

Riverside — About half of the 4,500 students skipped classes although only 40 of the 525 teachers failed to appear in classrooms.

Irvine — Chancellor Daniel Aldrich called off classes for four hours for a convocation to discuss Berkeley.

Davis — There was no disturbance and no attendance figures because they are never kept at this campus. Students on the Davis campus, nearest to the capitol, acted as sponsor of the march-rally.

UCLA — Officials said about 30 per cent of the students and teachers struck classes, but that the campus was "very, very quiet and orderly." There were several orderly pickets but no interference with those who wanted to attend classes.

Berkeley — A rally drew only 200 persons who marched later to a park across a street from where those arrested May 15 were being arraigned.

Teacher's Wife Pleads Guilty On Marijuana

The wife of a psychology professor — formerly of Mill Valley — yesterday pleaded guilty in Marin Municipal Court to a felony charge of marijuana possession. A similar count against her husband was dismissed.

Judge Peter Allen Smith ordered the woman, Barbara Ellen Schiffman, 24, to appear in Superior Court July 7 for sentencing.

Mrs. Schiffman and her husband, David Charles, 28, were arrested Nov. 15, 1968, by narcotics and postal inspectors who were searching for drugs believed to have been shipped illegally through the mail.

Although the agents sought LSD, they found only enough marijuana for six or seven cigarettes.

Schiffman told agents he was on leave as an assiatant professor of psychology at a New York college. The couple has since returned to the East.

Suspect Fails To Show In Court

A 38-year-old Petaluma man failed to appear in Southern Sonoma Municipal Court yesterday and forfeited $1,250 bail he put up after being arrested May 3 on suspicion of attempted burglary.

Howard Crump, of 28 Bridge Street, failed to appear to enter a plea, court officials said, and his bail was ordered forfeited.

Crump was arrested after police said they found him acting suspiciously and in possession of a switchblade knife near a Petaluma drive-in restaurant. Several window screens on the restaurant had been slashed but it had not been entered, police said.

Low Bidder Awaits Army Nod

Neil T. Burton of Kentfield was low bidder yesterday for construction of a chlorine house at the Sausalito-Marin City Sanitation District treatment plant, but the district board delayed awarding a contract because Army approval for the project has not been received.

The plant is on Army property at Fort Baker. Burton's bid of $10,980 was low among three bidders.

Board president Cyril G. Hansen said Army approval is expected in approximately two weeks and the bid will be valid for 45 days.

The board also passed to committee for study a proposal by the Marin County Health Department that the district take charge of garbage collection in the Waldo Point area.

New Main Approved

The Bolinas Community Public Utility District board last night approved laying a new water main on Mesa Road between Evergreen Road and Overlook Drive as the first phase of water service to the site of the future Bolinas fire station on Mesa Road. Cost was estimated at $1,500.

CREEK

1966 board meeting — had disappeared.

Kent put his niece, Marty Kent Jones, on the stand and she testified that a map reportedly filed with the supervisors' resolution on the flood control project did not show Tamalpais Creek. (Mrs. Jones, who lives in Kent Woodlands, has led demonstrations against altering the creek.)

County Public Works Director Donald R. Frost, Godino's witness, was asked to identify a 1964 study of the flood control project by the League of Women Voters.

Frost said the study included a map which showed that Tamalpais Creek was a part of the project and that it was to be a 450-foot concrete-lined channel up to Goodhill Road.

"Who prepared this document?" Godino asked. "Mrs. Alice Stephens," replied Frost. "Is she Roger Kent's daughter?" the counsel asked and Frost answered, "Yes."

Kent, speaking about the vandalism, told the court there were three pumping facilities available including that of the Kentfield Fire Department to pump out the creek but that there was no effort made by the engineers or contractor to pump it out.

"I say," said Kent, "any damages caused were not caused by any action of Marin County but are the responsibility of the Army Corps of Engineers and the contractor.

Kent also produced declarations of five county supervisors who voted on the flood control project in 1966 but stated they couldn't recall hearing about the inclusion of Tamalpais Creek.

He ended his presentation by quoting from a letter from his father, William Kent to President Theodore Roosevelt, dated Jan. 30, 1908 after his father had donated Muir Woods as a national monument:

"I thank you from the bottom of my heart for your message of appreciation and hope and believe it will strengthen me to go on in an attempt to save more of the precious and vanishing glories of nature."

Prior to the actual ruling, Judge Gardiner said he was going to express a tentative opinion and let the attorneys "shoot at it."

"It seems to me we've got too far to stop this project," he said. "The best thing is to dissolve the injunction and give no temporary injunction. But, at the same time, I think the procedure is void. The question is how can the situation be corrected?

"I would assume that if you try this that some overall solution should be found to make it more suitable to the community." (Judge Gardiner referred to a condemnation suit brought by the flood control district and pending in court against the four property owners, whose property borders the creek, to condemn portions of their land for the project)

The Judge Gardiner asked Kent if he, representing Kent Woodlands Properties, would post a $100,000 bond on a temporary injunction and Kent said, "No, sir."

Then the judge ruled.

Ex-Larkspur Pair Plead Guilty

A former Larkspur couple who fled last July before they could be tried on narcotics charges, yesterday pleaded guilty in Marin Superior Court to two felony counts of selling methedrine.

Judge Harold J. Haley set sentencing for Robert and Patricia Chidester Delzell for June 30.

A felony charge of failing to appear for trial against Mrs. Delzell was dismissed.

Delzell is currently serving a three-year federal sentence at McNeill Island Penitentiary in Washington. His wife, whom he married after they both fled, was extradited from Oregon last month.

Feather River Water Accord

OROVILLE (UPI) — The apparent final chapter of the once-bitter middle fork of the Feather River hydroelectric project controversy was written here today.

A pair of agreements resolving complicated Feather water rights were signed by representatives of the state Department of Water Resources, the Pacific Gas & Electric Co. and several Sacramento Valley irrigation districts.

The agreements assure water needed for valley rice growers and eliminate the need for the four districts to build a $74 million power and irrigation project on the scenic middle fork of the Feather.

these areas of concern about the Apollo 10 flight:

Poor communications with the LEM during the first low pass over the moon.

Telementry date showed that the LEM lost cabin pressure after it was unmanned, pushed away from the command ship and sent rocketing off into space. If loss of pressure happened with astronauts aboard the LEM, they would be protected by pressurized space suits but would have to return to the command ship, abandoning the effort to land on the moon.

Problems with two of the power-producing fuel cells.

The loosening of insulation on the command ship hatch during a pressurization exercise.

"We think we understand the reason for most of these," Low said. "If anything, the list we have today of things that bother us is considerably smaller than we had on the last flight at the same time."

Courtroom Escaper Sentenced

A 20-year-old transient who escaped from Marin Superior Court in February was sentenced yesterday to 10 months in jail for the escape and two car thefts.

Judge E. Warren McGuire also placed Robert Bruce Jones on two years probation and gave him a suspended prison sentence. He is to be given credit for four months he has already spent in jail.

Jones, who was described as a resident of the Haith-Ashbury in San Francisco, ran from a courtroom Feb. 11 where he was awaiting a trial setting for the first car theft. While he was free, he stole another car, but was arrested two days later.

He also made an abortive attempt to flee Judge McGuire's courtroom while on trial for the three felony charges but was quickly captured in the hall.

On the next day, March 27, he pleaded guilty to all the charges.

Judge McGuire yesterday ordered Jones to seek psychiatric treatment.

Novato Stores Are Burglarized

Two stores in downtown Novato were victims of burglaries during the weekend, police reported today.

In each case, the burglar entered the store through the roof and left the same way, reports said.

The Amer Griffin Bookstore at 1769 A Grant Avenue was entered between 3 p.m. Sunday and 10 a.m. yesterday, said owner Marta L. Grier. The burglar took $51 in cash.

The Thrift-D-Lux Cleaners at 1763 Grant Avenue was entered between 4:30 p.m. Saturday and 8:45 a.m. yesterday and $8 in cash taken, Twila M. Dawson, the owner, told police.

Cash Stolen From School

Burglars who broke into Homestead School in Mill Valley either Friday or Saturday took unknown amounts of money from various rooms in the school, sheriff's officers said today.

Among the cash stolen were payments made by students for class pictures. The thieves left behind checks, deputies said.

Stolen keys were dropped on the floor of the school, but not before one had been used to open a soft drink machine.

Irish-Brogue Appeal To Live In Trailer

A fiery, 77-year-old night watchman, who lives in a mobile home at the county heliport site south of Richardson Bay Bridge, pleaded yesterday for a chance to live in the trailer for five or six more months.

Duke C. Winston, speaking with an Irish brogue, appealed to County Zoning Administrator Thomas E. Cordill.

"I've been here since 1905," said Winston, "I love this county, that I do. In spite of you people, I'm going to be buried here."

He said he does not want to move to Sonoma County. "I want a spot on the waterfront in Marin County."

Cordill said he would take the appeal under submission and give his decision later.

There are two other trailers and an old school bus that are being used as residences in the area. John Hau, deputy zoning administrator, said the county is taking action to abate these illegal residences.

Winston said he works for McCoy Enterprises to watch the property at night. He told Cordill he plans to build a boat in about five months, and will then move his trailer away.

50 Seek Ross School Position

Fifty persons have applied for the position of superintendent of the Ross School District, according to Stanley Friese, assistant superintendent of Marin County Schools who is directing the initial screening.

Friese said the screening committee would review applications this week and recommend top candidates to the Ross School District board.

The board is seeking a replacement for Robert D. Gowan, who resigned.

In other Southern Sonoma action, the supervisors approved the second progress estimate on the construction of Pepper Road between Walker and Petaluma-Valley Ford roads and authorized the payment of $4,446 to Reichold and Jurkovich, the project contractor.

New Speed Limit North Of Novato

A 55-mile-per-hour zone has been established along a half-mile section of Highway 101 north of Novato, according to the state Division of Highways.

The reduction from 65 miles an hour from 200 feet north of Atherton Avenue to 1,700 feet north of San Marin Drive was made after an investigation at the request of the California Highway Patrol.

The new limit will become effective when signs are posted, probably within a few weeks.

No Cutbacks In Activity At Hamilton

Hamilton Air Force Base will remain at or near the present level of activity during the foreseeable future, according to information received from Washington by Supervisor William A. Gnoss.

Gnoss said he got word from Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-First District, that several replacement units are being considered to occupy the space to be vacated by the inactivation of the Fourth Air Force Headquarters.

Air Force Col. John J. Shaughnessy, chief of the plans group, legislative liaison in Washington, D.C., is quoted as saying:

"We anticipate that the base will remain at or near the present level of activity.

"The Air Force does not plan to close Hamilton Air Force Base. The recent announcement concerning the inactivation of the combat center and Fourth Air Force Headquarters will not affect its continuance as an active air force installation during the foreseeable future."

Demobilization Is Set For 900 Reservists

A demobilization day program for the 349th Military Airlift Wing and the 938th Military Airlift Group will be held at 3 p.m., Thursday at Hamilton Air Force Base.

The 900 men of the two organizations were recalled to active duty following the Pueblo incident in January, 1968.

Some of the men who have fulfilled their military obligation will be released from the service at that time, but the majority of them will be returned to inactive reserve status, said Maj. Donald T. Brill, information officer. The effective date of the demobilization is June 1, but because of the holiday Friday and the weekend, the ceremony will be held Thursday, he said.

The 349th or Golden Gate Wing has had its headquarters at Hamilton for the past 10 years. By July 1, the wing headquarters will be moved to Travis Air Force Base.

The 938th group has been flying the C-124 Globemaster cargo plane. When it moves to Travis, it will fly the C-141 "Starlifter" cargo plane.

Since being recalled to active duty, the men of the 349th have been assigned to England, Germany, Korea and Southeast Asia.

In that year and a half of regular duty, they have flown 964 missions for a total of 28,007 hours, airlifting 24,326 tons of cargo for a total of 36 million ton miles. They have also airlifted 3,686 passengers for a total of 5,131,900 passenger miles.

Brig. Gen. Rollin B. Moore was commander of the wing at the time of its recall to active duty. Last August he was promoted to Major General and assigned as commander of air force reserves. He was succeeded by the present commander, Col. Jesse A. Irwin.

School Honors Kentfield Girl

Marguerite Smith, 17, daughter of Judge and Mrs. Peter Allen Smith of Kentfield, has been named the outstanding student in her graduating class at the Convent of the Sacred Heart in San Francisco.

She and 12 other San Francisco public and parochial high school students were honored by the California Savings and Loan Association at a luncheon at the Fairmont Hotel. She received a $100 award.

Miss Smith, who attended St. Anselm's School in San Anselmo, plans to enter University of California at Los Angeles this fall.

Shop Center Plan

An addition to the Red Hill Shopping Center will be considered at 8 p.m. Wednesday at city hall by the San Anselmo Design Review Committee. The addition is proposed for an existing building at the northwest corner of the center.

37 Marin Girls Due Diplomas At San Domenico

Twenty-seven Marin County girls will receive their eighth grade diplomas from San Domenico Lower School in San Anselmo at 10:30 a.m. Friday in Alumnae Hall.

Father B. Cole, O.P., who is Newman adviser at Marin Junior College, will address the graduates and award diplomas.

A reception for families and friends will be held in the library following graduation.

Paper Flowers By Marin Artist

The paper flowers on the cover of the June issue of Family Circle were designed by San Rafael artist Jackie Curry.

Mrs. Curry also designed the plastic flowers in kit form which are shown inside the magazine.

Mrs. Curry, of 109 Dominican Drive, is a free lance artist and has designed for Better Homes and Gardens for the past six years.

Driver Safety Fund Allocated To Marin

Funds to improve driver safety along a 10-mile stretch of Highway 101 in Marin County have been allocated by the California Highway Commission.

The commission voted $56,000 for removal and modification of existing guard rails and for the installation of new guard rails between the north end of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway 17, south of San Rafael.

Eagle Awards To Two Scouts Of Troop 48

Two Marin Boy Scouts, members of Troop 48 sponsored by Shepherd of the Hill Lutheran Church, Tiburon, will receive Eagle Awards at 7:30 p.m. June 5 at Del Mar School, Tiburon.

Jan Gobershock and Michael King will receive the awards from their Scoutmaster Miles T. (Ted) McMillan. It will be his last court of honor with the troop as he plans to leave for Bangkok.

Gobershock, 14, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Gobershock of 89 Bay Vista Drive, Mill Valley, and a graduating eighth grader at Edna Maguire School in Mill Valley.

He has been a member of the troop since March 1966 and has served as quartermaster and senior patrol leader. He is a member of the Order of the Arrow and a member of the Ceremonial Dance Team of the order.

Gobershock will attend the National Jamboree of Boy Scouts of America at Farragut, Idaho, this summer and plans to continue in scouting as an assistant in troop 48 and in Sea Scouting and Explorer Scouts.

His community service projects have included the Mill Valley Methodist Church and the Sehpherd of the Hills Lutheran Church and the Tiburon Marine Laboratory, a project which has prompted plans for further study in marine biology.

King, 14, a freshman at Redwood High School, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alan King of Tiburon. A member of the troop for three years, he has focused on helping younger boys progress in scouting. He has been troop scribe, assistant patrol leader and patrol leader.

At the court of honor the first edition of the troop newspaper, "Shark," will be published. King started the paper and organized Scouts to write for it.

He also holds the Order of the Arrow and has earned the Ner Talmid Medal, a religious scouting award.

He will also attend the national jamboree in Farragut this summer and is patrol leader for Jamboree Troop 38.

Dixie School Is Burglarized

Personnel arriving for work yesterday morning at Dixie School in Lucas Valley discovered that the school had been broken into, ransacked and about $15 stolen.

The cash came from a box in the nurse's office, where a door had been pried open, according to sheriff's deputies. A soft drink machine in another part of the school had been smashed, apparently with a crowbar, officers said, and cash taken from it also.

The burglars also broke about 15 bottles of soft drinks on the playground outside the school.

FM Receiver Stolen

Burglars, who kicked open a back door to the garage at the home of Kenneth R. Vollintine at 729 Sequoia Valley Road, Homestead Valley, Friday, took an FM receiver valued at $525, a record player, television set and a camera, sheriff's deputies said today.

SACRAMENTO ROUNDUP

College Opportunity Bills Gain Amid Charges Of Credit Theft

SACRAMENTO (UPI—A Democratic-sponsored bill setting up a comprehensive $16.3 million program to provide college educations for minority youths has cleared an Assembly committee amid charges the Republican leadership wanted "to steal it."

The Education Committee yesterday approved a bill by Assembly Democratic Leader Jess M. Unruh that would finance college educations for 8,000 minority youths who don't meet entrance requirements.

The committee also cleared a more restricted Educational Opportunities Program (EOP) bill authored by Speaker Robert T. Monagan, R-Tracy. It earmarks $2.5 million to continue EOP at the state colleges only.

Assemblyman Willie L. Brown Jr., D-San Francisco, said there was a "conspiracy" among Republicans "to get Mr. Unruh off and Mr. Monagan on" as principal author of a bill which would result from merging the present bills.

Assemblyman Victor V. Veysey, R-Brawley, the committee chairman, told Brown: "I don't know where you got your information, but I haven't heard of it."

But Unruh, D-Inglewood backed up Brown's accusation. He said he had been approached by a GOP assemblyman who suggested Monagan be listed as principal author.

Both bills were sent to the Ways and Means Committee for financial study.

In another action, the committee sent to the floor a measure by Veysey placing control of the Coordinating Council for Higher Education in the hands of the six public members.

The council advises on policy implementing the master plan for higher education. Its critics complained the 12 members representing the University of California, state colleges, junior colleges and private institutions often "voted in a bloc" to serve their own self interests.

Each of the four segments of higher education now has three representatives. Veysey's bill would reduce them to one representative each.

TAX PLAN POLLED

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Gov. Ronald Reagan faces a public opposed to his basic tax policies, according to the latest California Poll.

In a survey released today, pollster Mervin D. Field reported that 55 per cent of state taxpayers back a pay-as-you-go tax program — opposed by Reagan — while 37 per cent are for lump sum payments. Eight per cent give qualified answers or had no opinion.

Last month, the governor proposed a massive tax reform measure, which essentially would reduce the tax on residential property by about 50 per cent and offset this loss of revenue with a state income tax hike.

The Field poll found 48 per cent against this change, 36 per cent for it, and 16 per cent undecided.

GHETTO SCHOOLS

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A bill permitting California ghettos to set up experimental school districts on the pattern of Brooklyn's Brownsville experiment reached the Assembly Education Committee today.

An education subcommittee last night approved the bill by Assemblyman Leon Ralph, D-Los Angeles.

One of Ralph's principal witnesses was Rhody McCoy, unit administrator of the independent New York City school district that figured in a teacher strike last fall.

McCoy said Ralph's measure was "a sound approach." The bill would authorize experimental independent districts controlled by parents within major school districts. It would apply only to Los Angeles, San Francisco, Oakland and San Diego.

McCoy said that since the Brownsville district became independent, tests showed 98 per cent of 760 children in one school advanced their learning ability by 1 1-2 years in only five months.

POLLUTION FINES

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A bill slapping a $6,000 per day fine on individuals or organizations which violate laws against polluting water was unanimously approved yesterday by the Senate Water Resources Committee.

The measure by Assenblyman Carley V. Porter, D-Compton, was sent to the upper house Finance Committee after a five-minute hearing.

McMorris M. Dow, deputy San Francisco city attorney, was the only opponent to the bill, whose provisions also cover local governments. His primary opposition was to the stiff fine for violations.

Draft File Burners Guilty; Court Uproar

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Scuffling and shouting broke out in the courtroom when a jury convicted 12 members of an antiwar group of stealing and burning about 4,000 files from a Selective Service headquarters.

Pushing and shoving between bailiffs and supporters of the defendants began last night when a young woman among the 140 spectators shouted: "We thank you, men and women of the jury, for finding Jesus Christ guilty once again!"

Judge Charles L. Lawson called in 18 policemen to help the bailiffs. About 30 of the crowd were carried out of the courtroom singing "We Shall Overcome."

The defendants, including five Roman Catholic clergymen, were on trial for two weeks accused of arson, theft and burglary. The files, stolen Sept. 24, were burned in a park containing a memorial to the dead of World War I.

Judge Larson said he would sentence the 12 on June 6. Maximum penalty is 18 years in prison.

The judge also cited four defendants for contempt of court because of their behavior during ranging from fines of $25 to $50 or five to 10 days in jail.

Senators Again Approve Tighter Mutual Fund Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed for a second time legislation to broaden regulation of the mutual funds industry.

Managers of the bill, which cleared the Senate on a unanimous voice vote yesterday, said it would give substantially greater protection to the 5 million investors in the $50 billion industry. The House is expected to start its hearings on the measure in July.

The 1969 legislation is similar to that which passed the Senate but failed in the House last year. Some changes have been made.

This year's Senate bill deals with the three major areas of management fees and salesmen's commissions cited by the Securities and Exchange Commission in its massive study of mutual funds three years ago. It does not go as far as SEC recommended in any of the areas.

These are the provisions in the measure on these areas:

Management fees—SEC or a shareholder is given the right to bring a court test of whether the investment adviser to a fund has fulfilled his fiduciary duty with respect to the size of the fee.

This is a substitute for the language in the 1968 Senate bill which allowed a test of the reasonableness of the fee; the industry objected strongly to this.

Salesmen's commissions — industry self-regulation is provided for through the National Association of Securities Dealers.

The SEC originally asked for a 5 per cent ceiling on commissions, contending a typical charge now is 9.3 per cent.

Front-end Loads—These apply to contractual plans in which the investor pays regular installments. Alternative methods of regulation are provided.

The fund could continue the present front-end load plan under which the sales commission is 50 per cent of the first year's payment. But, if it did so, it would have to a agree that the entire transaction could be rescinded in the first 60 days and that, for the first three years, the shareholder could get a re fund of his payments minus a 15 per cent commission.

Or, the sales charge could be limited to 20 per cent each for the first three years.

The SEC had asked that front end loads be abolished.

Ticket Plan May Reduce Arrests

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — In the case of certain misdemeanors, San Francisco policemen will soon be issuing traffic-ticket type citations, rather than taking arrested persons to jail.

Police commission members informally approved last night the plan which had been prepared by Police Chief Thomas Cahill, Asst. Dep. Chief Al Arnaud and Supervising Capt. Edward Cummings.

The department said the citations may start July 1, providing necessary forms can be printed by then.

Basis for the citations is in the State Penal Code and the system was advocated by minority group spokesmen who complained that the poor often spent long periods in jail on minor charges because they could not raise bail.

He announced yesterday he would run for a seat in the Mississippi House in a special election to fill a vacancy.

NEW BAY SPAN DESIGN CHOSEN

A 1,300-foot tied arch will be the main design feature of the next bay toll crossing to be built by the state. The state Division of Highways yesterday approved the design, rejecting recommendations from the Division of Bay Area Toll Crossings for a suspension bridge supported by cables from two diamond-shaped towers. The $265 million project is expected to begin within two years and to be completed by 1975. It will link the Hunters Point area to East Oakland and the Hayward area. (UPI Telephoto)

Son Of Actress Dies In A Motel

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Police say Michael Thiess, son of actress Ursula Thiess, died of a possible overdose of narcotics in the motel room where he lived while working as a construction company clerk.

The body was discovered yesterday by his mother, German-born wife of actor Robert

A note on the door, written in German, instructed his mother to wake him, investigators said. Taylor.

A coroner's autopsy of the death of Thiess, 25, was scheduled.

Detective Sgt. John Slattery said Thiess, a bachelor, was discharged from Camarillo State Hospital last month after treatment of "a mental problem" and was receiving weekly doses of prescription medicines.

In 1964 he was convicted in Munich of attempting to murder his father, German film producer Georg Thiess, by poisoning his tea with insecticide. He served one year in a reformatory.

Language Teacher Quits, Says 'Learning Impossible'

Martin Luther King School's language teacher resigned last night, charging that a lack of support from the school's administration had made "a learning situation impossible."

The Sausalito School Board accepted the resignation of Valerie Joy, effective at the end of the current school year.

In her official letter of resignation to the board, Mrs. Joy said that she felt " . . . the black students will relate better to a black teacher," and was resigning for that reason.

After the meeting, however, Mrs. Joy told the Independent-Journal that she had written that letter several months ago, although she dated it last week.

"Since I wrote the letter, a lot of things have happened," she said. "The learning situation is just not present in the classrooms. Teachers are unable to control their classes and the biggest reason is a lack of support from the school's administration."

She said there was constant friction between white and black students in her classes.

Mrs. Joy is in her second year of teaching in the district. She teaches both Spanish and French. She is the only French teacher in the district at present.

Mrs. Joy went into closed session with the district trustees at the end of the meeting, reportedly to discuss the problems she has encountered. Also in the closed session was William Chaka, the noncredentialed teacher at Martin Luther King.

Two parents, Frank and Delta Christ and their son, Dave, also met in closed session with the board to discuss the recent alleged beating of 14-year-old Diane Fudge, a white student at the Martin Luther King School.

The younger Christ is said to have become involved when he attempted to aid Diana during an attack by black students on Thursday.

The only reference to the incident in open meeting came when Supt. Phillip W. Schneider read a letter from Sausalito Police Chief James D. Wright, in which the chief said he would "like to clarify statements" attributed to him in yesterday's Independent-Journal.

Chief Wright, in a letter to the board, said:

"I did meet with the persons listed in the (newspaper) article Saturday, however, I stated, at the conclusion of the portion of the investigation, the subject of the girl being dragged by the hair across the yard could not be substantiated.

"After talking to the students accused, I determined there had in fact developed a rumble or disturbance, with both sides participating in kicking and hitting. I did not deny the girl was kicked."

The board accepted the letter without comment and the matter drew no question from the audience.

Fire Volunteers Finish Course

Novato volunteer firemen last night completed a 10-hour Red Cross first aid course, according to Fire Chief Jack Kidder.

All but two of the department's 26 volunteers completed the course which will be required by law on July 1, Kidder said.

The annual barbecue will be held starting at noon on June 8 at the Silveira Ranch on Highway 101 north of Novato, co-chairmen Robert Busher and Wilfred Lieb reported.

The volunteers voted to hold their traditional waterball fight with the Kentfield Fire Department on June 14 during Western Weekend Country Fair. It will be held sometime during the afternoon in the Scottsdale area, Kidder said.

Giddings To Speak

Alfred F. Giddings, game warden and outdoor columnist for the Independent-Journal, will speak at a meeting of the United Conservationists and Sportsmen of Marin, at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Marin Rod and Gun Clubhouse at Point San Quentin. The meeting is open to the public.

SESSION ON BUDGET SET FOR MONDAY

The Sausalito School District board will meet next Monday in special session to discuss the 1969-70 budget.

The special meeting was set after last night's meeting ran late and trustees were unable to get to the budget.

The trustees will meet at 7:30 p.m. at the Bayside School.

Prisoner On Death Row Wins Execution Stay

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The U.S. Supreme Court yesterday granted a stay of execution to Edgar L. Robinson, 29, who was scheduled to die in San Quentin's gas chamber June 4 for killing a Los Angeles policeman.

Robinson and Gilbert Durham, 33, were convicted of fatally shooting officer Keith G. DuPuis, 27, in 1967. The officer died 11 days after the shooting.

Unless the high court grants Robinson, whose appeal for a hearing, the stay will be automatically terminated. It is expected to be several months before the court rules.

Robinson, whose appear for a stay was denied by the California Supreme Court April 30, has raised a number of questions, including one to be considered by the Supreme Court in its next term. That is whether standards should be set to limit the discretion of juries in imposing the death penalty.

Ships Make Port After Collision

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Two ships reached San Francisco safely last night after colliding in a thick fog 2 miles northwest of Santa Cruz.

There was no injury aboard either the Hong Kong Truth, a 8,715-ton Liberian freighter, or the Pioneer Valley, a 10,296-ton tanker operated by the William S. Diamond Co. of San Francisco.

Both reached port under their own power under escort by the Coast Guard cutter Point Barrow.

Sausalito Trustees Support Black Panther Breakfasts

The daily, Black Panther-sponsored breakfasts for Sausalito School District students will continue and the program now has the official support of the district's trustees.

The board voted 3-1 last night to continue the program following nearly two hours of discussion with a generally calm crowd of nearly 175 persons who crowded into a classroom at the Bayside School.

Only Trustee James E. Muldoon voted against the breakfast program, saying that he had been flooded with calls from parents protesting the board's allowing a political body to become involved in a school-related program.

Muldoon said that reported "propagandizing" by the Black Panther Party members at the first breakfast last Monday was the main concern of many of the parents.

Supt. Phillip W. Schneider admitted that there were incidents of propagandizing but said that the Panthers involved stopped as soon as requested to do so.

"There have been no other incidents as far as I know," Schneider told the board.

The majority of the large crowd was vocally in favor of the program, and cheered and applauded each speaker during the evening who supported the breakfasts.

One who didn't, however, was Delta Christ of Sausalito. Mrs. Christ charged the Panthers not only with spreading propaganda, but with being responsible for many of the children getting to classes at 10:30 a.m.

"Not only that," she said, "I now find that my son purchased a Black Panther Party newspaper on campus. I think selling anything like that is illegal, isn't it?"

She also said that the Panthers had intimidated many of the merchants in the area in their quest for food donations.

"They handed out a leaflet calling the merchants 'capitalist pigs' and many of the merchants felt very intimidated," Mrs. Christ said.

An unidentified Black Panther denied that the leaflet had used the terms "capitalistic pig," and Mrs. Christ promptly produced a mimeographed sheet addressed to local merchants which used the term.

Muldoon then added that he had received calls concerning the wording of the sheet.

James Leech, of Sausalito, said that opponents to the breakfast program were suffering from "Pantherphobia."

"If this same program were being sponsored by the Rotary or the Lions clubs, none of us would even be here," he said.

"Perhaps if some of you got in and helped, you'd find out that the Panthers aren't as bad as you think."

Dave Townsell, a Black Panther member, said that the Panthers were hoping that the community would step in and take over the feeding program.

"We aren't looking for a base of operations," he said, "we are merely interested in taking care of a basic need, feeding the people. We want the community to become involved and hopefully take it over."

A petition was turned over to the board signed by 21 of 29 teachers at the Martin Luther King School supporting the breakfast program.

The breakfast program has been under attack from some circles because at the first feeding, some of the Panthers led "Free Huey" chants and passed out Black Panther propaganda.

Several opponents to the program said they objected not to the idea of providing free breakfasts, but that a political body was allowed use of school facilities for the program.

Charles G. Clear, who will become a trustee July 1 and who is sitting on the board as an observer, said that he was concerned about an apparent lack of communication in the district since the program began without it ever having come before a board meeting.

Trustee Martha Freebairn-Smith replied that the board's policy allowed the district superintendent to authorize use of school facilities without board approval.

Trustees Nathanial Johnson and Bruce E. Foelfel both indicated they strongly favored the program, as did Mrs. Freebairn-Smith. David Freedheim was absent.

"I think it's beautiful, a beautiful thing," Johnson said several times.

In addition to giving official sanction to the program, the board also set up a committee to try and bring the general community into the program and named Mrs. Freebairn-Smith to head it.

SECOND PEOPLE'S PARK

Berkeley Mayor Wallace Johnson (right) walks through the latest People's park to take root in the troubled university city. This one was created Sunday on unusuad Bay Area Rapid Transit District property. Though it blossomed without permission like the original park over which blood was shed, steps are being taken to make the new People's Park legal. (See story on page 1.) (UPI Telephoto)

Sonoma State College Students In New Vote

Sonoma State College students were at the polls again today in their fourth attempt to elect a student government but there were doubts as to the legality of the voting and indications the results would be challenged.

Today's election is the runoff that was supposed to have been held Friday among the leading votegetters of the general election held last Wednesday. Wednesday's general election was held after an earlier general election and runoff were declared invalid.

The Friday runoff was not held, said former elections commissioner James S. Dierke, when presidential candidate James Gillette objected because the school's psychology students, his political power base, were not on campus.

The psychology students were off on what was termed, but not explained, as a "mass freakout."

Gillette is challenging John Owen, a junior political science major from Novato who was the leader in all of the previous elections.

The legal hitch in the runoff being held today and tomorrow, Dierke said, is that the old student government went out of constitutional existence at 12:01 a.m. Saturday. There is a legal question, he said, of whether a non-existent government can sponsor elections for a new government.

Sonoma State administrative officials, however, have ruled that Russell Grindle, the current election commissioner and the fourth since Dierke was fired for refusing to obey election rules imposed by the old student board of directors, can legally run the election.

Several students called the Independent-Journal to indicate they would challenge the outcome of the election being held today.

Other contested posts in the runoff are academic vice president between Richard Saarinen and Irvin Moore and chairman of the board between John Callaway and Greg Jilka.

New Campaign To Get Gibraltar

MADRID (London Express) — Spain appears to be starting a new task in the campaign of propaganda and harassment for Gibraltar to be handed to her by Britain.

One of Spain's top generals opened it in a lecture in which he claimed that Spanish control of the Straits of Gibraltar would qualify her as "a useful and important member of NATO.

Lt. Gen. Manuel Chamorro, commander of the Seville Military Region facing Britain's fortress on the rock, reiterated General Franco's assessment that Gibraltar is not worth a war with Britain but that Spain must get it back somehow.

Permission Granted

Mill Valley Planning Director Harvey E. Bragdon yesterday granted a variance to permit construction of a one room addition to a single family house at 165 Elm Avenue, requested by David Stern at a zoning hearing held in city hall.

Novato Planners Resist Plan To Shrink Park Site

A request to change the master plan of San Marin to eliminate 3.8 acres from a park and allow multiple dwelling construction was denied last night by the Novato Planning Commission.

The vote was 5-0 with commissionrs Lee C. Wise and Frank Valim absent, reported Warren Baker, assistant planning director.

The request came before the commission at its May 12 meeting but was referred to the parks and recreation advisory commission, which last week unanimously recommended denial.

About 25 people from San Marin attended the meeting to oppose elimination of the park from the master plan, Baker said.

The Novato Planning Commission Also:

BOARDING HOUSE — Received a petition with 49 signatures protesting a boarding house requested by Jack D. Kinney at 1679 Hill Road. The request was withdrawn.

SETBACK — Approved a request to reduce from 30 to 25 feet the side yard set back for the Hy-Lond Convalescent Hospital at the southwest corner of Hill Road and Indian Valley Road.

USE PERMIT — Asked the Novato City Council to extend for one year the requirement for a use permit for all new construction in commercial districts as requested by Seday and Cooke, planning consultatnts who are making a study of the downtown area.

CONTINUED—Continued until June 2 consideration of changes in the master plan for 75 acres of Bahia at the end of Bugeia Lane for the Union Bank of Los Angeles.

Defense Spending Wastes Are Cited

WASHINGTON (AP) — The military is pouring untold billions of dollars into defense contractors' pockets for weapons that often don't work, a bipartisan group of senators and representatives said today.

The subcommittee's report followed hearings last November and January into the defense procurement program that totaled $44 billion in fiscal 1968—25 per cent of the federal budget.

"The wasteful, inefficient practices uncovered in the course of the hearings raise basic questions concerning the Defense Department's management of its own affairs," the report said.

"In the past literally billions of dollars have been wasted on weapons systems that have had to be canceled because they did not work," the subcommittee said. "Other systems have performed far below contract specifications."

"The result of the absence of effective cost controls, coupled with a number of policies and practices discussed in this report, has resulted in a vast subsidy for the defense industry, particularly the larger contractors," the report said.

Pentagon officials agree with much of the report. But they pointed out the new administration under Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird has started to overhaul procedures for buying major weapons systems.

Barry J. Shillito, assistant secretary of defense for installations and logistics, concurred with the recommendation that Congress be given periodic reports on the status of expensive weapons projects. He said a reporting system is being set up and he said he hoped that such information as cost increases could be made public under the arrangement.

The Pentagon did take issue with a recommendation to enforce provisions of the Truth-In-Negotiations Act on cantractors' cost estimates.

J. M. Malloy, a member of the installations and logistics staff, said law now allows the Pentagon to waive the requirements in certain essential contract situations.

"There are times when this waiver has been absolutely essential," Malloy said.

At the same time the Pentagon announced its joint logistics review board is starting a review of the Vietnam buildup to see what lessons could be applied to the future. Booz-Allen Applied Research Inc. of Bethesda, Md., was awarded a $315,114 contract to assist the board in its work.

The subcommittee singled out the following Pentagon procurement practices for criticism:

The increasingly heavy use of noncompetitive bidding for contracts.

The government's provision of property and working capital to contractors which "constitutes a government subsidy and contributes to concentration within this industry."

Progress payments to contractors that "are not necessarily related to progress in the sense of work completed."

The grant of exclusive patent rights for inventions produced on government work.

The pyramiding of profits to the prime contractor through subcontracting to other companies.

Failure to enforce provisions of the Truth-In-Negotiations Act on contractors' cost estimates.

The absence of uniform accounting practices and the use of change orders for contracts that allow the contractor to boost his profits.

Reliance on the contractor's cost estimates rather than using a standard of what the weapon should cost.

The absence of ongoing reports to Congress on the progress and cost of weapon systems.

Pools Granted For Clinic Use

The Rohnert Park Recreation Commission last night granted a Sonoma State College request for the use of its community swimming pools for a water polo clinic Sept. 6-13 for coaches from other California colleges which will compete in a new water polo league next fall.

Commission Chairman Ronald E. Rasmussen also reported today that the city's men's softbal league with seven teams will open June 9 and the new Rohnert Park Babe Ruth baseball program for boys 13 to 15 years old will start in early June. The Babe Ruth League will have five teams from Rohnert Park and two from Healdsburg, he said.

The commission set a special meeting for 7 p.m. June 4 at Rohnert Park City Hall to discuss its 1969-70 budget.

The Long, Long Scarf Ties Together Outfit With Drama

Few people would argue that the scarf, an accessory that has been gaining prominence for many seasons has become "the accessory of the year."

There are solids: there are prints, either abstract or traditional; there are stripes and there are polka dots. To add to the dilemma of which scarf to choose, this season there are a variety of possible shapes. The traditional square scarf continues, but the emphasis, by fashion experts and the public, is on the oblong. There are even varieties within that classification; the oblong may be simply that, an extended rectangle or it can also mean a narrow bias-cut tie.

Differing from other years, this season's scarf has many more uses than ever before. Although it is frequently used as neckwear, it is liable to be tied in the manner of a man's four-in-hand, or it can be looped simply and left streaming in the breeze a la Isadora. Since many oblongs come up to nine feet in length, they make marvelous turbans and can be easily wrapped around the head for a very sophisicated look. Ever more popular, the scarf encircling the waist creats a gerat belt, and in devising a gypsy outift, scarves in quantity are an absolute must.

No matter where, when or how, you wear your scarf, it adds the touch that draws together an entire costume and creates a completed look.

AN EXAGGERATED ascot-tied with the longest oblong-to flow down the front of the mini-est dress or maxi-est coat.

WHEN YOU WANT a touch of color to use in an unusual way, tie a scarf on your handbag or, as here, an oblong on the highest point of your shoulderbag strap.

Mrs. John Burnham Elected First President Of New Hospital Branch

MRS. JOHN BURNHAM

Mrs. John Burnham of Mill Valley is the first president of the newly formed Old Mill Branch of Marin General Hospital Volunteers.

This will be a social and fund-raising group of members, whose husbands will be associate members.

Mrs. Burnham says she is planning a get-acquainted party in June, and the first fundraiser will be an "Outdoor Night in Tahiti" to be held around the pool at the Burnhams' home.

Born in a San Francisco hospital, Louise is all but technically a native of Mill Valley, for her family moved there just after the 1906 earthquake. Her father, who was chief engineer of the River and Harbor Divisions of the United States Army Engineers, bought one of the old estates in Mill Valley that even had its own private schoolhouse.

The Burnhams now live in a house they built on the property when they were married.

Keenly interested in interior decorating, Louise has emphasized the early day background of their home with antique furnishings, such as a set that came around the Horn from France after surviving a shipwreck. She and her husband upholstered the chairs and love seat after she took a course in this work at Tamalpais High School.

Anything creative, she says, is what she enjoys most. She is widely known for her unusual decorations that she carries out in themes following her original ideas. Several oil paintings done as a result of instruction in Outdoor Art Club sponsored classes are part of her home decor.

Louise attended the old Summit School no longer in existence, Old Mill School and was graduated from Tamalpais High School and the University of California with a major in German. There she was a member of Delta Zeta sorority.

After graduation she worked as a secretary three years for Associated Oil Company, where she met her future husband, who was an assistant advertising manager for the company. He is now an advertising executive with Standard Oil Company of California.

The have two sons, Timothy, a senior at San Francisco State College, and John, who is in his first year in medical school at the University of California.

Louise has always typed all of her sons' term papers. "They do all the work," she says, "and dictate all the material. We have fascinating discussions, and I have learned all kinds of things. I think my interest in their projects has made them more interested in school."

Her major interests include psychology and medicine, and under a doctor's instructions, she has done work in hypnotism with a member of her family.

She devotes one afternoon a week to work at Marin General Hospital in connection with the book cart in-service branch of Pink Ladies. She has been grounds and decorations chairman for the Outdoor Art Club and vice president and decorations chairman for the Mill Valley Community Church Club.

Louise has always been athletically inclined — a real tomboy as a child, she says. She played tennis and took tumbling while in college so that it is not surprising that as one of the more advanced members of the Outdoor - Art - Club - sponsored Yoga class, she is one of those who can do a head stand easily. She keeps in trim by swimming in their pool every day that weather permits.

Other officers of the Old Mill branch of the Marin General Hospital Volunteers, which has 22 charter members, are Mmes: Joseph Witherown vice president; Edmund Pearson, recording secretary; Francis Keane, corresponding secretary; and William Praun, treasurer. Mrs. J. Paul Hurd is membership chairman, and Mrs. Earle F. Reinke, publicity chairman.

STATE REPORT FINDS

Teens Hold Unreal Picture Of Lives

By BARBARA HOSMER

With a lifespan that may extend 25 years longer than their grandmothers, California teenage girls may be holding an unrealistic picture of what their future lives will be like.

'Our educational counseling of girls and young women is not realistically preparing them for life patterns of women as they exist today," stated the California Advisory Committee on the Status of Women in its report delivered to the state legislature and the governor.

The commission had asked more than a thousand girls what roles or combinations of roles they thought they would be filling at various stages of their lives.

'THEIR ANSWERS indicate awareness of certain realities, but a marked lack of how to deal with them," the report states. Only half the girls thought they would be married at age 40, surprisingly, and yet most had picked dead-end occupations and less than a third were planning to go to college. The survey of teen-agers showed also that 42 per cent had doubts about whether they could be successful in business.

Also surveying homemakers, business and professional women and members of the Personnel and Industrial Relations Association, the commission reported that the most promising opportunities for women lay in the fields of electronics, space, research and the computer industries. Yet only six per cent of the teen-agers had picked the science field and only 10 per cent were interested in business.

Another study made by the Employment Section of the commission revealed that too many women seem unaware of their opportunities.

MOST WOMEN see themselves as second-class citizens in the business world, the commission reported, and that 'the negative self - image of women which hampers them in achieving success in business needs to be changed in the early teens.

The commission put forth 35 recommendations calling for action by schools, colleges, women's organizations, city planners, business and industry, foundations, hospitals and government.

The report also said that employers questioned cited traditions and precedents set by culture as blocks to greater use of women's talents in society.

THE SINGLE biggest problem of working mothers at all economic levels proved to be inadequate care of their children while they are on the job, the commission stated.

The 95-page report, which was the result of 15 months study, recommended the following:

1. Inclusion in the Fair Employment Practices Act of prohibition against discrimination based solely on the sex of the worker.

2. Coordination at state and local levels of public and private resources for child care services.

3. School counseling programs be expanded and more realistic counseling be given to girls and women.

4. Community college districts offer counseling classes for adults who need further education or retraining for employment.

5. Involvement in child care services by such groups as churches, hospitals, land developers and employers.

6. Cooperation from the state in providing child care for migrant agricultural workers' children.

7. California's weight lifting law be amended to provide protection for the health of the male as well as the female employee.

8. Information about labor laws affecting workers be given wider circulation.

Due to expire next month, the commission recommended that its work be continued. Chairman is Mrs. Betty Concannon of Atherton.

Party Pants

Party pants threaten to put the party dress into mothballs. It seems almost everyone is wearing them, with wide culotte legs, either in solid shades or wild prints. At Harvey Berin's, designer Karen Stark also shows them with narrow legs, cuffed with jewels. Tops are like pullovers with high throats also jeweled.

FOR SUMMER HOLIDAYS

The tropics of Puerto Rico provide a green backdrop to display this fashion by Junior Sophisticates' designer Tom Nassare. It's white matte jersey with mini-bodice fastened in front with exaggerated gilt hooks and eyes. The skirt falls softly and freely for comfort on warm summer days.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Body Builder Loves Muscles More Than Having Dates

DEAR HELEN:

I am an ardent body builder and a sane health food fanatic. Weight lifting plays an important but not overly dominant role in my life. I often skip a valuable training session because college or my part-time job requires my attention. I've been working longer hours recently as my new car must be paid for.

As you can see, my activities leave me little time for girls. However, I met this real swinger — pretty, sexy, intelligent, funny and a good girl — and she agreed to wear my ring if we lasted for more than three months together.

I spent a fortune on her at the expense of my diet and exercise. Finally I realized my musculature was degenerating due to late hours and no athletic practice, so I went back to my hard training routine. This meant I could only see her once a week. She started dating other fellows.

A confrontation resulted. She accused me of having a narcissus complex with queer overtones, and I fought back by questioning her character because of her desire to see other men. That ended it. We never spoke to each other again.

Was I right or wrong? I simply cannot give up my body building. — MUSCLED BUT GIRL-LESS

DEAR M BUT G:

Perhaps you just chose the wrong girl. What you should look for: One who is pretty, sexy, intelligent, funny, good — and athletic. In other words, more bod than mod. Good luck in finding her. You'll need it. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

My girl friend is so innocent she thinks "Portnoy's Complaint" is a new kind of disease, and "Candy" was a best selling cookbook. What I mean is she won't accept the world as it is, but sees it as she wants it to be: Filled with good, wholesome, honest, honorable people; and those others are so few they don't count.

She forgets to lock her apartment door, and she goes out on dark streets at night. She strikes up conversations with just anybody, and brings home some pretty strange characters because they looked lonely or hungry.

Maybe she has a charmed life, for so far she hasn't been mugged or robbed. But how can I get through to her that trusting everybody is dangerous? When I show her newspaper stories about attacks and murders, she says, "Oh, that wouldn't happen to me!"

I want to marry the girl, and I'm therefore very interested in keeping her alive and well. How? — ENGAGED TO A LOVEABLE NUT

DEAR ETALN:

Amazing! An unfrightened person in this paranoid age! And isn't it a miserable thing that you must teach her fear for her own protection?

How? Perhaps she'll respond more to your worry than your scare talk. Ask that she take a few precautions — because you love her — H.

DEAR HELEN:

What do you do when the guy you like best would rather go out with the boys than out with you?—MISERABLE

DEAR MISERABLE:

Show him two can play that game. Go out with other boys until he gets the message — H.

PARIS DESIGNER Jacques Esterel has designed the total look for the whole family, what he believes is to be the coming thing in fashion. At left is the daytime ensemble, tunic tops all around with matching flared trousers. At right, night time means long dresses for the women and jackets and trousers for the men, but all in a pastel jersey.

Take Care Of Sponges By Suitable Cleaning

Both natural and the synthetic sponges are useful in maintaining cleanliness in the home. Being aware of the kind and size of sponge for the best job and taking care of them after use is very important. Don't throw a sponge away because it's dirty. Clean it.

In buying synthetic sponges, try to buy them with reinforced edges. These sponges are usually oval in shape, will fit into the hand comfortably and will not ravel.

The natural sponge costs about five times more than the synthetic, but will give about five times more wear. Each has its uses and advantages. Each to give maximum use must have proper care.

A natural sponge may be more satisfactory than a synthetic sponge where heavy jobs are required. These jobs include washing down walls, ceilings and cars and windows. This is because the natural sponge has greater absorbency than the synthetic.

The synthetic sponge is particularly suited for washing desks, cleaning sinks, basins, mirrors, glass tops and washing down furniture. The large synthetic sponge with large pores is used for walls and ceilings.

Both types of sponges should be cleaned frequently. Natural sponges should be cleaned in a bucket of warm water to which two handfuls of sal soda have been added. Let soak and then squeeze to clean. This process not only cleans the sponge but gives it back its original resiliency and porosity. The synthetic sponge should be boiled or put into a washing machine with a detergent. No bleaching agent should be used with either type.

Single-Look Style For Whole Family

By JANE ROGERS
London Express

The ultimate in fashion togetherness has arrived. We've now gone one stage further than the one-sex look with the aid of French Couturier Jacques Esterel, who arrived in London with his new fashion idea of not simply one look for both men and women, but the same look for the whole family as well.

"We are going through a new way of life, a mutation," announced Mr. Esterel. "No longer are the sexes segregated. They do the same jobs, they drive the same cars, so why not wear the same clothes, and, while we are about it, let their children wear the same things as well."

TOGETHERNESS Esterel-style means that the whole family turned out in the same gear, usually immaculate jersey trousers with tunic tops all in exactly the same color scheme. The effect is curious.

If this is casual wear — and Mr. Esterel insists that it is — then it certainly has a very formal, Sunday-best air about it. There are his-and-hers pullover tops with a very natty cut about them worn over immaculate white shirts with an inch or so of cuff showing matching chain jewelry, matching trousers and, in one case, matching his and hers hairstyles too — longish bob that curls under, and a fringe. Add sunglasses in matching styles and unless he happens to sport a six o'clock shadow and needs a shave, you'd never tell which is which.

I liked the putty-colored trouser and top set which went with a toffee polo-neck sweater and white polo collar cut clerical style, but if I were wearing it, I wouldn't want to be up-staged by the men in my life, father and son, turning out in exactly the same style.

A good idea from this new Esterel range is the simple straight-hanging jersey top cut to match the trousers. It turns the whole outfit into a neat all-over look without the formality of a trouser suit.

IN THESE DAYS when women take over men's pullovers and jeans as a matter of course and many teen-age boys wear their sisters' skimpy sweaters is there anything so very new about one-sex clothes? Two London stores have opened Unisex departments recently and have been amazed to find that their entire stock was sold out almost immediately. But this is only true of casual wear — the day he wears a ball gown is a long long way off as far as I can see, though she will almost certainly turn up at a dance in a trouser suit next season.

What else did Esterel have to say? He's done a range of what he calls neo-classic dresses and coats cut on simple lines that are very similar to Courreges, but apart from these he is putting his money into knits — clothes made from heavy top-quality jersey which hang beautifully and are comfortable to wear. He has also designed some swinging accessories.

There's a two-tone lace up shoe, for instance, accompanying a matching bag with matching lacing on the flap. For girls who like leather he has some sports clothes including the best leather jerkins I've seen in a long time — they are made from reversed calf in white, trimmed with coffee brown, are sleeveless and fasten simply at the waist. And, needless to say, they are completely unisexual.

Men's Styles

For the surf and sand set, fashions for men this summer turn to bright and bold themes. Prints used in both swim trunks and slacks are large, flamboyant, colorful. The jeans look also is strong with the boys. Now, they won't have to chop off their blue or wheat jeans to convert them to surfers and swimmers. Some manufacturers are making them in the popular chopped-off look.

COST OF FIXING SLIDES: $35,000

Fairfax Council Seeks San Anselmo Aid To Repair Forrest Avenue Rain Damage

The slide which tore away part of Forrest Avenue in Fairfax last winter is actually two slides and it will cost a minimum of $35,000 to fix them properly, the city council learned last night.

"Boht slides will probably reactivate during heavy rainy winters and will progressively enlarge unless substantial preventive measures are taken," said Eugene A. Miller of Hardin, Miller an Associates as he outlined a soils engineeering report his firm did for the city.

The measures he recommended were construction of a series of reinforced concrete shear keys and a connecting grade beam; installation of surface and subsurface drainage, and replacement of the pavement.

Miller said the two adjoining slides total about 100 feet — 75 feet in Fairfax and 25 feet in San Anselmo. The council agreed to ask the San Anselmo City Council tonight if that city would pay for its share of work.

City Administrator Francis R. Lestanguet reported she has applied for state and federal funds for the project and estimated the city could recive $21,000 on a $35,000 project. (The $35,000 figure does not include engineering fees.)

Miller told the council actual construction will take about two months and other time is needed for preparation of plans and for bidding. He recommended starting the procedure no later than mid-June.

The council decided to wait until its June 9 meeting to get the project rolling, while Mrs. Lestanguet tries to find ways of financing the city's $14,000 minimum share.

In other businness, the council heard from Laurence G. Hermann, president of the Fairfax School District Board, on the tax increase election to be held next Tuesday.

Hermann outlined reasons the board is asking an increase in the tax rate of 95 cents per $100 assessed valuation and said Fairfax currently spends the least per child of any district in Marin

He said the board is estimating income on a 2 to 2.5 per cent increase in assessed valuation and promised if it is higher, not all of the tax increase would be levied.

Councilman Robert R. Souza predicted the increase in assessed valuation would increase by 3 to 5 per cent.

The council also approved and presented a resolution commending Leah Jarrett as senior citizen of Fairfax.

Four Sought On Warrants In Oakland

OAKLAND (UPI) — A municipal judge has ordered the arrests of four persons, including the national treasurer of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), in connection with a disturbance at a board of education meeting last week.

Municipal Judge William Levins issued the warrants yesterday after receiving signed complaints of school officials.

Among those named in the warrants were Elijah Turner, national treasurer of CORE, and Percy Moore, executive director of Oakland's Economic Development Council.

Turner was charged with disturbing the peace and interference with an officer. His bail was set at $625.

Charges of felony interference with police and battery upon a policeman were lodged against Moore. His bail was set at $5,000 on each count.

Warrants were also issued for Paul Cobb, chairman of the Black Caucas, and Alphonso Galloway who was charged with disturbing the peace. Cobb was accused of interferring with police and disturbing the peace.

The charges stem from scuffling and shouting matches which erupted during the board of education meeting when several persons rose to protest the hiring of Dr. James Mason as the district's new superintendent.

Newsmen Decry Hayakawa Action On Publications

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A committee of Bay Area newspapermen Monday criticized the methods used by Dr. S. I. Hayakawa in suspending all student publications at San Francisco State College last March.

The California Freedom of Information Committee of Sigma Delta Chi said the decision endangered freedom of opinion.

"To the extent that Dr. Hayakawa sought to suspend the student publications to alter their editorial content, he was wrong," the committee said.

The group, however, agreed with Hayakawa that "editorial control of the Daily Gater should be made more broadly representative of the student body which subsidizes it."

Miss Dechene lives at 888 Bodega Avenue, Petaluma.

Billy Goat Park? Not For Fairfax

A few weeks ago, Fairfax Mayor Francis J. O'Connell causually suggested to an attorney that his client donate a troublesome piece of land to the city for a park.

Last night, to the amusement of the city council, Fairfax was formally offered the land — for $24,000 cash.

Toe property is four lots on the vacant hill on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, next to the Fairfax Nursery. For several months, James B. Johnson has tried unsuccessfully to have various plans approved for the land but most were turned down because there is no way to get to it.

"'It's the most inflated price I've ever heard," sputtered Councilman Adelaide P. Wilson. "If we'd like to condemn it and take it to court, I'm sure we could get it for one-fourth the price."

She pointed out that during one of is attempts to get the land rezoned, Johnson had sold off half of it between the planning commission meeting and the council meeting. The sale eliminated feasible access, she said.

She also commented on a letter from William R. Bremer, Johnson's attorney to whom O'Connell had jokingly made is suggestion.

The letter said, "I cannot help but note . . . it is the council's desire to maintain the land as open space and park area." Mrs. Wilson said the council has never discussed it though the matter came up at a planning commission meeting once.

Acting City Atty. Charles W. Pierce queried, "You're not contemplating keeping it as a park?"

"You'd have to be a billy goat to get up there," said Councilman Robert R. Souza.

The council authorized the city attorney to write Bremer and decline the offer.

Foundation Paid To Aid Coverage

WASHINGTON (AP) — The tax-exempt Albert and Mary Lasker Foundation contributed $3,000 in 1966 to promote news coverage of Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson's trip to Big Ben National Park, it was reported today.

The Washington Post quoted Mary Lasker admitting the foundation check "was for promotion of Mrs. Johnson." She explained: "I wanted her to take more people—more reporters—get a bigger play in the national press."

Mrs. Lasker said the check, listed by the foundation under "Civic and Miscellaneous Contributions," was given to Liz Carpenter, the former First Lady's press secretary.

Stockade Prisoner Capacity Decreased

FORT ORD (UPI)—The Army lowered the maximum prisoner capacity of the Presidio stockade in San Francisco from 141 to 103 following a sit-in last Oct. 14, according to the son of a former chief of the Secret Service.

First Lt. William Bulghman, assistant correctional officer at the stockade, made the admission yesterday under cross-examination by defense attorney Terence Hallinan who is defending 14 soldiers being court martialed for mutiny.

Baughman's father, U. E. Baughman, headed the Secret Service in the administrations of Truman, Eisenhower and until 1961, Kennedy.

Young Baughman and 2nd Lt. Charles Fox, security projects officer at the Presidio, were summoned as rebuttal witnesses for the Army in the trial of the 14 who were among 27 prisoners involved in the sit-down to protest alleged injustices at the stockade.

Baughman said the population of the prison ranged from 98 on Oct. 1, 1968 to 123 on Oct. 14, 1968 with the maximum set at 141 at the time. Since then, the officer testified, the Army has lowered the total to 103. Hallinan is trying to prove that the stockade was overcrowded at the time of the demonstration.

Fox testified Army Engineers were called to the stockade 27 times from last Aug. 1 to Oct. 14 and 11 of those calls concerned repairs of the latrines. He said prisoners caused about $1,000 worth of damage to stockade facilities during that period.

Since the Oct. 14 sit-down, approximately $56,000 has been spent on improvements and maintenance of stockade facilities, according to Fox. Of this amount, $23,000 has gone to remodeling the prison kitchen.

VOTE TOTALS

San Rafael High Runoff Vote Set

Rick Haenggi and Lee Harris will be in a runoff election tomorrow for next fall's San Rafael High School student body president.

Haenggi polled 216 votes to lead the field in election last Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday. Harris ran third with 177.

The second place candidate won't be in the runoff, however. Second place went to "Toad," a write-in promoted — with considerable success — as a protest against the form and functions of the student government. "Toad" got 199 votes.

Other candidates were Mitch Grandi, 117 votes, and Tony Salin, 36.

Announcement of vote totals, as in "real world" elections, was authorized for the first time by the student congress.

Lowell Widmer (224 votes) and Rick Scatena (214) will be in a runoff for student body vice president. Other candidates were Bebe Anderson, 125; Tony Vidal, 74, and Derek Taylor, 41.

Sue Davis (303 votes) and Kathy Zahn (173) are runoff candidates for secretary. Eliminated was Sue Scherini with 164.

Kim Bacharach was elected director of social affairs with 418 votes to 218 for Susan Lynn.

"Us," who got 325 votes, and "We Five," who got 206, will be in a runoff for yell leader group. "Gates" drew 184 votes.

"One Way," a group headed by Larry French, won as junior varsity yell leaders with 233 votes to 190 for "Our Gang."

Results of elections for next fall's class officers were as follows:

Penalty Choice: Fine Or Jail

A 20-year-old San Rafael youth yesterday was given his choice of a $190 fine or 30 days in jail for marijuana possession.

Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court gave Harry T. Fendler until June 9 to make up his mind which penalty he wishes.

Fendler had earlier pleaded guilty to having marijuana with him when he was arrested Feb. 23 for shoplifting of two tape cartridges worth $13 from the Emporium. The shoplifting charge later was dismissed.

'SITTING ON A BOMB'

Ordeal Of A Vietnam War Widow

By BRUCE COLEMAN

The Vietnam war has left an attractive blonde San Anselmo woman without a husband, temporarily without a country, and — soon — she will be without a home.

"I have the constant feeling I'm sitting on a bomb," said Uta Bender.

"I don't know what will be next. First the death, then no plans, then I had to go and bring my husband's body to Germany."

She broke into tears. Then she whiped her eyes with a paper handkerchief and said, "I'm not a cry baby. But I feel so all alone."

Mrs. Bender's husband, Gernot, went to Vietnam Feb. 25 and was killed March 25.

"Everything is connected with March," Mrs. Bender, 30, declared. "We were married in March. He was born in March. He died in March. He got his citizenship in March. They told me of his death exactly on our 10th anniversary — the 28th day of March."

Mrs. Bender, mother of three — Arleen, 9, Clyde, 7, and Kevin, 5 — is looking for a home because her landlady wishes to move back into her house, which Mrs. Bender has rented up to June 15.

Mrs. Bender understands her landlady's wishes but hates to move because it will mean uprooting her family again. In addition, one of her sons gets very upset about moving, she says, and — at this time —moving only makes things more difficult.

A refuge from Latvia, Mrs. Bender was living in Germany when she met her husband who was stationed in Bamberg with the U.S. Army.

Bender, Brazilian-born, had come to the U.S. and one year later was drafted. Son of a German colonel, he had tried to get into West Point but was unsuccessful.

The Benders were married in 1959, stayed in Bamberg until 1963 during which time Arleen and Clyde were born. They moved to Georgia with the Army and after a year, were reassigned to Germany for three more years.

They came to San Anselmo in February 1967 when Bender was assigned as ROTC instructor at the University of San Francisco.

Mrs. Bender said she gets $350 a month from the Veterans Administration and social security but this is not enough for her to live on with the three children.

Last Thursday she found a job as a waitress and is now having trouble finding a baby sitter to match her split-shift working hours. Arleen is not old enough to watch the other children and, on the first night she worked the younger children wandered across town and weren't found until 9:30 p.m., Mrs. Bender explained.

She tried to return to college but found she couldn't attend college and also earn a living and care for the children.

"People are very nice," she said. "They try to help us . . . but I have no relations (relatives) in any way. I know people but most are so concentrated in their own lives and happy with their husbands on the weekends. And I don't know any single persons.

Mrs. Bender said she is to receive her American citizenship in about three months. Now a German, she concedes it would be easier to return to Germany but says "I know it is not the right choice."

She believes it is better to remain in America so the children will have better opportunities when they are grown.

She spoke of how unlucky her husband was, saying he tried to get into West Point and later an engineering school but failed. Then he was only 16 days in combat, she added.

"Sometimes I feel totally lost," Mrs. Bender said. But, brightening, she said, "The main thing is if I can just find a house for my children."

Sausalito Budget Drop Proposed

A 1969-70 budget of $1,252,220, a drop of $54,414 from current expenditures, has been proposed by Sausalito City Mgr. George M. Patterson for city council consideration at tonight's initial budget meeting.

The city's total property tax rate would remain at $1.315, Patterson's figures indicated.

The council wlll meet at 7:30 p.m. to start budget work. Seven budget meetings have been scheduled with adoption set for July 1.

In his budget message Patterson said the decrease comes from a cutback in capital improvement expenses, due to not having gas tax reserve funds or the sea wall fund, which was used this year in widening Bridgeway.

Any major capital improvements in the future, Patterson wrote, will not be possible without financing "over a period of years."

Patterson is recommending adding one and a half employees to the staff, and a 7½ per cent pay raise for all but four employees. One employee would get a 10 per cent raise and the other three 5 per cent.

Patterson predicted a total revenue for next year of $1,257,995, compared to the current estimate for this year of $1,170,743.

Girl's Condition Reported Fair In Car Accident

Linda Marks, 14, of Santa Venetia was reported in fair condition today in the intensive care unit of Marin General Hospital where she was taken following an accident Sunday evening.

She was a passenger in a car driven by Shannon Royal Scott, 17, of 3 River Oaks Drive, San Rafael. (Shannon is a boy, not a girl as reported yesterday in the Independent-Journal.)

He was driving Miss Marks home before going to a reception for his father, Rev. T. Royal Scott, who has been transferred from the First Prebyterian Church of San Rafael to a Presbyterian church in Los Gatos.

Young Scott was hospitalized with cuts and brusises on his head and was released yesterday. Miss Marks suffered a head injury, cut jaw and cut right knee.

Dinner Set For 25-Year Priest

A dinner and reception for the Rt. Rev. Paul M. Flynn, director of St. Peter Chanel Seminary in San Rafael, celebrating the 25th anniversary of his ordination to priesthood, will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at Nero's restaurant in Ignacio.

To be honored at the dinner at Nero's restaurant are two seminary graduates, Dennis Steik, who will be ordained to the priesthood at St. Raphael's Church at 10 a.m. Saturday, believed to be the first such ceremony there, and Donald Exley, who will be ordained a deacon at the same time.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Nelson of Terra Linda are giving the dinner reception.

Recorders Taken

Burglars entered the Manzanita pre-school building in Marin City during the weekend and stole three tape recorders valued at $200, sheriff's deputies reported today. There was no sign of forced entry, deputies said, and there may have been an unlocked door or window which allowed access.

Boys Nabbed On Stolen Credit Card

A San Rafael policeman, who had stopped at a restaurant for a soda, wound up arresting three youths yesterday in connection with alleged possession of a stolen credit card.

When he entered the Griddle Restaurant on Fourth Street for a break period yesterday, Officer Scott Nelson was told by restaurant owner Cal K. Brown that a youth later identified as Arvord Leigh Clementz, 16, of 973 Las Pavadas Avenue, San Rafael, had just attempted to pay for food with a credit card that Brown had ckecked and found to be stolen.

Clementz reportedly told Nelson he and a friend, identified as Danny Lynn Aflan, 13, of 512 Tamarack Drive, San Rafael, had found the card earlier on Los Gamos Road in Terra Linda. The card was among those reported stolen during the weekend from the auto of Margaret D. Herzer of 1052 Los Gamos Road.

Clementz, Allen and Allen's brother, Dennis Lynn, also 13, were booked at Juvenile Hall on suspicion of possession of stolen property. Clementz also was booked for investigation of forgery as a result of alleged purchase of items with the stolen card from a sporting goods store.

Youth Sentenced For Theft Try

Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court yesterday sentenced Mark Jefferson Lee, 20, of San Rafael to 90 days in the county jail for the attempted burglary of the Greenbrae Pet Hospital on Nov. 3.

Lee was also placed on six months probation and ordered to submit to periodic tests to determine if he is using drugs.

The youth was also due to be sentenced today in municipal court for shoplifting and being under the influence of drugs.

TWO CHIEFS

Corte Madera Splits Fire, Police Posts

The Town of Corte Madera — which has had a combination police and fire chief since 1943 — will have separate chief positions starting July 1.

The Town Council agreed in a budget session last night to name Police and Fire Chief Frank L. Neson as Town Fire Chief.Sp Police Lt. David L. McIntosh was named chief of police.

The action moves the town into the traditional type of emergency service program and away from the public safety team approach recommended twice by Town Mgr. Ronald L. Usher but turned down by councilmen. The traditional approach has also been strongly supported by the Corte Madera Chamber of Commerce.

Both men were in the audience, the recommendation of Lt. McIntosh as police chief by Mayor Edward W. Colthurst coming as a surprise to McIntosh.

"I'm kind of shocked," he said, then added, "I'll do the best I can. I'm really happy about it."

Nelson was appointed police chief almost 26 years ago along with the job of tax collector, then immediately elected chief of the volunteer fire department. Ten years ago he was named part-time fire chief but has actually held both jobs since 1943. "There's not too many two-headed monsters left," he said jokingly today.

Now making $14,676 in the combined position, the fire chief will be paid $16,104. Nelson is married and the father of four children.

McIntosh came to the police department as a patrolman about 14 years ago. He is married, with two children. Now receiving $1,023 per month, he will be paid $1,048.

The council also agreed to hire four more policement at a total of $28,168 and to replace Inspector Harold Hockett who has become Lakeport Police Chief. The replacement will receive $10,860. It agreed to add one fireman at $8,316.

The council tentatively approved a $191,444 police budget and a $97,319 fire budget for 1969-70.

Salaries total $161,754 in the police budget; materials supplies and services, $21,195 and capital outlay, $8,495. The budget would include a $3,000 for a replacement for one police patrol car and $4,000 for a new unit.

Proposed in the fire budget is a high pressure fire unit estimated at between $10,000 and $12,000, and $5,720 for a new fire main in the Christmas Tree Hill area. Total capital outlay is estimated at $20,430.

Further discussion will be held on proposed police and fire vehicles at the council's next regular meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday. At that time the council will also consider the 1969-70 budgets of the sanitary district, retirement and reserves.

Councilmen agreed that efforts should be made to look for good personnel to fill the new positions, saying they are particularly interested in lateral transfers and in candidates with post training. Those with post training can be hired at a higher salary, said Councilman Robert P. Simmons.

Mike Ingerman, representing the chamber of commerce, raised the question of whether the paid fire chief should be in charge of all equipment at all times or if it should be under direction of the town manager. Usher said his job description is "grossly inadequate" and Mayor Colthurst said the council would look into analyzing job descriptions.

The council voted to spend $2,730 to overlay Echo Avenue and a portion of Yolo Street in Marina Village.

Supervisor's Trip Cloaked In Secrecy

Supervisors Chairman John F. McInnis is on a hush-hush trip on "county business" but none of the county officials including Administrator Alan Bruce will disclose where he went or why.

Supervisor William A. Gnoss served as chairman today in the absence of McInnis. Gnoss said he did not talk directly with McInnis but heard from Asst. Administrator John F. Barrows that the chairman went "back East."

"I understand he went to Washington, D.C., probably concerning Point Reyes," Gnoss said.

Other officials at Civic Center speculated the trip may have something to do with the Tamalpais Creek problem.

Bruce said McInnis's trip will presumably be paid for by the county, but a claim for expenses for the trip had not been turned in to the county auditor as of this morning.

Freshman Supervisor Louis H. Baar went to Washington May 12 to testify before a House subcommittee on the need to acquire seashore land. Rancher Boyd Stewart and County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney aslo testified. The cost for the three came to $1,450, which was appropriated by the supervisors last week.

Library Board Adds Item To Budget

The San Rafael Library Board last night voted to add approximately $2,000 to its budget request for fiscal 1969 for converting a basement store room at the library into an addition to the children's department. The action was on motion of trustee Harold H. Fulkerson.

The board also authorized librarian Vivian Smith to procure a new card stamping machine which will entail replacement of present library cards with slightly different type.

You'll find all 15 big Chevrolets we build—passenger cars and wagons—are lower priced than any comparable competitive models.

Our price stickers make good reading. But they only tell part of the story of how you come out ahead with a Chevrolet.

They don't tell you, for example, that the biggest, most powerful standard V8 in Chevrolet's field is under Chevrolet's hood.

Or that our standard six is more engine, too.

Or that you get Astro Ventilation in every model.

Plus such peace-of-mind advantages as a side-guard beam built into every door.

Or that we build the only walk-in wagons in our field, complete with a convenient step in the rear bumper.

All of which really makes our price stickers that much better reading.

Limited Personnel Group Role Detailed

The progress of collective bargaining between the county and various employee groups is gradually limiting the role of the Marin County Personnel Commission, County Administrator Alan Bruce declared this morning at a workshop of the supervisors and personnel commissioners.

"It is quite clear that the primary purpose of the commission is going to be that of a neutral, impartial, almost quasi-judicial body," said Bruce. Its role would be to hear appeals in cases of dismissals, suspensions and grievences, said Bruce.

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney said the concept of the personnel commission is in conflict with the concept of collective bargaining.

The role of the commission and extent of its authority was one of the primary questions raised by the commission his morning.

Commissioner A. Bruce McKenzie pointed out that rules worked out by personnel commission can be superceded by collective bargaining agreements.

If each bargaining unit can come up with different agreements, McKenzie said, then different rules will apply to different county employees.

Bella Aaron, chairman of the personnel commission, said she realizes collective bargaining is completely outside the scope of the commission, and she will attempt to keep the commission neutral.

Commissioners also asked for funds to permit commissioners to attend personnel conferences to keep abreast of developments, and consideration of a change in county examination procedure to make allowances for disadvantaged groups to pass job examinations for county employment.

Supervisors took the requests under consideration.

Parents Tell Lagunitas Board Of Bus Need

A group of parents living on Arroyo Road in Forest Knolls asked the Lagunitas School District board last night to reinstate school bus service to their street.

Supt. Masrhall J. McCunniff said the parents complained of high speed traffic on the narrow street and said their children had to pass a residence occupied by what the parents called undesirables who "swim in the nude."

McCunniff said the board took no action on the parents' request pending annual review this summer of the district bus schedule. McCunniff said bus service to Arroyo Road was eliminated this year and restricted largely to the Sir Francis Drake Boulevard area because of class scheduling problems.

The board also heard reports from McCunniff and staff members, Francine Blub, Sarah Napier, Lee DiVincenzo and Patsy Barnes on the statue of various district programs run with state and federal funds.

Fair-Marin To Open Office

Fair-Marin, which will operate the 80-acre fairgrounds at the Civic Center, will open its office at Northgate Industrial Park next Monday, president Harold Stockstad announced last night.

Stockstad said the office at 45 Mitchel Boulevard will be hhe headqarters for Leon Kalimos, manager of Fair-Marin, and a secretray, Mrs. Anna Johnson of Fairfax. The office will be moved into the new Veterans Memorial Auditorium when the building is completed later this year.

Next meeting of Fair-Marin will be a quarterly membership meeting of all member organizations at 8 p.m. next Monday in Room 400 of the Civic Center.

Beatle Lennon Off Marijuana

MONTREAL (AP) — Beatle John Lennon, recently convicted of possessing marijuana, says he's through with the stuff because it "interferes with my mind."

"I don't regret anything I've done," he told newsmen. "It's just that I get my best high now on brown rice." Rice with the hulls on is brown.

Lennon and his wife, Yoko, were granted a 10-day stay in Canada by immigration officials yesterday and a hearing was begun in Toronto to weigh their request for a longer stay. The marijuana conviction was the issue.

Mr. and Mrs. Lennon plan a one week "lie-in" demonstration for peace while awaiting the verdict.

According to a survery by manufacturers of solid glass bricks, the New York City school system paid $1,013,560 to various manufacturers to replace 202,712 broken windows during 1968.

Board Scans Budget For Next Year

The Novato Unified School District board last night surveyed the $9,226,917 preliminary budget for fiscal 1969-70 but left it intact for future study sessions before adoption in August, reported Supt. James G. Bunker.

The trustees agreed to make some changes in the format of the final budget, with special programs, such as the mentally retarded program, to be segregated to show their cost separately, Bunker said.

Wayne Sartain, chairman of the Citizens Finance Advisory Committee, persented the final report from that committee.

The report said the committee realized the district had a low assessed valuation and that the main source of funds must come from the state and federal governments.

The committee said if that portion of the Unruh Bill giving school districts unlimited taxing power remains in effect in 1971, it recommended that an increase in the school tax not be made without a vote of the people.

The report also urged lowering of class size, better flow of information between the school and home, formation of citizens committees to aid parents in their relations with the schools, and allotment of time for citizens to speak at school board meetings.

Cliff Climber Suffers Injuries

A 20-year-old Lodi youth was rescued late yetserday afternoon after he tumbled down a cliff at Point Reyes National Seashore.

The youth, David Riggle, suffered multiple cuts, bruises and scrapes and a broken finger and was taken to his personal physician in Berkeley by friends, Chief Ranger Philip Ward reported.

Ward said the youth was attempting to climb a cliff just south of the end of Bear Valley Trail when he slipped and rolled 100 or 150 feet.

He was brought up the cliff by a team of park rangers and Marin County firemen.

Kentfield Specialist In Reading Dropped

The district reading specialist was dropped last night by Kentfield School District trustees in an attempt to whittle the 1969-70 budget.

The board also cut two teacher aides from the budget, reduced the summer employees by two and cut capital outlay expenditures by $37,000 and maintenance by about $6,000, Supt. Anthony G. Bacich reported.

Reading specialist Jane Gates has actually been reassigned as a teacher but her former position will not be filled, Bacich said.

Trustees are concerned about having to lower the reserve balance to between $25,000 to $40,000, the superintednent reported. Expenditures for 1969-70 are being budgeted at $1,321,171 as compared to the current budget of $1,412,000. Income, projected at $1,346,000 for 1969-70, was $1,412,000 in the current year, Bacich said.

Burglary insurance was approved for a three-year period at a cost of $1,545, a jump of 100 per cent and "a phenomenon in all school districts," the superintendent added.

Trustees, who adjourned at 2 a.m. today, plan to discuss the budget again at the next regular meeting June 9.

The Kentfield School Trustees Also:

CONFERENCE— Heard that 92 per cent of the 12 to 15 per cent of the parents who returned a conference evaluation sheet to the district favor parent conferencing with teachers to the grading system.

SUMMER PROJECTS — Approved eight summer research and development projects for 15 teachers at $10,872.

NEW PRINCIPAL — Named Warren English as principal of Adaline E. Kent School for grades K through six. English was formerly vice principl.

EMPLOYED — Hired Peter Wronsky to teach intermediate grades at Greenbrae School at $8,494; Jane Gibson, physical education teacher, Adaline E. Kent School, $8,184, and Nancy Parker, Adaline E. Kent School secretary, $463 monthly.

RESIGNATIONS — Accepted resignations of James McBride, custodian, Wolfe Grade School; Mrs. John Minton, library Clerk, Adaline E. Kent School and Johnette Jensen, secretary, Adaline E. Kent School.

Greyhound Asks Fare Increases

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — California's Public Utilities Commission is considering a request from Western Greyhound Lines for a 10 per cent increase in long distance bus fares.

At a hearing yesterday, the commission heard a recommendation from its staff that the increase be granted.

If the increase is approved, Greyhound would realize a 6.9 per cent rate of return on its investment, the staff said. It noted that previously a 7 per cent return was considered reasonable by the commission.

In June 1967 Greyhound passengers traveled 1.8 billion miles, compared to 1.68 billion last December.

Girl Arraigned In Assault Case

Patricia Ann Fusiliereia, 18, of Marin City, yesterday was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court on two counts of assault with a deadly weapon stemming from the stabbing of a supermarket employee Friday.

Miss Fusiliereia is accused of attacking both the employee with whom she got into an argument while standing in a check-out line and a man she actually hit with a five-inch hunting knife.

Thomas Bernier of San Francisco who stepped between the two women was treated for a shoulder stab wound.

Miss Fusiliereia's case was continued until today for entry of plea.

North Marin Ranch Hit By Vandals

The owner of a North Marin ranch who had objected to a rifle range in the area last Monday reported to sheriff's deputies that his property was extensively damaged sometime between Wednesday and Saturday.

Ben Rothbard, who owns a 44-acre ranch at Alexander and Two Rocks roads opposed plans for a rifle range on the William Souza ranch on Alexander Road before the Marin County Planning Commission.

Rothbard told deputies he couldn't see any reason for the damage to the ranch except as retaliation for his stand against the rifle range.

Deputies said pickets were removed from the fence leading to the main gate, the gate damaged, a milk house door and windows broken, two doors broken at the main barn and a third door removed, a wall removed from a chicken house, porch railing torn down, doors broken and walls damaged at an unoccupied old house on the ranch.

Rothbard told the Independent-Journal that people are using Nazi tactics and terrorism and vandalism. He told deputies he has owned the ranch for six years and hadn't previously had any trouble.

Castro Reports Bad News On Sugar Crop

HAVANA (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro admitted last night that Cuba's 1969 sugar harvest would fall far short of its goal and described it as "the agony of the country."

In a broadcast speech lasting nearly two hours, Castro blamed the disappointing harvest on equipment and personnel problems.

In Japan only one out of every 25 people owns an automobile.

We buried 27,000 miles of pipe, crossed deserts, climbed mountains, swam rivers, tapped fields in Canada, Texas, New Mexico and California to bring you this hot bath.

Natural gas does a lot of traveling. It comes to you from Canada. From Texas. From California and New Mexico. Travels a pipeline network long enough to circle the world. Supplies more than 2 million homes in Northern and Central California. Does it cleanly and economically.

PG&E has almost a billion dollars invested in natural gas facilities to deliver more than five cubic miles of gas a year. Which is a lot of gas. A lot of warmth. A lot of meals. And a lot of hot baths.

Zelinsky Loses Drive For Village Zoning

Tiburon developer Fred G. Zelinsky's request to gain less restrictive zoning for the bulk of his downtown holdings was denied 4-0 last night by the Tiburon City Council.

Councilman Thomas E. Drohan was absent.

Zelinsky asked the council to change his property between Main Street, Tiburon Boulevard and Beach Road from planned development to village commercial.

He said the planned development zone, now covering the entire downtown area, was meant to apply to undeveloped property and, as a result, it overly restricted his remodeling attempts.

He argued he would be required to submit a master plan for the entire area plus precise plans for such minor jobs as painting a building.

Failure to rezone would mean "another delay and I've been delayed for the past two years on developing my property," Zelinsky said.

"All I want to do is continue my plan for Main Street," he told the council. "I'm not a professional developer; I don't know what to do."

Planning Director Wayne E. Moody noted that under the planned development ordinance, Zelinsky would need to submit a master plan for all his properties only once and then submit precise plans for each individual project. The village commercial zone requires only design review, he said.

Moody also noted that village commercial would allow 80 per cent lot coverage; the existing zone limits coverage to 40 per cent.

Councilman William R. Bremer argued that the city should not give up the controls built into the planned development zone.

The planning commission had also recommended denial.

The Tiburon City Council Also:

REZONING — Approved first reading of an ordinance to rezone 53 acres from Hacienda Drive to Gilmartin Drive, owned by Stephen Heller and James C. Reisinger, from one-acre residential zoning to a planned residential zone allowing two dwellings per acre and referred the application to the council's lands and development committee for study on how to limit the density to the lower figure.

SHAPERO — Adopted an ordinance rezoning 26 acres between Trestle Glen Boulevard and Hacienda and Porto Marino drives, owned by City Treasurer Samuel M. Shapero, from park to planned residential zone one a 3-1 vote with Councilman Anne L. Ellinwood dissenting.

STOP SIGNS — Ordered two stop signs for Hilary Drive at Teresa Court and between 662 and 664 Hilary Drive and asked further study to see if a stop sign is needed at Mara Vista Court to protect children playing in the area.

PARKING — Established a 24-minute parking zone on Tiburon Boulevard from Juanita Lane to a point just past Varney's Hardware and an hour parking zone from the end of the 24 minute zone to Beach Road.

STREETS — Awarded a street maintenance contract to W. K. McLellan and Co. at a low bid of $13,796, just $106 above the city engineer's estimate.

ANNIVERSARY — Named John C. Hoffmire and Elva Pask co-chairmen of a committee to organize a fifth anniversary celebration for the city June 24.

MAYOR — Named Bremer to serve as acting mayor while Mayor Branwell D. Fanning and Vice Mayor Denis T. Rice are both out of town next month.

SALARIES — Adopted an emergency ordinance rescheduling the deadline for the annual salary schedule review from June 15 to the middle of July on a 3-1 vote with Miss Ellinwood dissenting.

ADJOURNMENT — Adjourned to 8 p.m. June 9 in city hall.

Among the most primitive of fish are the sharks, which have slits instead of movable gill coverings, cartilage skeletons rather than bone and a tough skin dotted with tiny denticles.

Reagan Praised, Hit On Unrest

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Two prominent Republicans praised Gov. Ronald Reagan yesterday for taking a firm stand on campus unrest, but a leading California Democrat criticized the governor for failing to keep his promise to end it.

Sen. Paul Fannin of Arizona said he would favor any legislation for "preventative measures" in dealing with campus problems. He said use of National Guardsmen and police was an example in that "in the long run the students know they will be dealt with."

Rep. Barry Goldwater Jr. of California agreed, commenting, "I buy the Reagan approach that a firm hand is needed."

However, Democrat Roger Boas said one of his responsibilities as state party chairman was "to assess the performance of the chief executive in our state," and that campus conditions are worse than when Reagan took office.

Petaluman Accused In Shoplift Case

Sonja F. Porter, a Petaluma housewife living at 829 East Washington Street, was arrested yesterday on suspicion of shoplifting $6.66 worth of merchandise from Carl's Market in Petaluma, police said.

She was free on $625 bail pending a court appearance at 1:30 p.m. June 9.

Building Code Inspection Stirs Council Criticism

Tiburon City Councilman Anne L. Ellinwood last night criticized the city's building inspector after hearing complaints of inspection errors during an appeal hearing.

Miss Ellinwood said she was "appalled beyond belief that this should happen" and that the council should "fix the blame" after hearing Lawrence H. Stotter say that "perhaps up to a dozen building code violations" exist in the house he recently purchased at 2244 Vistazo East Street.

"How were you ever issued an occupancy permit?" Miss Ellinwood asked Stotter.

"I don't know," he replied, explaining that the home was constructed by Alfred Birich, a developer, and he (Stotter) had presumed all requirements, including adequate building inspection, previously had been taken care of.

"There was no indication to me that there was anything wrong until the city called my wife and said there might be some problem about a variance.

Mrs. Stotter then called him, Councilman Denis T. Rice reported, to ask if she should be concerned about the variance—since such details were Birich's responsibility.

Said Rice: "I didn't know anything about it and said, 'Don't worry Ruth, it's nothing.' Little did I know the bad advice I was giving."

Stotter went to the council to appeal a denial of a variance request by the board of adjustments. He sought to retain a deck which presently encroaches into the side yard setback.

However, Stotter said, after he had moved in he gradually was informed by City Development Administrator Phil V. Scott that other errors existed in the home.

"I saw that house," Miss Ellinwood interjected. "The building code violations in it are unbelievable. How it could ever have been completed without someone doing something is beyond me. This is a serious example of ineptitude."

Miss Ellinwood also noted that during construction, neighbors had notified the city several times about errors in calculating property lines and in building placement, but that the staff had taken no action.

Stotter indicated he would file a civil suit against private parties concerned but asked the council to take no action on his appeal until he could determine what would be his best course of action to remedy the entire problem. The council agreed.

Mayor Branwell D. Fanning then asked City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose to prepare a report on the entire incident for council review "since serious charges have been levied in public against a city employee."

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Pioneer Surgeons Need Courage To Attempt Untested Operations

VAN DELLEN

Surgeons do not establish enviable reputations on the basis of a high death rate. It took a tremendous amount of courage to be the first to operate on the heart, transplant an organ, or remove part of the lung. New techniques come about after considerable research on laboratory animals. Should the procedure fail, the surgeon must also face the criticism of his colleagues and family especially when the patient dies.

BACK IN 1902, Sir Lauder Brunton, a top British surgeon, suggested a way to mechanically enlarge a narrowed, scarred heart valve. His reward was a scathing attack by the editor of The Lancet, and, as a result, he never tried it again.

In 1925, Dr. H. S. Souttar did the operation as suggested by Sir Brunton, and the procedure was successful. This took great courage because there were none of the advances in anesthesiology and chest surgery as are known today.

He was criticized and never repeated the operation because he was unable to get another case.

Some of Dr. Souttar's colleagues declared the procedure "nonsense" and unjustifiable. They said this, despite the fact that the operation was being done on persons who could not live with the heart defect. Although courageous enough to do the operation, he was unable to sustain his courage in the face of the opposition.

IN 1948, Dr. Charles P. Bailey devised a special knife to cut and widen the narrowed valve. The knife which fitted his finger was inserted into the heart via a small opening. He attempted the operation three times, in three different Philadelphia hospitals. All attempts failed. Furthermore, he was denied the use of facilities in these institutions.

Two hospitals still allowed him the right to operate, but he knew that another failure would be the end. Dr. Bailey summoned enough courage to schedule two operations on the same day, one in each of these hospitals.

The first failed, and he ran to the next hospital before they got the news. His fifth operation was successful, and a new era of cardiac surgery began. If Souttar had had the courage of Bailey, cardiac surgery might have been advanced 23 years.

Today heart surgery is routine, the organ is opened in the operating room and a plastic, ball-like valve is substituted for the scarred structure.

(Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

THE LATE ARRIVAL

Mrs. L. D. writes: My son was at least three weeks late when he was born. Could this delay have caused the thyroid deficiency with which he was born?

REPLY

No. Hypothyroidism at birth usually is due to a development defect that often leads to cretinism. In some instances, lack of iodine is responsible.

STOPPER FOR BURPS

L. C. writes: What is the best way to stop belching attacks?

REPLY

Stop swallowing air and stop burping. Relief may be obtained by taking an antacid or a carbonated beverage, such as ginger ale. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on air swallowing.

TELLTALE SWELLINGS

L. G. writes: Does a healthy infant with enlarged lymph glands in the neck need treatment?

REPLY

This depends upon the cause. These swellings stem from a variety of disorders ranging from the residuals of a cold to infectious mononucleosis.

CANCER DETECTION

A. H. writes: How can a person be sure he does not have cancer of the lung or throat?

REPLY

He can't, unless he is examined. Cancer of the throat usually is visible when the mouth and throat are examined. As a rule, a malignancy of the lung is detected initially via a chest X-ray. When a suspicious shadow is seen, additional studies may be necessary, including a bronchoscopic examination.

GIRL ESCAPES

Mrs. L. K. writes: My 13-year-old daughter has never caught measles, chickenpox, or other childhood diseases, even though she has been exposed. Isn't this an unusual situation?

REPLY

Yes, especially if she escaped measles, which is highly contagious. Children who seem to have a natural immunity to communicable diseases often contract them later in life, when they least expect them.

CAN'T WALK AT NEARLY 2

J. E. C. writes: My daughter, who is 23 months old, isn't walking yet. A girl friend told me it is because the soft spot in her head hasn't closed. Could this be true? The doctor told me my little girl's joints are growing very slowly.

REPLY

Stop listening to your coffee-clatch medico and get some expert advice.

DEVIL-GREEN FACES

W. T. writes: Since my heart attack, whenever I walk into the subway station, all faces seem to have a devil-green color. Can you explain this occurrence?

REPLY

Blame it on the fluorescent lighting, not your heart.

Purse Snatcher Gets 30 Days

Judge Harold H. Haley of Marin Superior Court yesterday sentenced Gary Robert Saxton, 21, of San Anselmo to 30 days in jail for purse snatching.

Saxton had earlier pleaded guilty to taking a woman's purse Jan. 28 in a Corte Madera Store.

Judge Haley also declared the offense a misdemeanor, placed Saxton on two years probation and ordered him to make restitution to the victim. He stayed Saxton's sentence for 90 days.

Programs On Hunger Win TV Awards

NEW YORK (UPI)—Programs on hunger in the United States broadcast by the NBC and CBS television networks were among winners of 1968-69 news and documentary awards announced yesterday by the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences.

Awards in categories other than news will be announced during the annual Emmy awards telecast on June 8. The 14 news and documentary award winners were selected from 145 entries by judges from the fields of print journalism, public affairs and journalism education.

CBS was cited for its CBS Reports documentary "Hunger in America," which was criticized by some congressmen who called it distorting.

The NBC award was for coverage of the hunger controversy in its regular evening Huntley-Brinkley news program. The academy listed seven special reports on hunger broadcast on the Huntley-Brinkley program.

CBS captured 10 of the awards announced yesterday, while NBC won three and one went to the Public Broadcast Laboratory on National Educational Television.

Airman Caught In C47 Cockpit

WASHINGTON (UPI) —An off-duty mechanic at Andrews Air Force Base was caught at the controls of a two-engine transport plane about dawn Sunday in what could have been a takeoff attempt, the Air Force said yesterday.

A base spokesman said that S. Sgt. Lewis Greenstone, 33, of Tonalea, Ariz., was found at 5:10 a.m. by a maintenance duty officer sitting in the cockpit with both engines of the C47 running. The plane was stationary but both wheel chocks have been removed as if the aircraft had been readied for takeoff.

Greenstone, a C47 crew chief, was confined to the base hospital for observation, the spokesman said, while officials investigated circumstances of the incident.

Mill Valley Council Wrestles Budget; Tax Rate May Hit $2.55

Mill Valley City Council last night pushed the city's proposed $2.1 million budget up about $18,000, bringing the estimated tax rate to $2.55 per $100 assessed valuation.

City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer estimated the tax rate after councilmen made a series of additions and deletions during a three-hour session.

The current tax rate is $2.31 and Balmer had submitted a revised budget of $2,098,767, carrying an estimated tax rate of $2.47.

Councilmen hiked the budget last Tuesday by setting aside $9,000 more for salary hikes than Balmer had earmarked and last night they restored some of cuts he had recommended.

The biggest slash came when the council cut $6,000 from the retirement system budget and put it in the golf course budget, where it would be covered by golf course revenue.

The council didn't take up the question of granting salary raises, but made a move to meet the demand for two new tennis courts at Boyle Park.

They voted 3-2 to place $5,000 in the contingency fund with the provision that it would be used for the courts if tennis enthusiasts raised the balance for the new courts, about $15,000.

Councilman Robert H. Andresen and Rodric L. Robinson dissented, saying they weren't objecting to the courts as such, but to the procedure.

Councilmen agreed with Balmer's recommendation to eliminate two proposed new firemen, but agreed that a lieutenant in the fire department be promoted to captain.

They deleted $32,000 for a new fire engine, but agreed that it could be ordered during 1969-70, and payment would be in future budgets.

Councilmen deleted a proposed new maintenance man II, who would have worked part time in the street department manning the sweeper and part time in the sanitation department clearing sewer lines.

They approved a new position for the corporation yard, a part-time maintenance man to service the city's vehicles, at a cost of $1,320 for the year.

Councilmen made increases in the equipment replacement budget when they approved $11,500 to replace the street department's loader, and $2,100 to replace a tilt trailer, items which had been recommended for deletion.

In the corporation yard budget, they approved $1,990 for an engine analyzer, which also had been slated for deletion.

At the plea of Recreation Director Don Dimitratos they included $966 in the recreation budget to provide a summer program at Sycamore Park.

Dimitratos also protested that placing the $6,000 retirement cost in the golf course budget, would cut off funds for planned improvements.

When fees were raised in January golfers went along believing improvements would be made, Dimitratos said.

When councilmen got to the capital improvements budget, they added $3,000 for greens improvement.

The also added $2,000 for restrooms at the course and $2,000 for restrooms in the park improvements category by a 3-2 vote with Councilmen George E. Wickham and Jerome C. Hauke dissenting.

Councilmen agreed to tackle the capital improvements budget, revised downward by Balmer from $768,000 to $467,000, at the close of its next regular council sesssion at 8 p.m. Monday at City Hall.

Mayor Dean N. Meyer said the council would meet in closed session at 7:30 p.m. with City Atty. Leland H. Jordan to discuss litigation concerning the city's proposed yacht harbor.

During the session Stanley M. Bala, city engineer, warned that the city's sewer lines are getting old, and infiltration of storm water is a serious problem.

Bypassed was the proposed library budget of $144,065. Balmer suggested postponement until the Marin County Board of Supervisors acts on a proposal to allocate $40,856 to help pay the cost of serving users from outside Mill Valley.

Hearings Slated In Police Killing

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Superior Court Judge Joseph Karesh has set June 6 for a preliminary hearing for five of six youths charged in the slaying of police officer Joseph Brodnik.

The case of the sixth defendant yesterday was delayed indefinitely to determine whether he should be tried as a juvenile. The suspect, Jose Rios, was 17 at the time of the shooting.

The officer was killed and his partner, Paul McGoran, beaten while checking a suspected robbery in the Mission district.

The five other defendants are Rodolfo Martinez, 20; his brother Jose, 19; Nelson Rodriquez, 19; Jose Melendez, 18, and Gary Escallet, 18. A seventh suspect, George Lopez, 19, is still being sought.

Moss Will Speak On Social Studies

Dr. Penrod Moss, Dixie School District assistant superintendent of curriculum, will speak on new social studies in California elementary schools at a meeting of the Marin County Substitute Teachers' Association at 3:45 p.m., Thursday.

Election of 1969-70 officers will be held prior to the talk at the meeting at Don Timoteo School, San Rafael, Ruth Scott, publicity chairman, reported.

Heart Patient's Luxury House

CAPE TOWN (London Express) — Dr. Philip Blaiberg, the world's longest surviving heart transplantee, is moving into a new luxury home in Cape Town.

In spite of his ailing condition, Blaiberg, who turned 60 last week, spent yesterday packing in preparation for the move. He would not comment on reports that the house was bought with money made as a result of the heart transplant.

The $41,200 home in the plush Cape Town suburb of Newlands is something Blaiberg has always wanted. He admits he could not afford such a luxury before the transplant.

BUY WORD

Still listening?

Last week we started this column. It has a two-fold purpose . . . to provide consumer information and to develop a question and answer forum. Remember, if you have any questions, just complete the coupon below. IF WE USE YOUR QUESTION, YOU WILL RECEIVE A TWO-DOLLAR MERCHANDISE ORDER FOR ANY CO-OP LABEL PRODUCTS.

Attention . . . Mrs. Clean!

The latest of washday "miracles" . . . enzyme products . . . can get rid of stubborn stains, as the ads say, but pre soaking clothes with ordinary detergents can do "as good a job on most stains," according to Consumers Union. The product testing organization concluded that enzyme products did better on blood and gravy stains, but detergents did just as well on stains involving spaghetti sauce, grass, syrup, coffee and tea after soaking. Neither enzyme nor products did very well with mustard stains. (How do YOU remove mustard stains?) Pre soaking, says CU, is a "terrific idea," but you can save up to half the cost of an enzyme pre-soak by using laundry detergent. (From U.S. Consumer)

AND SPEAKING OF "CONSUMERS UNION," DID YOU KNOW THAT CO-OP HAS A GROUP RATE FOR "CONSUMER REPORT?" ONLY $4.00. ASK AT ANY EDUCATION OFFICE.

PET FOOD POINTERS . . .

U.S. Consumer says that pet foods have become a jungle for shoppers seeking their money's worth, with nearly 200 brands, sizes and types of products . . . resulting in some 15,000 separate items from 300 manufacturers. When comparing prices, remember the following proportions of water: canned and frozen—up to 75% water . . . soft moist—20% to 25% water . . . dry products—8 to 10% water.

Jim Ray Hart To Phillies?

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Amid talk that Jim Ray Hart may be traded to Philadelphia, the San Francisco Giants tackle the pitching-rich Chicago Cubs tonight at Candlestick Park.

Righthander Bob Bolin (2-3) of the Giants is scheduled to go against hard-throwing Ferguson Jenkins (6-2). The teams wind up the abbreviated two-game series tomorrow afternoon before the Giants head to New York and Montreal on a six-game road trip.

Giants president Horace Stoneham confirmed yesterday that trade discussions with the Phillies "probably will continue."

It has been reported that Hart and pitcher Joe Costello of the Phoenix Giants would go to Philadelphia for infielder Cookie Rojas and outfielder Johnny Callison. Big hangup in the deal is the status of Hart's oft-injured right shoulder which is being examined by a physician hired by the Phillies.

Righthander Juan Marichal, who gave his sore side and groin muscle a workout for one inning against Pittsburgh Sunday, figures he will be ready to pitch against the Mets this weekend.

The Cubs boast two of the finest relievers in the major leagues in Phil Regan (5-1) and Ted Abernathy (4-0). This has been a weak spot in the San Francisco attack. In addition, lefty Ken Holtzman of Chicago, a starter, owns a sparkling 7-1 mark.

For sluggers, the Cubs can count on veterans Ernie Banks and Ron Santo. Banks leads the National League in runs batted in with 39 and Santo is close behind with 33.

Injured Benvenuti Loses Bout

NEW YORK (AP) — Middleweight champion Nino Benvenuti of Italy, Dick Tiger of Biafra and several other persons connected with their fight at Madison Square Garden last night, have been subpoenaed in a grand jury investigation, it was learned today.

District attorney Frank Hogan's office declined to comment on the subpoenaes, which reportedly were served last night following Tiger's upset victory.

Benvenuti came out of the fight with a broken right hand, suffered, he said, in the first round.

NEW YORK (AP) — Dick Tiger's upset victory over middleweight champion Nino Benvenuti turned slightly sour when it was learned the Italian had suffered a broken right hand. But there were lucrative fights ahead for both winner and loser today.

"I broke the hand in the first round when I hit him high on the head. The pain was terrible," said Benvenuti after dropping a unanimous decision in a 10-round nontitle bout with the 39-year-old Biafran at Madison Square Garden last night.

ONE-HANDED

"I was a one-handed fighter after that," said Benvenuti, grimacing in pain. Asked why he didn't quit, Nino replied quickly and firmly, "Never. I am a professional fighter."

Dr. Edwin Campbell of the New York Athletic Commissioner said handsome Nino had suffered a complete break of the second metacarpal bone (behind the index finger) of the right hand.

"He won't be able to train until a minimum of eight weeks," said Dr. Campbell.

That means a delay in Benvenuti's next defense of his middleweight (160 pound) title. He whipped Don Fullmer in a title defense on Dec. 14 and his six months period of grace expires on June 14.

RODRIGUEZ

The World Boxing Association's championship committee insists that the 31-year-old champion must defend next against Luis Rodriguez, the WBA's No. 1 contender from Miami.

Rodriguez, a one-time welterweight king, and his manager, Angelo Dundee, saw Tiger, who will be 40 on Aug. 14, completely dominate Benvenuti, who had used his injured right only sparingly.

"We'll wait for him," said Dundee. "We've been waiting a long time. I'm posting a $2,000 forfeit check with the New York Commission.

"Right now we've got offers for Benvenuti of $100,000 in Puerto Rico, $150,000 in Miami Beach, and $200,000 in San Diego which is celebrating its 200th year. My guy will take a lot less, we want the title shot.

FULLMER WINS

Fullmer, in his first fight since his loss to Benvenuti in San Remo, Italy, won a split decision over Brazil's Juarez de Lima in the 10-round semifinal.

Referee Barney Smith, 5-4-1, and judge Berl, 6-4, voted for the West Jordan, Utah veteran. Judge Armstrong voted for the Brazilian, 6-4.

A crowd of 14,305 paid $147,431 for the television fight. Benvenuti earned $50,000 and Tiger $35,000. They may get more with television reruns. And there's the possibility of a very lucrative return match.

Mark Donohue Leads Field Of Indianapolis 'Rookies'

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Mark Donohue, America's premier road racing driver, tops the field of rookies in cars for Friday's Indianapolis 500.

The rookie tag here, of course, refers only to the lack of previous 500 experience. Grand Prix veteran Graham Hill of Britain was a rookie when he won the 1966 race.

The average age of this year's five rookies is 31. All but Bruce Walkup, 24, are veterans in other racing circles.

Do they feel like rookies here?

'YOU BET'

"You bet I'm a rookie," says George Follmer, 35, of Arcadia, Calif., who is driving his own car. "I don't imagine you can hear that big crowd race day, but I'm sure you feel extra pressure."

Follmer's background includes success in sports car racing and a victory in the first U.S. Auto Club championship race of this season, a 150-mile event in his native Phoenix, Ariz.

Donohue, who received the Martini and Rossi Driver of the Year award last year, said he was happy about the rain that washed out the scheduled first weekend of 500 qualifying May 17-18.

"I woke up that first morning and looked out the motel window. The stands were full and it was only 8 o'clock. It kind of shook me up."

A week later, more relaxed, he put his Lola, with a turbo-charged Offenhauser engine, in the fourth starting spot.

It's the best starting position for a rookie since Mario Andretti won the same spot in 1965.

Donohue, a Brown University graduate, left an engineering job in New Jersey two years ago to begin driving full time. He lives in Media, Pa.

He'll be seeing his first Indy race and its crowd of 300,000 from the cockpit of car No. 66.

Peter Revson of New York City gives the Ivy League another representative in this year's rookie class.

Revson, 30, attended Cornell for two years. He's driving a car for Jack Brabham of Australia and starting last in the field of 33.

Walkup, from Downey, and Sonny Ates, 34, Sellersburg, Ind., complete the rookie field.

Walkup came here looking for a ride, after qualifying last year but getting bumped from the starting field.

He hooked up with car owner Don Gerhardt of Fresno, and put a turbo Offy in the 28th spot.

Ates, a veteran of the midget car ranks, is driving a car owned by Mel Kenyon of Lebanon, Ind., and grabbed the No. 14 starting slot compared to his boss' No. 25 spot.

United States-Russia Track Meet In July

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The dual track meet series between the United States and the Soviet Union, discontinued in 1966 when the Russians protested U.S. involvement in Vietnam, is on again — the day before America is to land a man on the moon.

The president of the Southern Pacific Association of the Amateur Athletic Union, Al Schoenfield, in a letter to the Los Angeles Coliseum Commission, said yesterday the meet would be held July 18-19 in the Coliseum.

AND BRITISH

He also said a team made up of British Commonwealth athletes would compete in the meet.

Starting times for the meet were listed as 7 p.m. Friday night and 1 p.m. Saturday with a national television network broadcasting the meet nationally. It will be blacked out in the Los Angeles area.

The Apollo program has the date July 20 marked on its schedule to land a man on the moon and the meet was arranged so it wouldn't clash with that planned event.

The Russian-American track meet series began in 1958 in Moscow. The following year the meet was held in Philadelphia but in 1960, an Olympic year, the meet was cancelled.

PAST MEETS

In 1961 the meet was held in Moscow, in Palo Alto in 1962, Moscow again in 1963, Los Angeles in 1964 prior to the Tokyo Olympics, and in Kiev, Russia, in 1965.

American men won the first six meets handily, taking the '64 clash by the largest score in the series, 139-97. That crushing defeat forced coaching changes on the Russian team but the Americans, spurred by the victory, performed better than expected at the Olympic games, including Billy Mills' thrilling 5,000-meter victory.

BEST EVER

The Russians came back to win the 1965 meet at Kiev, 118-112 but on the eve of the 1966 meet, track experts said the Americans had their best-ever team.

The cancellation by the Russians forced promoters of the meet to schedule the International Games and invited teams from free world nations.

Athletics Vs. Tigers

OAKLAND (AP)—The Athletics have returned from their worst road trip since moving to Oakland before last season.

Catching their breath following six straight losses, they had yesterday off.

Action resumes tonight against the Detroit Tigers.

Prospects are foreboding because the Bengals will start World Series hero Mickey Lolich, whose current record is an impressive 6-1.

The A's will counter with Chuck Dobson, 3-4.

Bills Owner 'Considering' O.J. Trade

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The Buffalo Bills once again have failed to sign All-American O.J. Simpson, and owner Ralph C. Wilson Jr. said today he would consider trading Simpson.

Wilson, in a statement released by the American Football League team's office here, said he met yesterday in Detroit with Simpson, his agent, Chuck Barnes, and his lawyers, David Lockton.

Simpson, the 1968 Heisman Trophy winner from Southern California, reportedly has been asking Wilson for a $600,000 salary and a $500,000 loan.

NO LOAN

Wilson said Simpson and his negotiators agreed to drop the loan demand.

"As their concession for doing this," Wilson said, "they asked for an increase of $50,000 in the bonus and salary previously requested."

Wilson said he had been prepared to increase his original offer, never made public, to Simpson.

"But in view of this new demand, which I felt to be unreasonable, I stood pat except to offer inducements on the basis of performance."

SOME THOUGHT

The Bills' owner said the Simpson group rejected the idea and asked if he would trade O.J.

"I said I would consider it," Wilson said. "I don't know how seriously but I will give it some thought."

Buffalo, which finished the 1968 season with the poorest record in both the AFL and National Football League, had first choice in the combined draft. It picked Simpson.

During the weekend the Bills signed their No. 2 choice, All-American fullback Bill Enyart of Oregon State.

Novato's Dillon Player Of Year

Coaches Select All-Stars

Fabulous Novato hurler Russ Dillon, who dominated over Marin County prep hitters throughout the spring, got his just rewards yesterday as he topped the selections for the All-Marin County Athletic League baseball team.

Dillon was named player of the year and he and Terra Linda's slugging catcher Craig Logan were the only unanimous choices for the first team.

THREE HORNETS

Novato's MCAL champs topped the pickings for first team honors with three choices, while runnerup Terra Linda and last-place Marin Catholic had two each.

Southpaw Dillon was joined by Novato's hard-hitting third baseman Tom Zechlin and outfielder Bob Helbing on the first team. Terra Linda's Mike Timmel, everybody's favorite pitcher last year, was the other first-team pitcher.

Marin Catholic shortstop Rick Denning was named to the first team for the third straight year, despite a somewhat disappointing season. The other Marin Catholic pick was outfielder Tim Hearn.

ONE JUNIOR

The only junior to join the all-league first team lineup was Redwood outfielder Frank Pomilia, who moved up to the varsity team earlier in the season and proved to be the Giants' only consistent hitter.

Rounding out the first team were San Rafael's Gallardo at first base and Drake's leading hitter and fielder Clark Jamison at second.

Overlooked in selections were first-year entry San Marin, which finished a surprising third with a 7-7 record, and Tamalpais. San Marin sophomores Jack Burnam, a catcher and Jim Thompson, an outfielder were named to the second team while junior shortstop Ken Gnoss also made the second team; but tireless workhorse pitcher Steve Francis, who won six of San Marin's games, two on shutouts, was relegated to honorable mention status.

Honorable mention was all that second baseman Ken Bolstad and outfielder Wendell McReynolds of Tamalpais managed, despite above average seasons.

Dillon had an amazing season, going through the league season unbeaten on a 8-0 record without giving up an earned run, once striking out 18 batters (against Terra Linda) and hitting two homers, one of them a grand slam on the last game of the season against Marin Catholic.

Dillon and Timmel were repeats from last season, but it was Timmel who dominated the league last year with a perfecto 10-0 record in a 12-game season.

Julie Heldman Wins First Match In Paris

PARIS (AP) — New Yorker Julie Heldman, U.S. Wightman Cup tennis star and surprise winner of the Italian championships, won her first match in the French Open championships today, whipping Janet Young of Australia 6-0, 6-2.

Another star of the U.S. Wightman Cup team, Peaches Bartkowicz of Hamtramck, Mich., also won, defeating Lita Liem of Indonesia 6-1, 6-1.

Less than an hour's play was possible before rain set in. The tournament opened yesterday, but fewer than half the first round matches in the men's and women's singles were completed.

HERB MICHELSON

Unhappy Athletics Back At Home Base

OAKLAND — Now in their third home stand of 1969 and with no immediate attendance crescendo in sight, the young Athletics — or at least some of them — can be expected to continue grumbling about lack of support.

Jim Nash's sudden clubhouse outburst — which wasn't so sudden or truly outbursty — after a Red Sox game during the last stand here was understandable when you examine the logic of an athletic ego.

MORE THAN most of us who need pats on the head, athletes expect constant verbal caressing. By their very physical nature, they seek acclaim. Much as a Praetorian guard, they must be loved at home if they are to battle bravely.

The sports figure who shuns a kid seeking a signature is either old, malevolent or hung over. The young A's give more autographs than probably any club in the majors. The Oakland ballplayers are far and away the best public relations device in Finley's arsenal.

AND BECAUSE they're trying so hard to be loved in a new town, the A's kids are torn when the few thousands in the stands boo them and cheer the visitors.

What Nash said out loud after a night of facing a crowd of boisterous ex-New Englanders has been said quietly by several of his mates for several months. The talk about moving, that is.

There are some A's who were deeply sorry to leave Kansas City. Not that they knew lethargy awaited them at the Coliseum; not that they wanted their owner to continue economic suffering; not that they preferred humidity over chilly Oakland evenings THAT much.

IN KANSAS CITY the A's were somebody. At restaurants and clubs they were known, feted, appreciated. Doors were open everywhere, because Kansas City didn't have that many athletic heroes to love.

Here, though, the A's don't even know where the doors are. They have yet to be clutched to a collective community breast. Many of them with families have settled on the island city of Alameda, as if seeking some common defensive barrier against the strange, hostile world on the other side of the Oakland Estuary.

A FEW WHO used to live in Kansas City year-around have moved permanently to the East Bay area, forsaking the nether world of ex-ism for an as-yet-unfulfilled love affair with a new town.

They don't want to be transients, these A's. By the same token, some of them are so soured by being ignored that they whisper furtively of rumors Finley will sell the club to somebody who will move it elsewhere.

THIS IS A gravely unfortunate attitude to develop in so short a stay. Plainly, though, the feeling exists.

They can't understand why the public isn't buying what they are convinced is a marvelous product. It's a wonder the A's have been winning so well at home when so many of them aren't certain where home is.

The tantalizing possiblity is that young pitcher Rollie Fingers will buy the team and move it to his residence, Cucamonga. After all, Anaheim's in the league. And can Azusa and Fingers' village be that far from reailty?

BOWLING TIPS

By MARION LADEWIG

Bowling control is important, of course, but those who creep up to the line and then lay the ball down ever so gently are not going to rack up too many pins. Try to develop a fairly free-wheeling approach and let 'er go at release. This willl help reduce tensions and will probably improve your score.

Tam Golf Champs In Big Tourney

Tamalpais High School's young and unbeaten Marin County Athletic League golf champions, who have battered and tortured Marin County golf courses this season, face their biggest challenge Thursday away from the county and away from their pet course.

The Indians will be going into the fourth annual Piedmont Invitational Golf Tournament at Lake Chabot course in Oakland. It will be a 26-team tourney of champions featuring clubs from all Northern California sections.

130 PLAYERS

Some 130 players comprising five-man teams will be in the tournament and they figure to give the Lake Chabot course a going over, if last year's results are any indication.

The winning team last season finished at three under par, while the runnerup was one under.

The Indians by virtue of their last match, are no strangers to under par scoring. They practically wrecked their short-approach home municipal course in Mill Valley, finishing with a hot three-under par 165 in an easy win over San Marin last week.

They also hold top scores on the other courses with an even 200 at tough San Geronimo, a 194 at Meadow Club in Fairfax, a 202 at San Rafael's Peacock Gap and a 198 at Indian Valley in Novato.

14-0 MARK

The Indians, who missed a share of the title by a tie in their last match in 1968, won the Marin County Athletic League crown in a walkaway this year, finishing with a perfect 14-0 mark that padded their overall dual meet record to 19-0.

Coach Paul Wata's big five will be made up of four juniors and a senior. The juniors are Wayne Smith, Steve Goldfien, Jeff DeVoto and Dean Rider while the lone senior on the squad is Craig Smith. The five comprise one of the most balanced squads around, with any one of them capable of breaking loose, as DeVoto did with a 30 in the under par assault on the par 33 Mill Valley Course last Thursday.

TOUGH COURSE

"My boys are real sharp around the greens," Wata said. "Lake Chabot is not that tough a course, but it is long. If we stick in there on our approach shots, we could do really well."

It will be a long grind of 18 holes, beginning at 7:08 in the morning.

Race Boat Driver Dies Of Injuries

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — Bobby Lee Hill, 35, a Knoxville, Tenn., power boat driver, died yesterday of injuries received in the Galveston 250 Speed Classic Sunday.

A spokesman at John Sealy Hospital said Hill suffered massive brain damage when his craft, 'Ambusher II,' disintegrated in rough water on the 55th lap of the 125-lap race of Offats Bayou.

Two other drivers, Mike Reagan, son of California Gov. Ronald Reagan, and Marvin Friedman of Coral Gables, Fla., were injured slightly in separate accidents.

Reagan received a cut on his arm when his boat, 'Mike Reagan Special' flipped. Both Reagan and Friedman were treated and released.

Tennis 'Fighters' Must Play

PARIS (AP) — British tennis pro Roger Taylor, his left arm in a sling after a fight with South Africa's Bob Hewitt, was told today he must be ready to play by late afternoon or lose his place in the French Open Championships.

The Roland Garros Stadium in Paris buzzed with talk of the incident, which occurred at a tournament in Berlin last Saturday.

Taylor, a left-hander, still said he intended to play—despite advice from doctors that he should lay off tennis for at least a week.

REQUEST DENIED

He asked that his match against Milan Holocek of Czechoslovakia be postponed until Wednesday. But a French Lawn Tennis Federation spokesmen said the match must be played today.

Hewitt, with a black eye, arrived in Paris but did not show up at the Stadium. He too was scheduled to play today against Ron Homberg of New York.

Three pro stars—Rod Laver and John Newcombe of Australia and Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, won their first round matches while two members of the United States Davis Cup team — Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., and Cliff Richey of Dallas, Tex., also moved into the second round.

IN DEFENSE

The two reigning champions —Ken Rosewall of Australia and Nancy Richey of Dallas, Tex.— were due to start the defense of their titles today.

Rosewall, 34, had to play Michel LeClercq of France. Miss Richey faced Karen Krantzcke of Australia.

The men's singles title is worth $7,000 while the women's winner receives $2,000.

Record For Dogs

DENVER (AP) — Single-night and seasonl wagering records were set at the Mile High greyhound track on the closing night this season. A crowd of 12,000 wagered more than $537,000 to raise the 61-night handle to $21,451,000.

Braves' Mascot Is Biggest Loser

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

St. Louis got shut out by Phil Niekro and Washington got blasted by Rod Carew. But baseball's biggest loser last night was Atlanta's Indian mascot, Chief Nok-A-Homa.

Niekro, the Braves' knuckleballer, blanked the Cards 3-0 and Carew's two home runs led Minnesota to a 7-1 romp over the Senators. Nok-A-Homa had a rougher time than both losers though.

He got burned out of his teepee.

BACKFIRES

Nok-A-Homa, the Injun who camps behind the left field fence in Atlanta Stadium, sets off smoke bombs and goes into a war dance to celebrate every Brave home run. Yesterday, though, one of his smoke bombs backfired.

When Clete Boyer tagged a two-run shot in the sixth inning, the Chief, an Ottawa-Chippewa Indian from Charlevoix, Mich., whose real name is Levi Walker, went into his act.

Then, something unscheduled happened. Flames enveloped his canvas teepee, shooting up about two feet over the top of the flimsy structure.

"It was sabotage," said Walker, who gets $10 per game for his homer celebrations. "Somebody got in my smoke bombs and fooled with them."

BROOMSTICK

Undaunted by the sudden emergency, the resourceful Indian grabbed a trusty broomstick he keeps "in the teepee for housekeeping" and beat out the flames. But it was too late to save his home. The canvas will have to be replaced.

"Maybe," said Nok-A-Homa philosoplically, "it was just a hot game."

It wasn't so hot for the Cardinals, who managed just five hits against Phil Niekro. The game was scoreless until the sixth when Felipe Alou opened with a single.

Felix Millan forced Alou but Orlando Cepeda, facing his ex-Cardinal teammates for the first time, doubled for one run. Then Boyer followed with the homer which cost Nok-A-Homa his humble home.

CAREW AT .394

Carew, the major league's leading hitter, boosted his average to .394 with his fourth and fifth homers of the year, each with a man on base.

The second one came in a five-run fourth inning that opened a 7-0 bulge for the Twins. Carew also had connected in the third inning.

Carew also made a sparkling play in the field in the second inning. There were runners on first and third with one out when the Minnesota second baseman lunged to stop Paul Casanova's grounder and started an inning-ending double play while on the ground.

Frank Howard broke a nine-game homer famine with his 15th of the season, accounting for Washington's only run off winner Jim Perry, 4-1.

FISH AND GAME

By AL GIDDINGS

Salmon Anglers Hit A Weekend Jackpot

The ocean salmon limit was upped to three fish again this past week by the Fish and Game Commission and Saturday turned out to be a bonanza!

Department of Fish and Game personnel looking in at Caruso's in Sausalito checked approximately 150 anglers, 100 with the three fish limit and most of the others with two fish. The largest king salmon checked weighed 27 pounds. About one-half of all salmon caught were silvers, average weight five to six pounds.

Party boats out of Sausalito Boat and Tackle had 54 limits, with a 36-pound king recorded as the largest fish taken. Most boats fished the Farallon Islands.

COMMERCIAL boats working out of Bodega and Point Reyes also had a big weekend, so it would seem that we have a number of large schools of salmon from San Francisco to Bodega.

Though it was windy at Corte Madera and Sausalito, it was relatively calm and not windy outside the Golden Gate Bridge, though some ground swells in the morning roughed up the water. Muir Beach and Stinson Beach were mobbed with sun bathers and the ocean and weather were beautiful. At the mouth of Tomales Bay, near Bird Rock, W. L. Barker from Marshall, fishing alone, picked up two salmon Saturday, both six to eight pounds.

The boat Blue Horizon, out of Sausalito, was rockfishing at the Farallons and took 21 limits of rockfish, big reds and blues and some good lingcod, biggest 23 pounds. The Ma-Ru also tried for rock fish and came home with ten limits and some lings. Biggest was 35 pounds, and that's a whopper!

THE STRIPED BASS fishing map made up by the Department of Fish and Game biologists says that most of the legal sized bass are leaving the delta, and should be enroute to the San Francisco Bay. This downstream migrations is completed usually by June 5. Imagine that: Sacramento is sending us 3,000 bass in the next couple of weeks all tagged with $2, $5 and $10 bills. This is better than taxes, and about time too! Please call me when they arrive, and you can send me the reward tags. I'll take care of them for you.

NEXT WEEKEND we have the lowest tides of the year. Saturday we have a -1.8 at 6:12 a.m. and on Sunday a -2.0 at 7:06 a.m. Sunrise will be at 5:50 a.m. these mornings so it's possible to take abalones, clams, eels or rockfish.

The mussel quarantine is now in effect, so no mussels, and only the white meat parts of clams should be eaten. Cockles could be dangerous. Abalones and fish are okay. The Marin County Health Deaprtment says that clams taken from Richardson Bay are dangerous due to sewage contamination. It might be a good idea to check with the Health Department for last minute conditions at Bolinas Lagoon also.

WITH TROUT plants made all through May, and scheduled for all of June at Phoenix and Lagunitas lakes near Fairfax and Rodeo Lagoon neort Fort Cronkhite, anglers should be able to bring home meat for the table, along with having some good sport.

Of course everyone misses sometime. I heard that Joe and David Mello found Bernard Nerviani's hot spot, fished all day, and never got a bit! There's lots of razzle-dazzle that goes on in this fishing game, I tell you.

BOB WILSON of Woodacre, who nailed a big sturgeon last week south of Richmond Bridge, went again this week, and connected with another — about a 60-pounder. That's two trips and two big fish for Robert.

Enos Foster of Woodacre, who went with Wilson, caught a leopard shark for his only fish. You think he threw it back? Ha! It's being cooked. As Enos sees it, his family won't know the difference, and a buck saved is a buck earned.

Nets Get A New Owner

NEW YORK (UPI)—The wandering New York Nets have a new owner. Now all the team needs is a coach and a place to play. Some good players would help too.

Roy Boe, the owner of the Long Island Bulls of the Atlantic Coast Football League, bought 51 per cent of the Nets of the American Basketball Association from Arthur Brown yesterday. Six of Boe's associates bought the other 4 per cent. The price was a million dollars.

FAILURE

Brown's failure to land Lew Alcindor because of his original low bid was a severe blow to the success of the team—and the league.

It's uncertain where the club will play in 1969-70. The team, which played in Teaneck, N.J., in its first season and Commack, L.I., in its second year, is searching for a suitable area in the metropolitan area.

Boe said he plans to sign "one of the country's outstanding college coaches" to coach the team within a week and hopes to name a general manager "with major league experience" within a few days.

The club finished in last place last season in the Eastern Division. The coach for the first two season, Max Zaflosky, resigned.

MONDAY NIGHT AT THE GAME

Pro Football To Invade 'Prime Time'

NEW YORK (UPI)—Does the hand that rocks the cradle also switch the TV dial?

That's what the National Football League will find out starting in 1970 when it invades "prime time" on ABC-TV for 13 consecutive Monday nights. The NFL announced last night it has signed an agreement with the network for the televising of 13 games each season for a three-year span from 1970 to 1972 after the merger of the AFL and NFL becomes a fact.

NEGOTIATING

Pete Rozelle, pro football commissioner, said both CBS and NBC had rejected the Monday night package but he's still negotiating with those networks on the Sunday games.

The agreement culminates an effort Rozelle has made for the past several years to get "prime time" TV exposure for pro football. The networks have been cool to the idea in the past—and CBS and NBC rejected it—because sports attractions usually don't fare too well in "prime time" hours when the women supposedly dominate the audience.

But ABC, which doesn't usually have a strong Monday night lineup (NBC usually dominates the evening with its "Laugh - In" program), decided to gamble on the Monday night idea since it currently televises no pro football. Both the network and the NFL hope to attract a more diversified audience with a consistent "prime time" show. The number of sets in use on a typical Sunday afternoon is very low compared with an evening and most of the people watching football are men who turned their sets on specifically to watch the game.

RATINGS

Of course, it remains to be seen whether a regular "prime time" attraction will be successful but the ratings of the program—the barometer of success or failure in TV—will tell.

No financial terms were announced but it was estimated the package calls for $6 million a year—almost $500,000 a game—for a three-year pact of $18 million.

Rozelle hopes to negotiate TV contracts for Sunday and Monday night totaling at least $31.2 million because that amount is needed for each of the 26 teams to receive $1.2 million a year from TV rights.

Rozelle said "hopefully" the take for each team will surpass $1.2 million, but the total package would have to yield $38 million for the individual sum for each team to go up just $300,000 to $1.5 million.

The Monday games will start at 8:30 p.m. or 9 p.m. Eastern time and will be televised from parks which have lights suitable for televising in color.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

If You Are Minus Six Trumps Don't Bet On An Even Split

When you're missing six trumps (or six cards of any suit), don't expect each opponent to hold three. The odds are almost 2 to 1 that they will divide less evenly. The point decides today's hand, taken from Victor Mollo's excellent new book "How Good Is Your Bridge?"

FIRST IDEA

West leads a spade, and you ruff since there is no advantage in discarding. Now your first idea is to draw trumps and cash the good diamonds safely.

Before you do so, take the precaution of playing the hand mentally. You will have to play dummy's top hearts and top diamonds. This will leave you with two trumps. You will have to ruff a spade to return to your hand, and now you will have one trump left, with two trumps still out.

This means that you will be unable to draw trumps if either opponent started with four trumps. It is even possible that one opponent started with five trumps.

Since you are not happy about being on the short end of 2 to 1 odds, you must look for a plan that offers a better chance; and, fortunately for you, such a plan exists. (If there were no better chance you would have to settle for your original line of play and hope for the best.)

RUFFERS IN DUMMY

After ruffing the first spade, cash dummy's top diamonds and the ace of clubs. This is not very risky because with seven diamonds missing the odds are about 12 to 1 that neither opponent will be able to ruff the first or second diamond.

Now ruff a spade in your hand, ruff a good diamond in dummy, ruff another spade in your hand and ruff your last good diamond in dummy. By this line of play you win tricks with dummy's five top cards and also with your own five trumps for a total of 10 tricks.

DAILY QUESTION

Dealer, at your right, opens the bidding with one spade. You are next, holding:

S — A K Q 10 7
H — 7 6 4 2
D — 7 4
C — Q 10.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Pass.

You would have bid the spades yourself if the dealer had opened with one of any other suit, but there is no advantage in bidding them when you know that the suit will break horribly. Your best chance for a plus score is to pass and hope that the opponents stay in spades.

India Plans For Prohibition

GOA, India (AP) — Prohibition will be a seven year itch in India.

The national committee of the governing Congress Party has given seven years' time for nation-wide introduction of prohibition.

ALMANAC

Today is Tuesday, May 27, the 147th day of 1969 with 218 to follow.

The moon is between its first quarter and full phase. The morning stars are Venus, Mars and Saturn. The evening stars are Mercury and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1935 the U.S. Supreme Court ruled unanimously that the National Recovery Act was unconstitutional. The Act was created by the administration of President Franklin D. Roosevelt to combat the depression.

In 1941 the German battleship "Bismarck" was sunk 400 miles west of Brest, France.

In 1942 Nazi Reinhard Heydrich, "the Hangman of Czechoslovakia," was slain by patriots of that country.

In 1968 the U.S. nuclear submarine, Scorpion, was lost with 99 aboard.

A thought for the day: Miguel de Cervantes said, "My honor is dearer to me than my life."

Indians Live On Grand Canyon Floor

WASHINGTON (UPI) —One of the most isolated Indian settlements in the country is situated on the floor of an extremely rugged section of the Grand Canyon, reports the National Park Service.

The Havasupais ("People of the blue-green waters") live on a reservation 3,000 feet below the canyon rim that averages only about one-quarter mile in width. Visitors can make arrangements to be met by Indian guides who conduct horse or mule-back tours of the settlement.

Stocks Drop Sharply; Talk Of Bank Move

NEW YORK (UPI) —Stocks plunged sharply today amid talk the nation's commercial banks may soon move up their prime lending rates again.

Steels tended easier following a cutback in production and a slowdown in industry ordering last week. Motors, too, were slightly lower in most instances.

Many oils seemed to attract profit taking following some sharp gains in recent weeks. Midwest Oil and Natomas, two of the biggest winners on the big board last week, backed off a bit. The latter has an interest in oil exploration in Indonesia.

Airlines and rails moved in both directions, with a few point-sized movers noted. Aircrafts, however, were narrowly irregular.

There were several losers of a point or more in the electronics, but Motorola bucked the trend.

Stock Offering

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Kirk Kerkorian, who has extensive airline holdings and interest in Las Vegas hotels and casinos, has announced he will make a public offering of about $76 million worth of stock in Transamerica Corp., the San Francisco Financial conglomerate. Kerkorian acquired the stock in the sale of Trans International Airlines to Transamerica.

Parking Costs

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—A nationwide study of the use of parking meters attributes up to $12,000 in annual retail sales to a parking space. This breaks down to $38 per space each day for a six-day shopping week, according to C.D. Fayling, manager of parking meters for Rockwell Manufacturing Co.

Report Says City Dwellers Earn Much More

WASHINGTON (UPI) — How are you gonna keep 'em down on the farm after they've seen the Commerce Department report that city dwellers earn 45 per cent more than their country cousins?

The department has released its latest figures on metropolitan income showing that 134 million metropolitan area residents had an average income of $3,511 in 1967, the last year for which figures were available. The remaining 60 million people earned an average of $2,429, the report said.

The five cities with the largest total income are New York, $52 billion; Los Angeles-Long Beach, $28.8 billion; Chicago, $28.1 billion; Philadelphia, $16.4 billion and Detroit, $15.8 billion.

The report said the following cities had the largest percentage increase of income over 1966; Fayetteville, N.C., 28.7 per cent; Lawton, Okla., 23 per cent; Sioux Falls, S.D., 18.8 per cent, Colorado Springs, Colo., 18 per cent; Texarkana, Tex.-Ark., 17.5 per cent; Austin, Tex., 16.9 per cent; Ft. SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. My wife and I have $10,000 to $12,000 to invest for retirement in nine to 10 years. What would be the best investments for us? — R. L.

A. In recent weeks several studies on an old theme have appeared in the financial press — stocks with consistently rising dividends. While these are not to be confused with the high-yielding income issues, they make very satisfactory holdings over a period. As dividend increases usually follow earnings gains, share price levels are likely to advance.

Five companies which have increased dividends annually for at least a decade are: Avon Products, Gulf Oil, Heublein, Magnavox and Warner-Lambert. Their current yields are not impressive — they average just over 2 per cent — but over a period of years when applied to the purchase price, the yield appears more generous. For instance, Avon shares bought 10 years ago would yield 26 per cent on a cost basis. By investing equal-dollar amounts in the above-named five stocks, you should, in 10 years, realize a sizable boost to your retirement security.

Q. My husband, age 79, and I (under 65) own $5,000 of E bonds, some being 20 years old. Do you advise changing these to H bonds, and how is this done? What are the denominations of H bonds? — H. S.

A. The exchange to H bonds can be made by your bank without charge. Their denominations are $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000. I don't recommend switching because your oldest bonds are accruing interest at the maximum rate of 4.25 per cent. The changeover would force you back to the lower end of the interest range for a year and a half. If you need income, you could redeem one or more of the oldest bonds, put the cash in a 5 per cent savings account and pay federal income tax on the interest which the E bonds have accrued to redemption. Since this column does not include tax advice, I urge you first to discuss with a bank officer or tax specialist the best way to arrange the proposed redemptions.

Saleswomen Get A Chance In Steel Industry

BALTIMORE (UPI) — The shortage of good salesmen is compelling the steel industry to turn to women.

Armco Steel Co. of Middletown, Ohio, is holding the first seminar exclusively for female sales personnel in Baltimore this week. Twenty-seven women sales representatives from all over the country are attending.

The women work mainly in distribution service centers, taking care of customers' emergency needs and some regular needs.

The women are not all from Armco. Other companies taking part in the seminar are American Steel & Aluminum Corp.; Esco; Peter A. Frasse & Co.; The House of Stainless; Industrial Stainless Steels Inc.; Joseph T. Ryerson & Son; Metal Goods-Whitehead; Viking Steel, and Mapes & Sprowl.

ON VIOLENCE: 'Assassin Pool' Always Lurking

By BRUCE BIOSSAT

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Not long ago a leading American political figure went on a one-day trip to make a public appearance. By careful design, there was no advance notice of his travels.

That may set something of a pattern for the politics of America from here on. The threat of assassination of presidents and other top figures is greater than it ever was.

Beginning with Franklin D. Roosevelt, the country has had six presidents. One, John F. Kennedy, was assassinated. Two others, Roosevelt himself and Harry Truman, had unsuccessful attempts made on their lives.

In his more than five years in office, Lyndon B. Johnson had some 6,000 written threats against his life. President Nixon surely will not be spared this same continuing menace.

VIOLENCE and high politics have long been linked in this nation, as witness the fact that one-fifth of our 20 presidents since Abraham Lincoln's time have been murdered in office.

The 1968 killings of Robert F. Kennedy and Martin Luther King Jr. are reminders that the danger does not stop at the White House.

Writing recently in the Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists, political scientist Sidney J. Slomich and clinical psychologist Robert E. Kantor suggested that the rise of charismatic figures like Roosevelt, the Kennedys and King at crisis periods in history tends to heighten the prospect of assassination.

The man with charisma is, by definition, a person who by his very appearance and presence — aside from his actions — conveys a sense of hope and promise to millions at a time of crisis.

But the Slomich-Kantor theme is that most potential political assassins not only suffer a feeling of hopelessness, but actually develop a vested interest in supporting their despair. Hence they strike out at the figure of hope, because they have none and cannot adjust to signs of promise.

The Slomich-Kantor argument adds that charismatic figures are much more likely to be sought after in times of rapid social change like the present. But such times also are much more productive of persons who belong in what the authors call the "assassin pool."

WHO ARE these people?

The author say that mostly they are dispossessed elements of the lower middle classes, that they have a strong feeling of envy and are alienated both from themselves and society. The writers go on:

". . . These individuals come to attach value to pain, frustration and despair . . .

"They therefore may strike out destructively against public figures who hold forth a hopeful future."

Dr. David Abramsen, a New York psychiatrist, told the President's Commission on Violence pretty much the same thing as to the make-up of would-be assassins.

Aided by the Secret Service, he studied 10 men who wrote LBJ menacing letters. All had similar personality traits and all had many traits in common with Lee Harvey Oswald, the alleged assassin of John Kennedy.

THEY WERE estranged from society, had dreams of the limelight, and an intense wish to exact revenge for presumed wrongs. And, as Slomich and Kantor found, all were sexually frustrated.

There is no proof in these studies that a society's tolerance of violence is a clear encouragement of political assassins. Right now the extreme New Left openly advocates it and a surprising number of self-styled liberals wink at it.

They, and some of their European counterparts looking at us, like to believe that strongly felt issue lie behind — if they do not justify — political assassination. Hence their love of the conspiracy approach and their distaste for the "estranged loner" theory.

But the Slomich-Kantor studies, backed by others, suggest only minor weight can be given to issues. The men in the assassins' pool are on the fringe of life — tormented failures waiting to lash out.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Anonymous Complaints Sometimes Have Reason

The anonymous call and anonymous letter are plagues of editors. At the Independent-Journal, we refuse to publish letters which the writers will not sign, insisting that they be willing to stand behind whatever they say. We usually do not pay much attention to anonymous calls, for the same reason.

Sometimes, however, there is good cause for a person to fear being identified with a complaint. Sometimes he may have reason to be afraid of reprisals.

The fear of reprisals is especially poignant, and the cause for it especially repugnant, when it involves reprials against one's child.

MOST OF THE anonymous callers and letter writers who refuse to disclose their names because of fear of reprisal against their children are complaining about something at school.

The old plaint of "the teacher will take it out on Johnny" is as familiar as it is usually unjustified. But of late there has been an increasing number of complaints of another type regarding the schools — and fear of reprisal.

"A Very Concerned Parent" writes of a meeting arranged by a high school teacher at which pamphlets telling how to avoid the draft were passed out. The same teacher, claims this parent, has instructed classes in the techniques of "confrontation" with the police.

AN INFORMANT in position to know — but fearful of having his name used — insists that black students at College of Marin threatened school officials to get them to hand over money that had been given the college specifically to be used for those students needing aid in going on to higher education. The black students got the money.

Another parent claims that tape recordings promoting racial hatred through the spoutings of a young boy are played to classes in a Marin elementary school district.

In another Marin district where there has been much school yard gangsterism a parent claims the school principal refused to be responsible for the safety of a child beset by gangs.

Still another parent complains that her daughter at high school is approached almost daily by other students trying to push marijuana and other drugs, but the principal of the school contends it is impossible to police against such activity on campus.

Then there is the parent who says students in certain high school classes are encouraged to defy laws with which they don't agree. And there is the parent who claims a boy in a high school class smoked a marijuana cigaret in class, with the teacher paying no attention.

THE TRUTH of such complaints — and those listed are but a sampling — is extremely hard to determine. The ordinary citizen cannot just walk into a class at school and expect that the class will continue as it was before he entered. Nor can the principal, or a school board member, ever be sure that his visit does not occasion an abrupt change from whatever was going on before he appeared.

The sum of the complaints, however, is this: When things go on at school to which a parent objects, no satisfaction is obtained by going to school officials or trustees. That's why the complaints wind up at the newspaper office.

And that is, to a great extent, why school people complain they have "trouble with communications."

Marin Birdsongs

Morning, afternoon and evening, the air in our neighborhood has been vibrating like a violin string with the songs of many birds this spring. We do not claim to know them all. But we find them interesting.

The quail we know very well, to the point that we can tell if they are safe, in distress or just claiming their territory. But we always have lots of quail, so their song isn't unusual.

Also, not uncommon in our neighborhood are the chick-like peeping of the brown towhee; the churr of the rufous-sided towhee; the electric sound of the hummingbird; the cooing of two kinds of doves; the warbling of the goldfinch and the robin.

However, this spring there is more — much more. Enough to make us want to study the birdsong records and become really expert.

Juvenile Hall Should Be Closed

It is my opinion the juvenile hall should be discontinued for the following reasons:

1. The cost to maintain such an operation.

2. I am told the juveniles are only kept for 90 days while awaiting a hearing.

3. Why can they not be confined for 90 days without trips to the beach and the ski resorts?

4. According to the recent incident involving a teen-ager girl's death, there is lack of supervision (or the wrong kind of supervision) and if there is a rule that a woman and a man should accompany them on these outings, why was there only a male? Was it a man with long flowing locks? That tells me something right there.

5. The court, community, and taxpayers have a responsibility to these wayward youths, since our money is provided for the project.

My visit to juvenile hall left me with many questions in my mind. One, the quarters shared by boys and girls, with girls on one side, boys on the other, and a common room in between?

Marin County taxpayers never really know what is going on.

Why should the new probation officer who succeeded Mr Busher get $20,000 per year to start, when Mr. Busher's salary was $17,770 (according to the I-J, March 19)? Why was Mr. Brewer appointed at a closed meeting? Was this a "departure form normal employment routine", and why?

Student Players Provide Inspiration

The College of Marin Drama Department under the direction of Robin Jackson, is staging "The World We Live In" for the Mountain Play Association. The cast is large — actors, dancers, choruses, supers, musicians. Fortunately, I had a chance to be exposed to these young students, and feel so privileged to have had contact with this youth at first hand.

They may have long hair, bears, mini-skirts, odd clothing — so what? Their energy is boundless and electrifying. They can dance for hours on end, making their own music from whatever is available, and oh! to be young again! They drink very little, an occasional beer. They are too busy, just being. Under the director, they do body exercises before each rehearsal and performance. They leave no litter. They are courteous and they are friendly. In particular, their enthusiasm for life is exciting. I do not doubt that these young people thoroughly understand the play and its messages, as summed up in the epilogue by the fine actor, David McCauley.

They are paid nothing for their participation in the Mountain Play, nor do they get credit at school. All their time and effort is donated, including Mr. Jackson's.

As adults, we must find ways to adapt this tremendous vitality into a meaningful society for them. I must honestly admit that I had not felt the responsibility so strongly until I had been exposed to them. They can take over where we wear out.

Attempt To Create Park Commendable

As a teacher, who has worked with, and for, young people for the past 15 years, I believe I have the background to make some comments on the present state of affairs at Berkeley.

The students of today are intently interested in helping, in a constructive and meaningful way, to bring into being a society based on humane principles. They are, by and large, the best informed and most incisive thinking group of people ever to come to the fore in this country.

As an example, their intent to create and build a park on an unused parcel of land is not only in the best interest of the citizens of Berkeley, but is indicative of their sincere desire to become involved in a meaningful and constructive way.

If they chose an improper way to do so, one must attribute this to the impetuosity of youth. If the youth of today are to discover that they are important to their immediate environment and to each other they must be afforded greater opportunities to become instrumental in changing said environment. Particularly if it is beneficial to the community.

I would urge my fellow citizens who have an interest in their children's future not to be misled by the intimidating remarks of some segments of the political arena. The governor in particular has used his office, not to bring reason and compassion to bear on the problems afflicting today's young people, but has rather used the situation to strengthen his political fences. This will redound to his disadvantage. . . .

Johnson The Wheeler-Dealer Behind The Fortas Uproar

WASHINGTON —With the furor over Abe Fortas beginning to subside, it is worth examining how it happened. As an example of how not to manage the relationship between the chief executive and the judiciary it should be a warning for the man now in the White House and for other presidents to come.

While the flak rains down on Fortas, the principal actor was Lyndon Baines Johnson, currently playing it very quiet offstage in Texas. As in almost every aspect of his presidency, Johnson was the political animal, the wheeler-dealer, in his approach to the supreme court.

IT BEGAN immediately after the death of Adlai Stevenson in July, 1965. Who was to take his place as ambassador to the United Nations? President Johnson summoned Arthur Goldberg, then an associate justice, to the White House.

Those familiar with the background say that Johnson exerted all his mastery of persuasion on Goldberg to get him to give up his lifetime place on the court and take the U.N. post.

This created a vacancy. Since Goldberg was of Jewish origin, it opened the way for the appointment of Fortas. An unwritten rule prescribes that in the political-religious balance on the court there shall be one Jew and one Roman Catholic.

FORTAS WAS a long-time Johnson friend and his personal lawyer at critical moments in the Johnson career. He had managed the certification of Johnson's election to the Senate in 1948 when 87 votes in a bossed county were at stake.

Even after he had formally withdrawn as Bobby Baker's lawyer, Fortas continued behind scenes to try to help get the secretary of the Senate majority — and Johnsons protege — out of the mess of his wheeling and dealing.

Confirmation of Fortas by the Senate to be an associate justice was a formality. The storm broke when Earl Warren decided a year ago to retire, and Johnson named Fortas in his place. The nomination was twinned with that of Homer Thornberry, a circuit court of appeals judge and another long-time Johnson crony, to fill the associate justiceship made vacant by the Fortas elevation.

Determined opposition soon developed, led by Sen. Robert P. Griffin (R-Mich.). At the outset this seemed to be based on Fortas' record as a liberal. Facts soon developed, however, notably the $15,000 American University lecture fee and what appeared to be justice Fortas' intervention in behalf of Johnson in a phase of the Vietnam controversy, that cooled his Senate backers. With confirmation blocked, Fortas asked that his name be withdrawn.

Leslie Salt Fabricating 'Study' In Bay Quarrel?

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

The biggest private property owner on San Francisco Bay vehemently opposes legislation that would extend to its property the jurisdiction of the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission.

That's hardly surprising, but it is unsettling to find the owner of 50,000 acres, the Leslie Salt Co., apparently fabricating arguments to bolster its fight in Sacramento.

SPECIFICALLY, the company has testified before legislative committees that while the BCDC's master plan for the bay "states that the (salt) ponds must be preserved because they help prevent smog, the San Francisco Air Pollution Control District's studies prove they do not — indeed that water surface of any kind has no effect in reducing smog."

But the district director of information, Edward W. McHugh, told us that "we never made such a finding." Leslie's statement simply was "not supportable," McHugh said.

McHugh, stressing that the district had not studied the matter, nevertheless said water surface "certainly plays an effect on climate, and thus on smog."

LESLIE'S testimony, incidentally, was not presented by an overly imaginative public relations man, but by its secretary and counsel, Harry A. Jackson Jr.

Contrary to Jackson's testimony, the BCDC's study of smog and weather concluded that substantial bay filling would increase summer temperatures, lower winter temperatures, cut rainfall, and increase the frequency and density of fog as well as of smog.

The BCDC study, done by Albert Miller, meteorology professor at San Jose State College, estimated that "significant changes would be observed before 25 per cent of the existing bay water surface had been eliminated." He reportedly felt this figure was far too conservative, but his caution as a scientist obliged him to avoid a stronger statement.

LESLIE'S SALT ponds amount to about 15 per cent of the water surface of the bay, thus its plans for their extensive development could go a long way toward lousing up the Bay Area's climate. And Leslie is not the only property owner eager to shrink the bay.

Leslie particularly objects to BCDC's proposal that the public buy the salt ponds as they go out of production. Ponds left in Leslie's hands because of a lack of public money to buy them would be subject to the BCDC's control over development. Leslie knows that the BCDC would be a tougher nut than city and county officials.

The fate of the legislation is up to the Senate now, where anything can happen, but very little usually does.

EVEN THE GOVERNOR'S inner sanctum has been infiltrated!

Spotted on a blackboard in the governor's conference room in the capitol was the hastily erased, but still legible "ND" symbol of the peace movement. The bold word "Peace!" also still was legible.

Water Grab In Evidence On Southern California Tour

Here are some random thoughts after traveling around California on vacation:

The rape of the once verdant Owens Valley to take water to Los Angeles set the pattern for the southern end of the state which is still ontinuing. Los Angeles gets what it wants at others' expense. Although Los Angeles claimed that it paid the Owens Valley farmers well for the water, the aqueduct was dynamited more than 20 times in its first three years.

The Los Angeles reached eastward and took water from the states that drain into the Colorado River. After many years of litigation, Arizona got back a portion of its water.

Now under the California Water Plan, water from Northern California is to be sent to Southern California. In the desert between Victorville and Palmdale, irrigation pipes are now being installed, awaiting the water from the north to dump out on that stretch of rock and sand.

That same area when we were there was engulfed in smog which was blowing over the mountains from Los Angeles like smoke from a forest fire.

The same California Water Plan calls for drowning the Round Valley and city of Covelo for water for Southern California.

ONCE AT a hearing before the state highway engineers in Novato, the request was made to extend Highway 37 from Novato to Point Reyes National Seashore. The answer was given that the Division of Highways does not construct highways that start nowhere and go nowhere.

A trip over Highway 14 south of Palmdale disputes this statement. This highway cost millions of dollars per mile to construct the four and six-lane freeway which goes nowhere and connects nothing but cacti and desert plants.

It was rather disheartening to see that beautiful highway with hardly any cars on it and compare it with Highway 101 in Novato which is clogged with cars and traffic lights.

AT HEARST'S CASTLE at San Simeon the remark was made that it was a waste of money. Was it? Without the expenditure by multimillionaire Hearst on the art treasures, many Californians would never be able to see man's works of art from past centuries.

The lakes and forests of Northern California looked pleasing after the smog and wasteland of the southern desert. The fresh ocean breezes and abundance of water made a great contrast. Northern Californians should be on the alert to keep them.

Southern California already has its hold on the water, but it cannot get the ocean breezes. That is, it cannot unless the San Andreas Fault makes a big move and shifts Los Angeles to the west of the bay.

ART BUCHWALD

The Perils Of A Revolutionary In Nest Of Capitalist Intrigue

The Students for a Democratic Society has urged its members to get their hair cut, shave off their beards and sideburns and infiltrate the business community this summer. The idea is to foment revolution off the campss.

Some businessmen are fearful of the results of such an infiltration. But I think the SDS is taking a bigger chance than business. It's one thing to stick to your ideals on a campus with 50 or 60 other students giving you support, but it's another to go off all alone into the business world and keep from being corrupted.

BEARING IN MIND that most members of SDS are usually the brighter students, let's go to the Flipper Department Store where Barney Longstreet, an SDS leader, has managed to get a job as a trainee in the men's clothing department. For a start, Barney has been sticking pictures of Che Guevara in the suits hanging on the racks—a small thing, but as Mao Tse-tung says, "A revolutionary must work in the pocket of most resistance."

Barney does this early in the morning. Since he is always the first one there, the men's clothing buyer is very impressed with him and one day announces that he is elevating Barney from his trainee position to full salesman.

This surprise appointment leaves Barney unsettled, as he wants to pursue the life of the lowliest employe to get the feel of what it is like to be exploited by the capitalist system. Rather than reveal his true identity, Barney accepts the promotion.

HIS CHANCES of fomenting revolution among the employes are limited to lunch and smoking breaks, and when Barney tells the employes what a lousy deal they have at Flipper's, he attracts a large audience.

The vice president of personnel, who has no idea what Barney is talking to the other employes about, feels that if he can attract such large audiences he must have executive potential, and, therefore, he makes him a floor manager at a healthy salary increase.

Stricken with fear that he is selling out, Barney hands in a list of reforms which he says the store must agree to before he takes the job. These include Flipper's Department Store getting involved in the community, donating part of its profits to the employes and setting up an Afro-American clothing boutique.

These demands are sent up to the president of Flipper's and after reading them he says, "Why didn't we think of this first? Bring him up to the executive offices."

BARNEY IS NOW in real trouble because, thanks to his demands, profits of Flipper's are up 30 percent, and he is made a vice president in charge of promotion. In keeping with his position, he has a new apartment, a new car, and he spends his evenings at First Avenue bars meeting airline stewardesses. The only revolutionary activity he has time for is reading Marcuse on the Long Island Railroad when he goes to West Hampton for the weekend.

Once, in a moment of extreme guilt, Barney sits down on the floor in the president's office to show his disdain for the system. But when the president and other executives come in, they all join him on the floor and they hold a meeting on how to increase the store's charge accounts. The president finds everyone so much more relaxed when they sit on the floor that he orders all the furniture taken out of his office.

At the end of the summer Barney is offered his own store, which Flipper's is opening in Westchester County; and since he's too ashamed to go back ot his SDS chapter and tell them he's executive vice president of Flipper's, he accepts. And so the Students for a Democratic Society lose another good man.

Forgery Suspect Pleads Innocent

Julie McCue, 32, of no fixed address, pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to a charge she tried to obtain amphetamine with a forged prescription.

A preliminary hearing was set for Tuesday.

Miss McCue was arrested Thursday at a San Rafael pharmacy.

Quail Hill Project Stays On Schedule

Work on the site preparation for the multi-million dollar Quail Hill project is progressing on schedule and initial landscaping work is expected to begin this summer, city officials and project landscapers report.

Work on the project for Commerce Clearing House began following the April 9 issuance of an excavation permit to move 450,000 cubic yards of dirt, much of it away from the site. Grading plans were approved by the city before the permit was issued.

While site preparation is in progress on the hill above Northgate Shopping Center, the San Francisco landscape architectural firm of Eckbo Dean Austin and Williams is working on plans for the development.

Initially, entrance roads will be planted with native shrubs and flowering trees. Other general landscaping plans include extensive screen planting on all borders, primarily pines and flowering trees; erosion control seeding on all cut slopes, chiefly grasses and wild flowers, and two vineyard areas, one of about an acre on the terraces facing Northgate Drive and another of about 4.5 acres on the western slope, according to George W. Swan of the firm.

Swan said the development is drawing extensive interest because it is the first of its size and scope in Marin and the extension service of the University of California at Davis is working with his firm on landscaping plans.

In addition to the general landscaping, there will be street trees and other plantings in the single family dwelling areas and individual landscaping for the buildings such as the conference and office complex.

Preliminary plans and zoning for the project have been approved by the San Rafael City Council and Planning Commission. "The ultimate development will have to conform to what has been approved," said senior city planner Charles J. Linthicum.

Linthicum noted that landscaping around individual buildings will be part of architectural approval still to be sought. Any changes in other plans would have to come back to the planning commission and council.

A scale model of the finished development is on display in the city hall foyer.

Rash Of Accidents Leaves Eight Injured

A rash of accidents on Marin roads yesterday and today left eight persons injured and five hospitalized, one in critical condition, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Homer W. Byard Sr., 54, of 1145 Elm Drive, Apt. 8, Novato, was reported in critical condition today in the intensive care unit at Marin General Hospital with injuries including a broken pelvis, broken right leg and multiple face cuts.

The patrol said Byard was inexplicably walking along the center divider on Highway 101 in San Rafael at 3 p.m. yesterday when he dashed into traffic. Two vehicles missed him but he was hit by a car driven by Eugenia B. Delemos, 58, of 113 Vendola Drive, Santa Venetia, the patrol said.

According to the patrol, partial traffic blockage following Byard accident on freeway near Lincoln Avenue slowed traffic and backed up northbound cars as far as the San Quentin Wye for an hour.

Serge E. Agadjanian, 24, of San Francisco, was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital with cuts on the scalp and left eyebrow suffered in a collision on the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge at 5:50 p.m. yesterday.

Agadjanian's passenger, Delbert Smith, 31, of Reno, was treated at the hospital for cuts on face, scalp and toe.

The patrol said Agadjanian's car stalled just as he cut in front of a van driven by Harry A. Barnes Jr., 62, of San Lorenzo. He was cited for making an unsafe lane change and having no driver's license in his possession.

Two women were hospitalized after a collision on Highway 101 near the Waldo Tunnel at 3:30 p.m. yesterday. Karen A. Staley, 22, of Santa Maria, Santa Barbara County, was reported in fair condition at Marin General Hospital with a broken neck vertebra, broken collarbone and broken right ankle.

Mabel V. McBride, 61, of Belmont, was reported in fair consition at Mill Hospital, San Mateo, with a broken right hip.

The patrol said Mrs. McBride's car drifted onto the shoulder, then veered across traffic and hit the Staley car, which overturned. Mrs. McBride was cited for failing to drive in a single lane of traffic.

Ronald S. Kish, 24, of Oakland, was reported in fair condition at Harkness Community Hospital, San Francisco, with a compound fracture of the right leg suffered when his motorcycle hit a van head-on on Shoreline Highway in Tamalpais Valley at 1:30 p.m. yesterday. Van driver Craig R. Morris, 22 of San Franciscop was uninjured. Kish's motorcycle skidded on wet pavement, the patrol said.

Catherin F. Ghiringhelli, 51, of 25 Harcourt Street, San Rafael, was treated at Marin General Hospital for scrapes and bruises after a tire went flat and her car hit the center rail on Highway 101 in Corte Madera at 11:30 a.m. She was cited for driving with an unsafe tire.

Isaac G. Velanzquez, 30, of 1355 San Anselmo Avenue, San Anselmo, was treated at Marin General Hospital for bruises and scrapes on the left elbow and left temple today after his car went off Highway 101 and overturned on Alto Hill at 12:55 a.m.

Three Youths In Custody In Theft Of Gun, Jewelry

Three youths were in custody and a fourth sought today in connection with the theft of a gun and more than $500 in jewelry, radios and other items from the San Rafael home of the principal of Davidson Junior High School.

Suspected of the daylight burglary of the home of Hanlon P. Tharp at 90 Chula Vista Drive are Richard Sheldon Knowles, 18, of 49 Delores Street, and Casey Lawrence Porter, 19, of 2008 Fifth Avenue, both San Rafael, and Michael Anthony Omizzolo, 16, of 107 Live Oak Drive, Fairfax.

Police — working on information supplied by a witness who allegedly saw two of the boys enter the Tharp home shortly after noon yesterday — stopped a car carrying the three near Knowles' home later in the day. Some of the stolen items were recovered from the youths' clothing and the car, police said. The gun, a .38-caliber revolver, was missing, as was a fourth suspect.

Police said Tharp's home was entered through a kitchen window. Among the items stolen were a $200 wristwatch, $200 in miscellaneous jewelry and a $100 stereophonic radio.

In addition to each being booked for investigation of burglary, Knowles was suspected of possessing marijuana for sale and Porter of marijuana possession. Bail was set at $3,215 each for appearance in Marin Municipal Court today.

Omizzolo was taken to Juvenile Hall.

Eighty-five per cent of the nation's municipalities of 50,000 population or more had housing codes in 1967, the National Commission on Urban Problems reports.

Bay Bills To Finance Committee

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — All three major bills to continue controls over filling of San Francisco Bay won unanimous endorsement today by the Senate Governmental Efficiency Committee.

The unprecedented move sent all three to the Finance Committee, which is dominated by the same senior senators as is the governmental efficiency committee. Thus, presumably the decision on which bill is to survive still must be made by the finance committee.

The three bills and a host of others which the committee has been sitting on, were voted out without debate. The chairman of the committee, Sen. Richard J. Dolwig, R-San Mateo, previously had announced no action would be taken on the three bills until the committee heard a fourth one next month.

The three bills voted out today were by Dolwig, and Sens. Nicholas C. Petris, D-Oakland, and Milton Marks, R-San Francisco. All three continue the life of the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission, and the bills by Petris and Dolwig would extend the jurisdiction of the BCDC to the shoreline and salt ponds.

Marks' bill would merely extend the life of the commission, due to go out of existence late this year unless the legislature acts to extend its life.

The postcard celebrates its centennial this year, the National Geographic says. It was introduced on Oct. 1, 1869, in Austria.

Planners Approve Division Of Lots On Shelter Bay

Application by the Bank of America to divide 31.47 acres on Shelter Bay into four lots was approved last night by the Mill Valley Planning Commission, Director Harvey E. Bragdon reported.

Bragdon said the property is zoned commercial recreational and all but 14 acres will be developed with restaurants, motels and other recreationally oriented commercial uses. Apartments are planned for the 14-acre parcel, he said.

Vote was 2-0 with commissioners Robert E. Burton and Paul E. Rosenthal abstaining. Commissioners Edward Farrell, Sally Garoutte and Harlan L. Soeten were absent.

The commission denied a request by Gulf Oil Co. to rezone the northwest corner of East Blithedale Avenue and Camino Alto from professional administrative to general commercial. A request for a use permit to demolish an existing Hancock service station and construct a Gulf Oil station was also denied on a 3-1 vote with only Chairman Richard J. Hiatt supporting the application.

Opponents said the corner was a poor location for a service station and that the future of the property is in doubt if the intersection is relocated, Bragdon said.

The Mill Valley Planning Commission Also:

APPOINTMENT — Named Farrell as the commission's representative to the city's street lighting committee.

HOWARD JOHNSON—Opposed the proposed six-story high-rise motel, restaurant, service station complex on the Howard Johnson property on Richardson Bay as overcrowding the site, being out of sale for the area and blocking the view of the bay.

701 PLAN — Continued discussion on the 701 general an until 8 p.m. June 9 for a full commission hearing.

ENCROACHMENT — Postponed consideration of an encroachment application by Joseph Sparrowhawk for 602 Ralston Avenue to June 9 at the request of the city engineer.

Special Contract

A special contract for relocation of water facilities in connection with the widening of the San Rafael viaduct on Highway 101 will be considered by Marin Municipal Water District board at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow in the district office, 220 Nellen Avenue, Corte Madera.

Suspended Sentence For Carrying Gun

Larry Gene Harper, 35, of Cotati yesterday was placed on one year probation and given a 30-day suspended jail sentence by Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Superior Court for having a pistol in his possession.

Harper, a convicted felon, had earlier pleaded guilty to having the gun which he tried to pawn Nov. 15 in San Rafael.
